WORK FOR STREET COMMISSIONER THAT SHOULD BE LOOKED AFTER

From Tuesday's Daily.

The condition of Third street, just north of Main, is certainly such as should have the attention of the city street department as soon as possible, as the conditions along the crossing at Third and Main streets in muddy weather is such as to make it almost impassable without great damage to person's shoes, so deep is the mud washed down on the paved street from Third street. Several months ago there was a line of sewer pipe laid up this street and of course it was necessary to dig up a portion of the street in order to put the pipe in, but when the hole was filled up there was left a large mound of dirt along the path of the sewer and this has remained there ever since, and during a rainy or thawing day it washes down on the crossing, with the result that the people traveling to and from the Burlington station or the lower part of Main street, are compelled to swim for their safety through a deep coating of mud and water. There should be every effort made to see that this crossing is placed in some shape where it will be possible to get across it without danger to your clothing from the mud and dirt every time it rains.

TRACING CATTLE SHIPMENTS

Sand Hills Company Seeks Cause of Delay on Railroads.

Lincoln, March 5.—The Sand Hills Land and Cattle company, which does a large business in shipping cattle from Hyannis and other points in that vicinity, has written the railway commission desiring to get records on shipments of cattle amounting to more than 100 carloads to South Omaha from Hyannis, Hecla, Lakeside and Mullen.

The company sets out that it believes there has been delays on the roads, which should have been avoided, and that too much time was taken in feeding and watering stock at the Burnham stock yards. They desire to know the time of arrival and departure at that point.

CONVICT'S SONG BRINGS FURLOUGH

McIntyre Given Clemency as Result of Turn in Minstrel Show.

Lincoln, March 5.—If Thomas McIntyre does not have to serve a life sentence in the Nebraska penitentiary for a murder committed at Sidney in 1904, he may attribute a portion of his good luck to having been able to sing "If the Wind Had Only Blown the Other Way" in a manner that captivated Governor Morehead.

There are a number of singers at the penitentiary and recently they gave an entertainment. McIntyre was one of them and the governor was in attendance when the concert was given. At the time the application for the furlough of McIntyre was before the governor for consideration. The singing of the man attracted his attention, and, it is said, the melody of the voice, the pathos and many other things combined prompted the governor to grant the furlough over the protest of the state pardon board.

McIntyre was implicated with Harry Neville and a man named Sullivan in the murder of a watchman in the railroad yards at Sidney in 1904. Some time ago Neville made a confession, in which he said McIntyre was not near the scene of the crime at the time it was committed. McIntyre made an application for pardon, but it was denied by the state pardon board and also by the governor. At the last session he made application again to the board and the board refused.

SOUTH OMAHA TO HAVE RACES

Nebraska Speed Association Makes Change in Circuit.

Omaha, March 5.—At a meeting of the Nebraska Speed association held at the Merchants' hotel, definite plans were announced for speed tracks and horse races at South Omaha and Grand Island.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, C. Schlistock of West Point; vice president, B. R. Latta of Tekamah; secretary, N. J. Ronin of Fremont.

Kearney was admitted as a new member of the association.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Fremont, March 12.

FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Economic League of Omaha Indorses Proposed Amendment.

Omaha, March 5.—At the regular meeting of the Economic league at the court house a resolution was adopted, with but two dissenting votes, declaring "that it is the sense of this league that for any state of this union, much less the state of Nebraska, to deny to women equal suffrage with men is repugnant to all the principles upon which this republic was founded," bidding the women godspeed in their efforts to secure the necessary constitutional amendment and urging all voters to sign their petition and to cost their ballots for the amendment at the next state election.

ASK LOWER APPLE RATE.

Omaha Pickle Works Would Get Material for Factory.

Lincoln, March 5.—The Haarman Vinegar and Pickle company of Omaha has made an application to the railway commission for lower rates on cider apples from Kansas points to its cider and vinegar works at Pawnee City.

The company says that it is unable to get sufficient apples from Nebraska to supply the demand at the mill and a lower rate will enable it to get the Kansas fruit.

Man Found in Denver Not Meeker.

Grand Island, Neb., March 5.—The man found in Denver reported to be Howard L. Meeker of Lewellyn, Neb., who disappeared last week in Chicago, is not the missing man, according to information received here from Meeker's father, who went to Denver after receiving word from a private detective that his son had been found. Meeker, a prominent business man, disappeared in Chicago after selling a carload of horses and is believed to have been carrying a large sum of money.

Woman Accidentally Shot.

Pierre S. D., March 5.—Miss Cornech, a young woman whose home is near Philip, ninety miles west of here, was brought in for an emergency operation, she having been accidentally shot, the bullet perforating her stomach. The young woman is in a serious condition.

SHOULD BUY SEED CORN NEAR HOME

University Experts Impress Farmers With Need of Using Care.

IMPORTED EARS CAUSE LOSS

Early Varieties of Oats Yield Much More Heavily Than Those Which Mature at Later Date—Urged to Roll Wheat Fields.

Lincoln, March 5.—Agricultural bulletins issued by the University of Nebraska college of agriculture emphasize the need of buying seed corn of a kind that has been tried in the climate where it is to be used. The bulletins say:

"Do not get excited when you see a catalogue from a distant seed house advertising seed corn that has produced marvelous yields. Perhaps the seed offered for sale would not produce the same results when planted under Nebraska conditions. The university college of agriculture has found that in most cases the best native corn gives a fourth larger yield than the prize-winning variety from another state. The Nebraska agricultural college has also found that it is even safer for western growers to use their native seed than to try that from another section of the same state. Corn grown near home produces 4.5 bushels more than that imported from another part of Nebraska. In any case, however, it should always be tested.

Early Oats Most Profitable.

"Before buying his seed oats this spring it will be well for the farmer to consider the fact that the Nebraska college of agriculture has found, after conducting many experiments, that the early varieties yield an average of fourteen bushels an acre more than the late varieties. The kinds used by the college have been rather small grained and dark in color. Eight pecks of seed to the acre has given the best results with drilled oats and ten pecks to the acre when the oats are sown broadcast. Harrowing of drilled oats has given an increased yield of 4.8 bushels an acre, while harrowing of broadcast oats has given a decreased yield.

"According to results obtained by the college the yields of winter wheat are usually increased five bushels an acre by rolling the fields, where necessary, in early spring."

Treaty of Ghent.

The state will be organized for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent at the close of the present year, according to arrangements made at a meeting held at the Lindell hotel. Committees are at work on the proposition in the countries of Canada, England and Austria and it is expected that the celebration will be a memorable one. The Nebraska celebration will begin next Christmas eve with the singing of appropriate carols, Dec. 24 being the date of the signing of the treaty. On Feb. 17, 1915, a celebration will be held at the capital and local celebrations will be held in different parts of the state.

McBrian Case is Opened Again.

The case of DeBolt against McBrian, in which the former secured a judgment against the latter for damages in the sum of $1,000 for libel, was on in the supreme court on a rehearing granted by the court.

DeBolt sued McBrian, who at that time was state superintendent, for allegations made against him which reflected upon his character as principal of the schools at Murdock.

Poll Presses Civil Action.

The criminal libel suit brought by John S. Poll against Superintendent H. F. Carson of the Anti-Saloon league was dismissed by County Attorney Strode, who said that another suit brought by Poll for damages in the sum of $25,000 connected up the two cases in such a way that he was compelled to appear in both, something prohibited by the statutes.

Fire Prevention Urged.

Fire Commissioner Ridpell has gone to St. Edward, where he will deliver an address on fire prevention. Colonel Ridpell is making an active campaign along the lines of fire prevention education and the frequent and urgent invitation from fire chiefs and city councils for addresses indicates that his work is being successfully carried on.

Duval Files for Place.

Henry L. Duval of Bentrice has filed with the secretary of state for the chance to be the Republican candidate for railway commissioner. This makes the third candidate to file for the Republican nomination for that office, the other candidates being the present incumbent, Commissioner Hall, and Mr. Peterson of Bloomfield.

Orders Danger Signals.

John M. Doyle of Holdrege filed a complaint with the railway commission to compel the Burlington railway to maintain a system of danger signals at street crossings in that town a short time ago, and the commission after a hearing, held at Holdrege, has ordered the signals put in.

To Furnish Exhibit at Fair.

The contract between the entomology department of the state farm and the Fair Managers' association has been outlined and is being sent out to the county fair men by Secretary Henry Pickett of Wahoo. It provides for an exhibit from the university for each county fair at request.
