Dakota City, July 9, '59.

FIRE ON THE PRAIRIES.—We have noticed for the last ten or twelve days the prairies on all sides of us has been on fire. The sight at night is peculiarly grand. We regret to learn that several persons have had their hay stacks burned. Mr. Christensen lost about eighteen tons and had his barn consumed too. Mr. Virden lost his stable and about thirty tons of hay. Mr. Fisher lost his stable and all his hay. Mr. Rush lost all his hay. About sixty tons of hay a large quantity of fence and several stables were destroyed in and around the vicinity of Logan. Several whose names we have forgotten had all or nearly all of their hay on which their stock depended during the coming winter consumed by the devouring element.

WEATHER.—The weather is delightful, and we are enjoying a beautiful Indian Summer. The atmosphere is a little hazy or smoky, the air in continual motion—moderate though, and the climate both invigorating and delightful. If the bon-tons, elites, and hob-nobs of the East and South, only knew what was good for renovating the physical man—or woman, they would ignore Cuba, eschew Italy and sunny France, pack up their duds, start for Nebraska, and spend a season at Dakota City.

RETURNED.—A number of persons who became suddenly smitten with a desire to grow disgustingly rich, left this fair portion of the world last spring, and went to Pikes Peak. They returned a few days since satisfied that gold exists abundantly in small quantities at Pikes Peak or thereabouts, and that it can be obtained by a good deal of digging and washing and a great deal of patience. For reasons that may be considered cogent they concluded to winter in Dakota instead of the auriferous region. We have heard no particulars as to the amount of "raw material" they brought with them but rough guess it, at $000,000,000 000.

OUTRAGEOUS.—We understand that James McGinn Esq., our candidate for Sheriff, and his brother, were assaulted by three Germans, who were armed with spades and accompanied by their dogs, and were beaten and torn in a shocking manner. We did not learn the particulars of the difficulty, but understand that the younger one is in a critical condition from a blow on the head. James McGinn had his legs horribly lacerated by the dogs.

A SQUASH AS IT QUASHES.—Samuel Gamble Esq., raised a squash that beats any thing in the vegetable line we have ever seen. It is four feet eight inches in length and four feet in diameter. Who can beat it?

☞ Ziegler & Eckhart have their store filled with all manner of merchantable ware. They are anxious to get rid of their stock and consequently are selling things cheap for cash and swapping them off for produce. Now is time for those who have a little of the "spelter" to invest.

PERSONAL.—Gen. Estabrook, Judge Kinney, Judge Wakely, Judge Tufts, Col. Gregory Hons. G. W. Deane, G. Scott G. W. Mason, and divers others of minor note were in town during the week.

TO the farming community desiring grinding, we would say that every Friday is set apart for grinding corn, but parties coming with a hundred or more bushels, can the same ground on any day save Sunday.

We will be ready by the first of August for making flour.

Lumber, shingles and lath can be had at the saw mill of said company, on most reasonable terms J J TRACY & BROTHERS
