LOCAL NEWS.

Auction every evening this week, corner Main and Third street.

L. C. Baker, late government detective, died at Philadelphia on the 3d inst.

The Christain Convention will meet at the Presbyterian Church in this city next Tuesday.

The Commissioners Court was in session last Monday, and road matters were as numerous and spirited as ever.

The mercury has ranged between 90 and 100 deg for the past week, and it has been too intolerably hot to think, let alone write.

The Harvey's have again revived the Statesman, at Lincoln, and get up a very neat paper. We shall take occasion to notice it more fully in future.

Col. Basset, the well known Architect of Western Iowa and Nebraska, was in the city last Tuesday. He is now a resident of Council Bluffs.

Rev. R. W. Oliver, of Tablot Hall, will hold service at St. Lukes Church on Sunday next, at 11 o'clock A. M., and will address the children of the Sunday School at 5 o'clock P. M.

An Ice Cream Festival wil. be had at the Court House on Saturday evening next for the benefit of the Johnson Bros. Cornet Band. Turn out and have a fine time and assist the boys in purchasing new instruments.

J. J. Woodrow, Esq., of Glenwood, was in the city last Monday. We learn from Mr. Woodrow that the people of Glenwood celebrated the Fourth in good style, and gave a benefit to their brass band which realized about $150 clear.

Mr. Dennie Dean, who was in Ohio recently, writes us under date of June 24th that corn there was not more than half as far advanced as it was in Nebraska when he left on the 15th, and that the wheat crop was very light

We give a large portion of our space this week to correspondents—and right glad are we to do so. We like to have correspondence from different parts of the country, especially when they speak of what is going on in the various localities from which theyfare written.

Ve have received the first number of the Pawnee Tribune, published at Pawnee City, Nebraska, by T. R. Fisher, Esq. Mr. Fisher was formerly editor of the Brownville Advertiser, and is well known as a sound and spicy writer. The Tribune is radical Republican in politics, and is a neat seven column sheet.

The Omaha Republican of last Saturday says: We are informed that Gen. Dodge, chief engineer of the U. P. R. R. will start from the North Platte crossing this morning, for his great journey to Oregon and Washington Territories. He goes on horse back, and will be three months in the saddle, extending his ride clear to Puget's Sound.

Simon Obernalty commenced getting up steam for the Fourth one day too soon; and by noon Friday his safety-valve opened and commenced to "blow off." Sheriff Johnson was on hand and soon quenched the "fires within him" by taking him before Recorder Dorrington, who induced him to pay $10 into the city treasury.

There were very few accidents in this locality on the 4th. The only one of consequence we have heard of happened to Mr. Sprague's little boy, aged about 8 years. He was attempting to ignite a quantity of loose powder with a coal, and succeeded better than he desired. His face and left hand were badly burned, but it is thought he will recover without being disfigured.

A pair of oxen attached to a wagon created quite a stir last Monday by trying their speed down Main street. They could not make as good time as some eastern "blooded" stock, but they made about as strong a run as one would desire to see. They broke the tongue out of their sulky, and came out ahead of all competitors. Time, at the rate of a mile in two hours and forty second.

Mr. A. Courtright, of Millford, was in town this week for the purpose of purchasing a threashing machine for himself and two more for his neighbors. We understand he selected the "New Yorker" Machines, sold by Doom, Bro. & Co. It looks well for Seward County farmers to see three new machines going to one neighborhood at the same time. Mr. Courtright informs us that his harvest is now ready, and that crops in Seward are splendid.

Many of the resident of Nebraska will remember of hearing about a curious looking place on Weeping Water, near Mt. Pleasant, and quite a number will remember of having visited this spot and speculating in regard to it. It was generally designated as "the old silver mine," and was supposed to have been an ancient mine of some kind. Col. Thos. Patterson informs us that he has recently visited this place and made a thorough examination of it; and his conclusion is that it was originally the site of an extensive Indian arrow-head manufactory. The flint from which the arrow heads are made is found in abundance there, and there are several mounds in the vicinity composed almost entirely of the flint spalls, where the Col. thinks the work-shops of the aborigines were located.

Lieut. J. N. Hays, formerly typo in the HERALD office, and late assistnta clerk in the Surveyor General's office, left for Freemont yesterday, where he is about starting a Republican newspaper Hays is a thorough printer, a spicy writer and as sound a Republican as the State contains. He was one of that little band of men who "marched down to the sea" with Sherman, and knows just how to appreciate(?) the men who faught them from the hearthstones of the north.

We learn that a little son of Mr. Wm. Stohlman's, who resides in Louisville Precinct, was seriously injured last Sunday by being kicked by a horse which he was endeavoring to drive out of the yard The hoof struck him on the forehead, over the left brow, pealing the scalp from the left side of the head back to the ear, leaving the skull completely exposed, and making a gash about five inches in length. Dr. Livingston was immediately sent for, from whom we learn the above facts, also that the little sufferer is doing well. He was only about five years old.

There was no general celebration in this city on the Fourth, but most of our people seem to have enjoyed the day very much. Some went to celebrations at other points, and quite a large number engaged in pic nic dinners in the various beautiful nooks in the vicinity of the city. About a hundred of the "steady going" sort congregated at the grove in Mr. Minchell's enclosure, where they had an excellent basket dinner, with an abundance of free ice cream for desert, and whiled away the time in the most agreeable manner possible.

The Fourth passed off quitely in this city, with little display of the rowdyism and drunkenness usual on such accasions. The only arrest made in town was that of a young man named Clemons, who lives on Rock Creek. He had taken a little to much "lemonade," which made him feel extremly pugnacious. He was looking for some one whose "fighting weight" would tally with his own, when he "found his man" in the person of Marshal Murphy. The Marshal placed him in the lock-up, but he was admitted to bail in the sum of $200 to appear before Recorder Dorrington at 9 o'clock on Monday morning. At the proper time he made his appearance, pled guilty and paid his fine—$10.

We understand the efforts of our Methodist friends to erect a church building are meeting with success, and they hope to be able to get the building up and enclosed before winter. The plan of the building decided upon is 34 x 60 feet, two stories high; the uper story to be used as the audience room; and the lower story to be divided into three class rooms, a hall, and a lecture room, 34 x 36. The building is to be heated by means of a furnace and registers. It is estimated that the building, when completed, will cost about $7,500. They do not expect to complete the buiding this season, but hope to get it enclosed so as to preserve it during the winter storms. It will take between $4,000 and $5,000 to get it enclosed; and to do this they have already donated about $2,500; and expect to realize something like $1,000 for the old church building. This leaves about $1,000 yet to be raised to insure the commencement of the work, and we have no fears but that will be raised. Aside from the religious feelings which should prompt every individual to help in the erection of this building, the financial benefit to the town is of sufficient importance to demand the raising of the necessary $1,000.

We stated last week that L. G. Todd, Esq., was making an article of cheese equal to any made on the "Western Reserve," and we can now reiterate the statement from an actual test. Mr. Todd left one at the HERALD office last Monday that cannot be beat in any part of the world. The dealers in this city are all anxious to get cheese of Mr. Todd, and prefer it to any eastern manufacture. Cheese has been manufactured to some extent in Nebraska ever since the country was settle, dbut the product has generally been a very inferior article, and many people had decided that good cheese could not be made here. The reasons assigned were various, but that most generally accredited was that it was owing to the quality of the grasses. While it was conceded fact that our prairie grass was equal to any for strengthening and fattening cattle it was supposed that it would not produce as good cheese as the tame grasses of the east. Mr. Todd dissented from this theory, and determined to test the matter thoroughly He procured all the necessary apparatus for cheese making, such as is used by the best manufactors in the east—built the necessary houses for curing the cheese after coming from the press, and then sent to Ohio for an experienced cheese maker to take charge of the work. The result has been as stated, that he is daily producing an article second to none in the world; and the old theory about the grasses of Nebraska not being adopted to the production of cheese is thoroughly exploded. The only thing required to produce the best of cheese in Nebraska is to know how and then do it. The trouble with most of those who attempted cheese making is that they did not understand the business, and many of them have not done even as well as they might. The only difficulty with Mr Todd is that he cannot keep his cheese long enough to give them the age so necessary to a good cheese. They are so far superior to anything heretofore produced in Nebraska, that people are anxious to get them as soon as possible.

From the New York Christain Advocate and Journal.

For family Sewing in all its varieties, the work of this simple machine is found perfectly strong and reliable; and its himming is done on the right side, and to any width, and is neat and accurate beyond comparison.—Felling, also, is readily performed by it, and we cannot see any requisite for family purposes which it cannot be made to meet as readily as any sewing machine in use. It is simple and easy to work, cannot be run in the wrong direction, nor is there the slightest difficulty in changing the needle; it is not liable to get out of order, and combines cheapness to its other merits. It was not easy to convince us that one thread would produce a seam fit for general use, and of reliable strength; but experience has proved it to be so. We must in justice express our confidence in the merits of the Willcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Convention met on the 4th, effected a temporary organization, and adjourned till Monday. The Convention met again at *10 a. m., Monday effected a permanent organization with Horatio Seymour as Chairman, and adjourned till Tuesday to give the platform Committee time to report. The following is the very unsatisfactory telegraph report of the platform resolutions:

They declared first that the Democratic party would respond and trust in the intelligence and justice of the people standing upon the Constitution; recognizing slavery and secession as settled by the war or voluntary action of the Southern States, and never to be renewed; demand the immediate restoration of all the States. [Cheers]

The second article declared for all political offences and the right of suffrage in all the States.

The third article declares that the public debt, where the obligations do not expressly state on their face the conditions under which they were issued, does not provide their payment in coin.

The fourth declares for the equal taxation of all property, including government bonds. [Cheers.]

The fifth declares for one currency for the government and people, laborers and office holders, pensioner and soldier, producer and bondholder.

The sixth declares in favor of economy in the administration, reduction of army and navy and abolition of Freedman's Boreau; [cheers] and of the iniquistorial mode of collecting the revenue tariff for revenue, and such equal taxation under the Internal Revenue as will afford incidental protection to industry.

Seventh. Subordination of the military to civil power.

Eighth. Equal rights and protection for native and adopted citizen against the doctrine of immutable allegiance; denounced the usurpation and tyranny of the radical party; its violation of its pledge to conduct the war only for the preservation of the Union, subjugated States overthrown, freedom of speech and press, re-established system of espionage, disregard of habeas corpus mode of the National Capitol, a hostile and threaten to destroy the original jurisdiction of the Supreme Court, and maligned the Chief Justice because of his integrity on the trial of the President.

The report continued at considerable length to reiterate these abuses, and in conclusion declare that the privilege and trust suffrage belongs exclusively to the control of each State, which Congress has usurped in violation of the Constitution. The platform further specially denounces the reconstruction acts of Congress as usurpation, unconstitutional and void. Soldiers and Sailors were promised to be faithfully paid; public lands should be reserved for homesteads. Thanks to Andrew Johnsons for resisting the aggressions of Congress, [great cheers] and invites men of all parties in the past to unite on this platform.

Mr. Murphy moved the previous question, which was ordered with a few dissenting votes. The delegates called for re-reading, [great cries of question, question.] which was adopted with few dissenting voices. Then the convention rose to their feet with cheering.

The convention then proceeded to ballot for a candidate for President; but up to the latest accounts had not succeeded in making a choice. The convention is composed of 634 delegates, each one being entitled to half a vote. It requires a two-third vote to nominate. The result of the voting so far as heard from is as follows:

BLACK HAWK
Two Horse
WALKING CULTIVATOR.

By practical experiments in the field and by testing them with the best Walking Cultivators made, they have been brought to a state approaching in construction. The cultivator consists of two wrought iron axletrees, arched and well braced.
Perfection
The plows are simply two iron beams with DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOWS
attached to the axle by a double joint which gives the plow an easy, but at the same time perfectly true vertical and horizontal motion.
The tongue is double and fastened to the arch of the axletree by clamps, so that it can be raised or lowered at will, when the corn is young, reducing draft, and raised when the corn is higher.
The shovels are furnished with Reversible Teeth,

So that the soil can be thrown either to or from the corn. The Plows are connected by means of loose coupling, which enables the plowman to control both Plows by holding one.

The following are a few of the advantageous points of superiority which this Cultivator has over others

1st It is stronger and lighter, being made almost entirely of wrought iron.

2d The double points by which the shovels are attached to the axle enables the plowman to move his plow either to or from the corn or lift it out of the ground with the least effort.

3d. With this Cultivator the depth of the furrow can be regulated plowing shallow or deep whether the ground is hard or soft.

4th. By means of the loose coupling which connects the two plows you can make the two plows run any distance apart that you may desire With other plows it is almost impossible to hold both shovels when throwing earth to the corn, and to keep them from crowding together when plowing from the corn.
