Our hooks are full of notes on interesting matters which must be left over ba account of the tax list this week and we hope no one will feel slighted or aggrieved on this account. We must make hay while the sun shines.

"Tip Top" of the Plattsmouth HERALD does up his favorite dentist in poetry.—Lincoln Leader.

None in Tip Top's, this time. The dentist did his self up.

The State Board of Agriculture have awarded to John A. MacMurphy, editor of the Plattsmouth HERALD, the first premium for the best essay on Nebraska. The prize was forty acres of land, valued at $ 640.—Inter Ocean

EDITOR OF THE HERALD.—It has not been my custom to reply to anonymous correspondents; but a circumstance occured the other day, that, I think ought to be made public. And the more so, as it has been frequently repeated since my coming to this place.

In my absence on business, a grocers wagon drove up to my place, and the driver without any ceremony or explanation, began to unload, flour, potatoes, groceries, &c, &c. And notwithstanding my wife's continued protestations that I had not ordered them, he packed them in and away he went. Will our unknown friends accept our most sincere thanks, and may his cellar and pantry never be found empty.

C. McKelvey.

Plattsmouth, January 27th, 1874.

P. S. just while writing the above, Bro. Chapp, reins up his grays at the door and with his excellent wife, and Mrs. Adams, brings another lot of just such substantial cheer as farmer's homes abound in. Good Bless every body

EDITOR HERALD: SIR: In your issue of the 15th inst., I notice an article termed, "a lofty trial," which alludes to Haines Peace, &c. Here is the pith of the case. On the 20th of December last, one Marshal Morgan entered the Police Court, and did then and there, use abusive language towards the Police Judge of this city, and did then and there, talk about whipping him &c, and thereby degraded himself as an officer and citizen before the law. For which he was arrested and brought before Judge Starbird, a Justice of the Peace. The warrant issued by the Justice, was defective cosequently the prisoner was discharged. The minds of some persons have been mislead concerning this case, by false rumors, and for the correction of such, I have caused the above to be published, no one need complain of the arrest. Law and Justice, sometimes demands the arrest of an officer, as well as any other citizen, whenever a wrong has been perpetrated. Respectfully,

JOHN W. HAINES
Probate Judge.

A Philadelphia bookkeeper added the year 1872 to his column of figures, and, as he couldn't account for the defiency in receipts, he was arrested.

Mark Twain is honest. On being surprised by a toast at a dinner in London recently, he pulled out a large roll of manuscript and proceeded to reply.

The editor of the Duluth Herald publishes a proclamation saying, "We shall jerk a living out of this city during the coming winter, or we are much mistaken.
