REPUBLICAN PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS, ADOPTED AT LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, SEPTEMBER 24, 1874.

WHEREAS, The Republican party, by its course for the past thirteen years as the dominant political organization of the United States, has allied itself to the liberty-loving masses of the world, and has made a record which invites scrutiny, and challenges all history for a parallel in elevating humanity, and establishing on a firm basis "a government by the people for the people;" and

WHEREAS, Its several acts in preserving the Union, in promoting and strengthening a common allegiance to the flag and government of this republic have passed into history and elicited the approval of the Republican sentiment of the age, therefore we representatives of the Republican party of Nebraska, in convention assembled, do resolve as follows, viz:

1st. That honest labor should be protected, and receive its just reward.

2d. That we earnestly desire that the credit of our government shall be firmly maintained, in order that the commercial and industrial interests of the country may not suffer injury by fluctuations in values or by impairing in any degree that confidence which now prevails in regard to our circulating medium, which we hope will, at no distant day, be based upon metallic currency, the recognized money of the world.

3d. That we believe that banking under a well guarded national system should be free, and we counsel reform and economy in all departments of the public service, and a reduction of the public debt in such a way and so rapidly, as it may be done without imposing burdens upon the industries of the country.

4th. That we demand a rigid accountability in the discharge of official duty on the part of all office-holders, whether State or National, and that as delegates, speaking for constituents, we disavow any sympathy with, or for dishonest public officials, in whatever capacity they may be employed.

5th. That while we recognize and appreciate the advantages derived by the people from a well regulated system of railways we demand these public highways should be rendered subservient to the public good. That while we disavow any hostility toward railroad corporations we proclaim our determination to resist by lawful means all efforts to impose oppressive or extortionate transportation tolls.

6th. That taxation to be just must be equally imposed upon all classes of property; we therefore demand such National and State legislation as will compel railroads and all other corporations to pay the same proportion of tax as is imposed on individuals.

7th. That we favor the proper exercise of the powers conferred upon the national government by the constitution to regulate commerce between the States, and to this end we recommend that the government establish and operate a double track railway from the Missouri river to the Atlantic seaboard.

8th. That we earnestly request that our Senators secure the passage of Crounse's railroad land tax bill.

9th. That we favor the amendment of the constitution of the United States providing for the election of President, Vice President, United States Senators, and all other federal officers by the direct vote of the people.

10th. That the unwritten law enacted by the example of the Father of his Country in declining a re-election to the third Presidential term, is as controling as though it was incorporated in the national consititution and ought never to be violated.

11th. That the present so-called Quaker Indian policy has failed to afford either benefits to the Indians or protection to the frontier settlers, and we therefore demand the transfer of the management of the Indians to the War Department.

12th. That we favor the reappointment of State representatives through the enactment of a new constitution at the earliest practical day consistent with our present fundamental law, and that we recommend the submission to the direct vote of the people in a separate article at the time the proposed new constitution is voted upon, the questions of "Prohibition," "Local Option" and License.

13th. That we approve the acts of Congress which puts the rights of all citizens under protection of the National authorities when they are assailed by hostile legislation, or by the violence of armed associations, whether open or secret, and in view of the recent outrages in the Southern States, we demand the enforcement of the laws that these rights may be securely and amply protected whenever and wherever invaded; we do, however, disprove of all the unconstitutional legislation for the care of any of the disorders of society, or evils which prevail in our land.

14th. That we are in favor of and most cordially invite immigration to our State. Nebraska needs immigration, that its vast agricultural, mineral and manufacturing resources may be developed, with an area sufficient to make ten States as large as Massachusetts, and a soil unsurpassed for fertility. We give a hearty welcome to the down-trodden masses of the Old World, and assure them that they shall be secure in their lives, liberty and property and free to hold and express their religious and political opinions without restraint.

15th. That relying upon the intelligence of the people of our young and prosperous commonwealth, which is soon to take high rank in the great family of States, we hereby renew our allegiance to the party which we represent and call upon all classes, and conditions of men to unite with us in perpetuating the blessings of free government in accordance with the cherished principles which actuate and control the great body of our people.

We acknowledge a ticket to the District Fair at Lincoln.

We have to thank Senator Hitchcock for some valuable public documents.

The Inter-Ocean thinks Kellogg had better be assassinated than to abandon his post. How easy to give advice! What does Kellogg think about it.

They are poking those old "Affys" at Dr. George L. Miller about now. Give it to him he always manages to force a personal quarrel on some one about election times and deserves no quarter.

A Wealthy young English widow, whose passion is small feet, offers to marry the man who is over five feet tall and can wear her shoe—No. 3.

Come around this way Mrs. Widdy. We'll wear your No. threes.

The Independent candidate for Treasurer has some curious ideas on religion as well as on finance, we understand. If reports are true, it is very doubtful if he could subscribe to the oath of the office, even if elected.

One of the manliest and most sensible letters of the day is Attorney General J. R. Webster's letter, declining a nomination on the Prohibition ticket.—It has a clear true ring, that could only come from an honest man's heart. It's logic is irresistible.

Kellogg has proved himself a weak vessel. Old Ben Butler would never have been driven to the Custom House for protection. The best thing Grant can do, is to appoint B. F. Butler military Governor of Louisiana, and we'll all have peace.

STATE FAIR.

The State Fair commences at Omaha on the 29th of Sept., next Tuesday.—We hope Cass County will do her best, and show the North Platte folks that it is not only on our own ——— sand hill that we can win premiums.

We devote a large portion of our editorial page this week to the answer of Commissioner White to "Old Settler" (in the Watchman) on the Bridge Question. The Watchman man will have to hang White over again with a better rope, he talks too lively for a dead man.

Why Kellogg, Governor of Louisiana, wants to parley and make or accept propositions from the men Penn and McEnery, we cannot conceive.—They are both violators of the law and as such they should be handed over to the proper authorities for trial. One would think Kellogg had been brought up in southern training.

The Union, at Omaha, has changed hands. The seven orphlings left, of the original thirteen, sold out to somebody, and E. N. Sweet of West Point becomes the Editor. Hon. Geo. W. Frost, is editing the paper pro tem, until Mr. Sweet can move down. It is reported that our old friend "Val" is engineering the West Point Republican, Sweet's old paper. Hey dey, how the world turns round.

The Watchman pitches into the "coal bonds" proposed to be voted for by the Co. Commissioners this fall. If the Watchman would ever look a moment at the statutes of his State, he would find that whenever ten Freeholders petition the Commissioners to call for a vote on that question, they are obliged to do so, and the ten have made such a petition and it is on file in the Co. Clerk's office, and the HERALD is credibly informed that most of the petitioners are democrats.

FROM THE ATLANTA—GEORGIA NEWS.

Patience! This accursed Radical government cannot last always. If it is to last, the same sword whose unsheathing brought our present troubles upon us will yet put an end to the indignities, the terrorism and the despotism of which our deople are the victims to-day.

They seem very anxious for a sword of some kind, perhaps the sword of justice would answer all purposes. It is astonising that the south cannot or will not see that she brings all her trouble on herself. By just such nonsense she shuts out emigration, keeps out capital, renders property insecure and keeps her people in poverty, disgrace and terrorism all the time. It is not possible to lay all their troubles to the interference of Northern carpet baggers.

OUR COUNTY CONVENTION.

On Saturday next our County legislative Convention meets. We are to select 1 State Senator and 2 Representatives, besides a County Commissioner.

It is of the greatest importance that we select for our standard bearers the best, truest and ablest men we have.

In the light of the late events at the South the man that dreams the Republican party has no further mission must be a traitor at heart, or a fool in intellect.

The safety and continuance of government, the value of home and national credit, and protection for life and property in this land evidently depends on the success of the Republican party. Every locality has its interest at stake in this matter, our opponents, the old democracy are moving every power, trading every available gain, for a democratic Legislature this winter and it behooves Cass County Republicans to throw aside all petty or personal issues and present a bold and united front to the enemy.

From Gov. Furnas' speech at our County Fair.

A WORD TO THE BOYS.

Boys, Stick to the Farm.

One, and the principal reason why young folks, and especially the boys, leave the farm, seeking the towns and cities, and the professions, in preference to farming, is because the home on the farm is not made attractive, and the surroundings desirable. How few farm houses are adorned with even shade trees, to say nothing of the flowering shrub and climbing vine. How many sitting and dining rooms entirely destitute of a single pleasant picture upon its walls; how seldom the strain of vocal or instrumental music is heard. And, again, the farmer and his wife in very many instances, by their own action cast odium upon, or to say the least, lower the standard of respectability which ought to attach to agriculture. Who has not heard of Farmer Smith and his wife, having four or five boys growing up, and soon to go out upon life's sea to fight their own battles, reason about it in this wise: There is Charles, the sharpest, smartest of our boys, we'll educate him and qualify him for the profession of law, medicine or the pulpit. James has a good mathematical head, a natural turn of mind in that way, he'll make a good civil engineer, or perhaps an inventor, let us turn him in that direction, and so on down to Joe, who is pronounced the dullest, most stupid of the family, both parents are unanimous in agreeing that he is best fitted for the farm, because forsooth, being strong and muscular he can dig and hoe, plough and chop, therefore he'll make a farmer—clodhopper. We'll keep him on the farm.

I have heard this and no doubt many of you have, from honest, well meaning people, who thought as much of their children as anybody else.

Let me say to the farmer boys, stick to the farm. As a class you are, or can be, the happiest and most prosperous people in the world. Farmers, Fathers and Mothers, make your homes attractive, pleasant and desirable; and remember that it is not your dullest boys you need to keep on the farm, but rather the brightest if you would elevate the standard of agriculture to where it should be.

Those men who are total abstinance in everything want jest about as mutch cluss watching as any men I kno ov.

This is the way the old copper head element sticks out in St. Louis, one Garische, making a speech on the Louisiana troubles uses this kind of lingo:

I say, let every man in this crowd swear as I am willing to swear, that his aid will be given to protect the people of Louisiana and uphold them in this struggle which they will maintain against the authorities and against the Government of the United States. If the President send his minions there, let the President's minions beware for they may be damned.

And this:

The idiots in the North will have themselves to thank for the general civil war which these things in the South betoken. The north will yet have its fill of this business. Its day is a mere question of time.—Louisville Courier-Journal, Sept. 15.

True this fellow is half cracked but yet he may do mischief We once thought that any man who talked of a separation of this Country was a hair brained fool, but it seems that even the sensible Courier Journal edited by one of the ablest men (so thought) in the newspaper line, says the most that can happen to the south is to have Grant for an Emperor and advises civil war again.

Does any sane man think it is time the Republican party died, or delegated its power.

COUNTY BRIDGES.

EDITOR "HERALD":—Noticing a communication signed by one "Old Settler," in the Watchman of Sept. the 10th, which seems to be in reply to your comments upon the bridge question made some time in August last, and deeming an answer to "Old Settler" due the people of Cass County, as well as the County Commissioners, I have to request that through the columns of your paper you give your many readers my answer, as published in the Watchman, a copy of which I herewith hand you:

In your paper of the 10th inst., I notice a communication from "Old Settler," on the bridge question, and from the position taken by "Old Settler,"—and for aught I know by his neighbors and his neighbor's neighbors throughout the County, I desire that everyone shall know just what the Commissioners of Cass county are doing, on the bridge question. "Old Settler" sets out with the assertion, that the people have already "seen enough to concince them that there is great extravagance and but little judgment used in the bridges already built."

Now the question is, is this true? before the Commissioners commenced the expenditures for the present bridging of Cass county, conceded to be the most needy county in Nebraska, in respect to her bridges—they advertised for bids giving "Old Settler," new settler, Mr. Supervisor, and the public, an opportunity to come in and bid for this work. The "King Bridge Co.," competing, proposed to build the bridges for $8,00 per linear foot, cash. H. F. Clark, our Nebraska bridge builder, for the same bridges, bid $7,00, cash.—Walter J. White, bid $6,80; all pine, or $8,80, pine and oak,—in orders.

After examining these bids the Commissioners, from past experience, knowing that at least one of their number would be compelled to give the matter his personal attention, in any event, concluded to put these bridges up themselves, being satisfied that they could do so and save the county money in the operation. Consequently the undersigned took the contract to put in 62 bridges—such as bid upon—where most needed in the county, for the agreed sum of $7,00 per linear foot, to be paid in county warrants. This I suppose should dispose of the cry that the Commissioners are paying extravagant prices for hauling, etc., but I may here say that I have had to pay for oak lumber hauled to the western portion of Cass county, at the rate of $22,00 per thousand feet; and for pine lumber just one-half of that amount, and I stand ready and willing to discharge my present help and hire "Old Settler" at a less figure, if he wants the job.

On the question of extravagant expenditure, let us for a moment compare the expenditures of Cass county during the past year, under the guidance of Jacob Vallery Jr., senior Commissioner, for bridges in Cass county. With a levy of but two mills on the dollar, less than the present levy, Cass county by letting contracts to bridge builders, and doing the very best the Commissioners could do, put in 12 bridges in Cass County, of a total length of 660 fet, for the sum $13,797.-13, a small amount of which was expended for grading. I here desire to say that the present structures are deemed by men of experience, far superior to the bridges put in last year, and we will now look at some of these bridges put in last year, by contract, not to show that the Commissioners were to blame for any mismanagement, but to show that their present course is warranted from past experience, and is much cheaper and better.

The present structures are placed upon white-oak posts 8x8, saturated with gas tar, and warranted to stand from 20 to 25 years by experienced builders, the bridges finished with wrought spikes, securely bolted; and the whole structure except the floor saturated with the tar preparation.

These bridges are located upon a personal, careful inspection of the county, by the Commissioners and the County Engineer, and are aimed to be built about one foot above high water mark. The engineer universally taking the advice of "Old Settlers" in the immediate vicinity of each bridge located, as to the highest rise of water, occasioned by spring freshets, and extraordinary floods. Every foot in height of these bridges costs at least $4,50; consequently every foot above the height necessary, is just that much out of the builder's pocket. Which here leads me to digress, by saying that I think the Watchman bridge cartoon of last week, is a little hard on the poor Supervisors who fail to put in the proper approaches to these bridges, as there is on an average, in the neighborhood of $220,00 per annum, from land, road, and poll tax, due to each road district in Cass county, for the Supervisors to keep their bridges in repair.

Again, while I am on the bridge question, let me call attention to the cost of five wooden bridges, constructed by Plattsmouth City in (I think) the year 1870, in every way inferior to the present structures put up by the county.

These five bridges have a length of about 50 feet each, and cost the city $4,900,00, have stood five years; were built under contract, where the lumber and materials were delivered by the R. R., saving all the cost of transportation by teams. Also the bridge across Stove Creek, built last year, of the same character as the present structures, except that it is placed upon 4 spiles of oak, not saturated with tar, and very much inferior to the present material used; not near so thoroughly braced, or stayed, or bolted; was let to the lowest bidder, built under contract, and cost $13,54 per linear foot as per bid. Also the bridge put across Four Mile Creek by Wm. B. Porter, under contract, 20 feet in length at a cost of $115,00 without posts, spikes, or railing—set on the ground; has now to be replaced with a new brige. I cite these instances to show "Old Settler" that, compared with past expenditures, by the county, there is not the extravagance imagined and charged, and I may add here, that in addition to the cost of building these bridges, I cause excavations to be made, the width of 20 feet at each end of the bridges, for the tressels, from 3 to 11 feet in depth, and in all cases put down below the bed of the stream.—This work I do under the inspection and subject to the approval of the other Commissioners. In so doing we have not exceeded the law, which provides that this 5 mill special tax, "shall be exclusively applied to building or reparing permanent culverts or bridges, under the direction of the County Commissioners." And if "Old Settler" will turn to the records of Cass county he will find that in years past, this county has expended over $100,000,00 under the supervision of her supervisors, for low priced, and low located bridged, which now have to be replaced. Also if "Old Settler" would set with the board of Commissioners for 6 months, and listen to the curses lond and deep, showered upon the Supervisors of the different districts, he would see that the present board of County Commissioners are correct, in aiming at once to remedy this growing evil, and as we have to take the responsibility and curses in any event, we propose to see that lasting and durable structures are given to the county.

Now Mr. Editor to conclude, I know several "Old Settlers" who never think of politics except in such emergencies as the present, have charged that the board of Commissioners are putting these bridges in the western portion of the county where people pay little or no taxes—as compared with old settlers on the river—(I have been met with this argument again and again) and are consequently doing these old settlers a wrong. Now the county Commissioners simply aim to put these bridges where most needed, deeming the producer upon Salt Creek entitled to a road to market just as much as though he resided in Eight Mile Township, or nearer the river, and owned his broad acres in fee simple. Have aimed to give the people so far as the present levy will go—bridges where they are most needed.

We have not drawn one dollar from the Treasury, or issued one warrant in advance of work actually rendered the county, and material bought and on the ground.

These bridges are now nearly completed, and when completed a detailed statement will be rendered the county when I will gladly submit to the criticism of "Old Settler" upon the bridge question. M. L. WHITE.

Sept. 22d, 1874.

The above statement has been examined by ourselves, and is correct.

PREMIUM FARMS AWARDED.

The sixteen farms offered last year by the State Board of Agriculture as premiums for the best essays on the natural advantages and resources of Nebraska, have been awarded and distributed. Mr. O. F. Davis yesterday presented to Gen. James S. Brisbin deeds to two of these farms. The first located in Saunders county, near Ashland, and valued at $15 per acre, and the other located at Waterloo, Douglas county, and valued at $11 per acre. The other persons who receive farms are J. A. MacMurphy one at $16 per acre, James Morris one at $14 per acre, J. C. Ambrose one at $13 per acre, A. D. Williams one at $12 per acre, F. M. McDonagh one at $10 per acre, O. T. B. Williams one at $9 per acre, C. S. Harrison one at $8 per acre, H. M. VanArman one $7 per acre, Dr. E. Renner one at $6 per acre, George V. Kent one at $5 per acre, Helen McGowan one at $4 per acre, B. M. Brake one at $3 per acre, Miss E. Clark one at $2,50 per acre, N. H. Hemiup one at $1,25 per acre. There were sixty-four contestants for the sixteen premiums. One person could take as many as four farms by having the four best articles. Only one contestatant, Gen. J. S. Brisbin, took more than one farm, his articles being found the second and sixth best, drew the second and sixth premiums. J. A. MacMurphy, of Plattsmouth, editor of the Plattsmouth HERALD, wrote the best of all the one hundred and three articles entered, on the advantages and resources of Nebraska, and he accordingly received the first premium, a farm valued at $16 per acre, and located near the Capitol, Lincoln.—Omaha Herald.

Indistinct Ailments.
There are many distressing symptoms of disease the causes of which are uncertain. Debility, nervious irritation, mental stupor, and headache, for instance, may possibly be symptomatic of chronic disease in some particular organ; yet, in a large majority of cases, at least, they arise from indigestion, and morbid conditions of the liver and bowels engendered by a foul stomach. When this is the case a few doses of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will usually effect a complete cure, but should the symptoms be only mitigated without being entirely removed, by a brief course of the remedy, let it be continued until every trace of disease has vanished. Dyspepsia is a wonderful mimic. It imitates with startling accuracy the indications of heart disease, brain disease, kidney disease, and half a dozen other frightful ailments, and when the doctors have solemnly announced the existence of one or other of these complaints, half a dozen doses of the Bitters will, in most cases, explode their theories by curing the patient. 23w4
