A SHORT CURE

A DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE WITH A BAD CASE OF KIDNEY DISEASE.

Sparagus Kidney Pills Perform a Complete Cure in a Short Time.

Symptoms of Kidney Diseases, and Why They Are Dangerous.

Dr. T. F. Joyce of Lynn, Mass., a graduate of the N. Y. university, '83, uses Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills in his practice.

It is unusual for regular physicians to use proprietary medicines, but many use Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

They do because they know that the principal ingredient is a special extract made from the root of Asparagus, containing all its virtues in a concentrated form. They do because they know that Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless.

They do it most of all because they have found Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills will cure, in cases where the drugs of the pharmacopoeia have been unable even to afford relief.

Dr. Joyce writes:

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 9, 1895.
Hobb's Medicine Co.,
Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:

When my attention was first called to Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills, and their component parts made known to me, I was forcibly impressed with the combination as being one of great value for kidney diseases and all other ailments arising therefrom.

I found in one particular case, which had baffled all my previous efforts, that they performed a remarkable and complete cure in a very short time, and ever since I have used them in my practice with the most pleasing results in all cases. Very truly yours,

T. F. JOYCE, M. D.

Bright's Disease is a dangerous disease of the kidneys. It is caused by over work, worry, overeating, etc., and other excesses. It is dangerous because it has few or no well known symptoms.

You do not think you are sick until it is often too late to cure.

The symptoms of kidney disease in general are pain in the sides and back, headache, nervousness, frequent thirst, evil forebodings, shortness of breath on slight exertion, chilly sensations, sleeplessness, puffiness of the eyelids, swelling of the feet and ankles, loss of flesh, etc.

Any or all of these symptoms may be the proof of kidney disease, but they are seldom laid to their true cause.

To prevent mistakes, they should be treated, as soon as they appear, with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

This will cure the kidneys and relieve the symptoms in a very short time.

The cure made will be permanent, and the symptoms will never come back, unless you overwork your kidneys.

Your health depends on your kidneys.

They filter your blood.

When they don't, you fall sick as a natural consequence.

Failing sick is simply the poison in your blood making itself felt.

If you can take out the poison you will be well.

This is for the kidneys to do.

They will do it if they are well.

If they are sick, you can cure them with Dr. Hobb's Sparagus Kidney Pills.

EDISON'S PATENT IS VALID

Sawyer-Mann Claims Finally Set Aside by the Supreme Court.

COVERED A DIFFERENT PRINCIPLE

Wizard of Menlo Park Secures Credit for the Invention of the Incandescent Lamp After Long Litigation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The United States supreme court today decided the important case of the Consolidated Electric Light company against the McKeesport Light company in favor of the defendants. The court holds the Sawyer-Mann patents invalid. The decision was handed down by Justice Brown.

The case of the Consolidated Electric Light company against the McKeesport Light company involves the claim of Sawyer and Mann and Thomas A. Edison to priority to application of the principle of incandescent carbon conductors made of fibrous or textile substances to electric lighting.

In 1887 the plaintiff company filed a bill in the United States court for the western district of Pennsylvania for an injunction to prevent the McKeesport corporation from using the Edison lights, on the ground that they were interferences with the Sawyer-Mann patents. Judge Bradley, in an opinion delivered October 5, 1889, refused to grant the restraining order.

The Consolidated Electric company claims that the improvements utilized by its system and covered by its patents, consist of the combination in a lamp chamber of glass of an incandescing conductor of carbon made from vegetable fibrous material (indistinction from mineral or gas carbon); also in the form of the conductor combined in the lighting circuit within the exhausted chamber of the lamp.

On the other hand it is contended by the Edison interest that the Sawyer-Mann patent on which the suit hinged is not valid for such a broad claim; that no such invention was set forth in the original application, but that the most vital principle of it was introduced four years after the application had been placed on file in the patent office and after the same device substantially had been used by Edison and claimed by him in another application; that Edison was the first inventor of the fibrous incandescent conductor, and that if he were not his first inventor it was an old device and neither of the parties to the suit were entitled to control it.

Justice Bradley, in his opinion in the lower court, which the decision today affirms, said that Sawyer and Mann followed a wrong principle in their work upon the incandescent light—that of small resistance in the conductor and a strong current. The great discovery, he declared, was the adoption of high resistance in the conductor with a small illuminating surface and a corresponding diminution of the strength of the current. The credit for this discovery he gave to Edison.

The case of the Winona & St. Peter Land company against the state of Minnesota, which was decided today by the United States supreme court, involves the question whether that state has in disregard of the constitution of the United States passed any law impairing the obligation of contracts, referring to a law providing for back taxes on land which has escaped taxation. The decision was rendered by Justice Brewer, who held the law to be valid.

Justice Brown delivered the opinion in the case of G. W. Patton et al against the United States, construing the tariff law of 1883 as to whether wool tops broken up into artificial waste could be admitted at the rate of duty provided in the law for woolen waste. He held that they could not be and that they must pay the higher duty provided on wool tops.

The court decided officially that beans are vegetables. The question arose in the case of Hyman Sons and others against the collector of the port of New York. The plaintiffs sought to recover duties paid upon beans under the vegetable classification, claiming that they should be admitted free, as seeds. Chief Justice Fuller read the opinion of the court, holding that as beans are regarded as vegetables by common usage they should be so considered by customs officials.

The Chen-Yuen-Sing case, involving the Chinese exclusion act, was advanced and set for argument on the first Monday in March.

In the case of John D. Shiver against the United States the United States supreme court decided in an opinion handed down by Justice Brown that lands entered under the homestead laws are not by the mere act of entry so segregated from the public domain as to give the homesteader a right to sell timber from his entry and that in doing so he renders himself liable to criminal prosecution.

COMMENCES ANOTHER BIG SUIT.

Union Pacific Interests Involved in New Complications.

SPOKANE, Nov. 11.—The Bay State Trust company of Boston has commenced foreclosure proceedings in the United States court against the Oregon Railway Extension company and all the affiliating corporations. The amounts involved aggregate $24,000,000. The principal defendant is the Oregon Railway Extension company, with, incidentally, the Oregon Railway and Navigation company, the Farmers Loan and Trust company, the Union Pacific Railway company, the American Loan and Trust company, all the receivers of the Union Pacific and Edwin McNeil, receiver of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company. The Bay State Trust company, in conclusion, represents that the mortgage given by the Oregon Railway Extension company, constitutes a valid first mortgage lien on all the property mentioned. It therefore petitions for an accounting of all the amounts lawfully due under the trust and for foreclosure of the mortgage.
