General Produce.

Apples—Stocks reduced considerebly and are now rather small. Ben Davis are sold at $2. 75, and Genetons at $2.50. Higher prices are expected.

Butter—Unchanged. Receipts are moderate, and while choice grades are generally sold on arrival, mixed lots and poorer qualities remain dragging. Eggs—Receipts very light; prices advancing. We quote to-day 25 cents and look for higher prices before the first of the year.

Poultry—Trade opened up rather dull this morning. A large stock is carried over from last week and receipts to-day were quite heavy. However, there is a good demand for ducks, turkeys and geese, which we think will all be cleared up by night, and in all probability will have no chance to accumulate again, but chickens are again a drug in the market. Well dressed young ones still sell fairly well at 7c, but hard frozen, unshaped and bruised-up stock find but few buyers and has to go at a discount. In order to obtain top prices for dressed poultry in this market, the same should be dry picked, entrails removed and head and feet cut off.
