The work of rebuilding the front of the e-story brick building on Broadway, upied by Mauer & Craig, was com nced yesterday.

The Grand Lodge of the Knights of hias meets at Ottumwa on the 20th , and a goodly delegation will be ent from this city.

The hose race between the Thurstons, Omaha, and the Bluff Citys is now set next Saturday if the weather permits the track is in condition.

William Groneweg, the Democratic as nt for the state Senatorship, is one ad at home anyway. It is a voter, or will be twenty-one years from .

Col. Keatley has gone to Glenwood to end Jasper Clauser, who was recently sted in Colorado for a murder com ted near Pacific Junction several years .

The polling places to-day are: First d, Webster House; Second ward, Do y's Opera House; Third ward, city ding; Fourth ward, R. F. Bryant's e on First avenue.

The streets are in such a horrible con on that it would be almost impossible et the steamers any great distance ase of fire, and, at the best, only one d go, as it will take both teams to that.

Mrs. DeMoss, of Hazel Dell township, yesterday adjudged insane and taken he asylum. It is a peculiarly sad as her husband is left with five dren, several of whom are so young need a mother's care greatly.

Several merchants report having been n slightly by selling old oil bonds to low, who pretended that he was buy for a well known oil company, who ld settle on the first of the month. company say they know him not.

There is much sport at the expense of of Council Bluffs' merchants who is a sportsman, but who unfortunate e other day slaughtered eight tame s, by mistake. He settled the bill the owner of the ducks, and is now ing with the boys.

At evening Rev. Mr. Lemen joined arriage Mr. J. B. Yeager, who is ected with Mauer & Craig, to Miss ie Hubbard, daughter of C. S. Hub . The ceremony was performed at residence of the bride's parents, 611 hington avenue, and the young le were the recipients of many con lations on having thus joined lives ortunes.

Mary Birkinbine, engineer of the r works, has prepared orders to be to the different gangs by their fore directing them to quit work at to-day so as to have a chance to He urges them to vote as they e and to stand in no fear of being l to any account for their votes, as ompany has no desire to influence nel them in their personal political or convictions.

Officer Mullen yesterday picked up an tunate man, who has been hanging town for nearly a week, with no or sustenance save that which he pick up like a dog. The man was ntly a little out of his head, but is name is Dennis McCarthy, and is home is in Seward, Neb. The talks a good deal about some do trouble that he has had, and drove him from home to wander he don't seem to care where.

The ladies' relief association is to have iable and supper at the Baptist h Thursday evening for the benefit Home of the Friendless. Dona of supplies will be acceptable, as as a crowd that night to help the cause along. Business men should in for a few minutes, even if they t spend the evening. Besides sup here will be good music, instrumen Mrs. George, and vocal by a quar consisting of Misses Lock M. and Belden and Messrs. Elmer Stacy E. W. Cole; also a solo by Miss Belden.

. E. Gardner, who is a sort of detec r at least has that as a part of his ss, seems to be getting into trouble The charge preferred against him as Wetterstall for assault was dis of by Justice Abbott yesterday, er pleading guilty to a simple as and having been in jail over Sun he court let him off with a fine of d costs. Yesterday another com was made against him before Jus hurz by Alma Mestergreen, charg n with threatening to kill. The as continued until the 12th inst of $100 being given for his appear hen.

Ton Lennox, who was an eye wit the McKune tragedy, and who mportant witness, is said to have t out of town rather mysteriously one of the minute men in the fire ment, and slept in the Rescue en ouse, but has turned over his key, d the boys good-bye, without say here he was going. It is a query whether he will turn up again or not, but as all the witnesses were held on their own recognizence, it is conjectured that he has simply got out of the way for the present, to keep from being bothered about the affair by constant questionings and interviews, and that he will appear at the time of the trial.

One of the dying notes of the evening Democratic organ is that THE BEE's protest against the city council giving up $40,000 of the people's property for a Union Pacific sidetrack is due to the fact that it has not got any pass over the bridge, the same as the other newspaper fellows have. It has been a wonder that not one of the other papers here have had a word to say against the outrageous grab of Union avenue by the Union Pacific. But THE BEE is surprised to learn that they were hushed by simply a pass over the bridge. Twenty-five cents is a pretty low price for even the Democratic organ to sell for, but then it depends, perhaps, how badly a fellow wants that quarter. As to THE BEE, as it runs a ferry of its own between Council Bluffs and Omaha, it asks no further accommodations than it provides for itself.

There was a pitiable sight at police headquarters yesterday, it being an old, old, very infirm man, scarcely able to move about, while his mind seemed almost as lame and feeble as his body. There was a piece of paper sewed to the outside of his hat, saying, "Please see that this man goes through to Muskegan, Mich., to H. N. Allen," and on his valise was sewed another piece of paper—"Send this to Muskegan, Mich., via Council Bluffs and Chicago." The old man was so badly dazed that little could be learned from him except that he had one son-in-law in Clarkson, Neb., and another in Muskegan. The old man had no money or ticket, and was entirely dependent on the public. Arrangements were made to send him part way on his journey east, but how he is going to get through, in his condition, is a good deal of a mystery. If he has any sons-in law, or other relatives, by blood or marriage, they ought to look after the old man in a little better shape, instead of sending him adrift in such a condition. If he had money he is not capable of caring for it, and is in fact not fit to travel alone.

THE CONSPIRATORS.

A Gang of Schemers Have Evidently Been working the City but With Poor Success.

The details of the attempt to get $100 out of John Nicholson, under the pretense of showing him that his wife was untrue to him, have already been given in full in THE BEE. The young man Arnold Jessie, who was arrested on the charge of being one of the conspirators in this scheme, was before Judge Aylesworth yesterday. A demurrer was made to the information, but it was overruled, and the hearing of the case set for Wednesday, at the request of the state, which wants to get some more witnesses. It is reported that the Allen boy who carried the notes has been taken to Missouri by two others, older ones, who were connected with the scheme, they pretending that they had a job for him in that state, but more probably with the intention of getting him out of the way as a witness, and then dropping him to look out for himself. It now leaks out that there were several in the gang, and that they have been trying various sorts of schemes. One was to send the boy into a saloon to get something to drink or buy a bottle of whisky, for the purpose of extorting money from the proprietors under a threat of prosecution. Another scheme reported is that they proposed to several keepers of houses of ill-fame to get new boarders for them at $25 each. No trace has yet been got of their meeting with any success in these schemes, but they were evidently "on the make," without any regard as to how they made or who suffered.

Another arrest was made yesterday, the man giving his name as F. M. Lovett. He had been stepping at the Ohio house and had been with some of the other parties concerned. On the night of the scheme on Nicholson flashing in the pan this man ditappeared, and suspicions began gathering about him, so that when he returned yesterday and offered to settle his bill Officers Mullen and Leonard escorted him to police headquarters to await further investigation It is to be hope that the bottom facts will come out and the real scoundrels brought to justice, as their operations have been most dastardly.

In a letter from HON. MRS. PERY, Castle Grey, Limerick, Ireland, BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES are thus referred to: "Having brought your 'Bronchial Troches' with me when I came to reside here, I found that after I had given away to these I considered required them, the poor people will walk for miles to get a few." For Coughs, Colds, and Throat Diseases they have no equal. Sold only in boxes.

Death of Warton Kidder.

The announcement of the death of Warton H. Kidder will not cause great surprise, as most of his friends had already prepared their minds for receiving that news, knowing that he was in a very critical condition. Yet the news proves none the less sad, as Mr. Kidder was a young man, who during his seven years' residence here had gained many friends, and was held high in the esteem of all. He had been in quite robust health, until this attack of malarial fever, which confined him to his room at the residence of T. B. Hayes, where despite the tender care he received death ensued. In response to a telegram announcing his critical condition his brother, Dr. D. S. Kidder, of Woodstock, Vermont, arrived here Saturday in time to receive the last messages from the lips of the dying man. Dr. Guernsey, of Keosaqua, who is an uncle, also arrived and was by the bedside of the suffering one.

He was born in Woodstock, Vt., his father being a clergymen in that place. He has held an important position with the Rock Island road, in its office at the transfer, and was highly valued by the company, as well as being a favorite among his companions. Funeral services were held here yesterday afternoon by Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, pastor of the Congregational church, and the remains were then taken over the Rock Island by the brother, on the sad journey back to the mourning Vermont home.

Dr. West, dentist, 14 Pearl street.

To Voters.

I hereby announce myself to the voters of Pottawattamie county as an independent candidate for county surveyor.

L. P. JUDSON.

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Oct. 7, 1883.

POUNDED BY A PIN.

A Bold Attempt to Rob a Stock Man of His Wealth.

The Assailant Nearly Adds Murder to His Crime.

At the Union stock yards there is one room in connection with the office in which stock men passing through the city often sleep for a night. Sunday night there were two men in this room, lying bunked on the floor, rolled up in their blankets. One of them, who is a shipper for O. C. Wade, had about $400 with him, and about 1 o'clock yesterday morning some unknown man entered the place where the men were sleeping, the entrance being easily effected, the door not being locked. It was his intention to get away with the sleeper's roll, evidently, but as he was feeling for it the sleeping victim awakened, and resisted such attempt. The thief had in his hand a coupling pin, and with this he struck several blows knocking the man down, and was still struggling with him when he other man asleep on the floor was awakened by the noise, and as he sprang to his feet the would-be robber evidently concluding that two against one would prove too much for him, made his escape. The wounded man was at first thought to be in a dying condition, as he was unconscious and the blood was flowing very freely from wounds in his head, so that he presented a horrible appearance, but after a little he was brought to, and the blood being washed off he was found not to be so seriously hurt. There were several ugly scalp wounds where the coupling pin had torn clear to the bone, but no fracture of the skull was to be detected. His wounds were cared for, and by morning he was able to be put on the train which was to take his cattle to Chicago. One man was arrested on suspicion of being the assailant, and locked up in a room until morning, but being identified as not being that kind of a man, and there being no blood or other proof of his having been in a contest or struggle, he was released. The attack was a bold and murderous one and it would indeed be a great source of gratification if the really guilty party could be brought to the front.
