FINANCIAL

NEW YORK, December 13.

Prime Paper—5@6½ per cent.

Exchange Bills—Firmer at 4.81½; demand, 4.84½.

Stocks—Market opened irregular and continued so during the forenoon, there being a continued development of difference for various groups and also for particular stocks, each group and each stock being governed more largely by circumstances special to themselves, and advancing or delivering an independent tendency in the general market. It appears, therefore, a sifting out movement is begun. In two hours, from 12:30 to 2:30, the general market became unsettled and fluctuating, but, on the whole, was ¼@½ lower for majority stocks from 12:30 prices. Buying was large, and it was attributed in some quarters to Vanderbilt, although very favorable statements of the company's business was probably the cause.
