FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

For rates, etc., see top of first column on this page.

$10—RICH MEN OF THE UNITED STATES, seven-tenths of them, made their money out of real estate or land speculation. Probably none of them ever had a chance to begin their speculation for less than $10. The opportunity will be open to you all this week to purchase a lot in Omaha's latest addition for $10. Ten dollars is full payment for a nice level building lot entirely free and clear from mortgage or encumbrance; warranty deed, abstract of title and lithographed plat given with each lot sold; no tax due on this addition until January 1, 1892. Buy a lot for your child; try what you can do with one yourself in the way of a trade. These lots have a good future and will surprise you all by getting into somebody's way one of these days. Then you will all regret a lost opportunity to become a freeholder as well as the owner of Omaha real estate when you could have purchased lots at $10 each. Sale all this week at 310 South 15th street. Send 2 cents postage for platts and full information. Chas. Benjamin, sole agent. 113 27*

SOME PROMINENT WOMEN.

Kate Field, who has been making a brief visit to St. Louis, her old home, is "petite in figure and gray-haired, but as lively as a young girl."

Pauline Mason, widow of Michigan's "boy governor," declares that she is a grandniece of the Emperor Paul of Russia. She is practicing medicine in Toledo, O.

The wife of Allen G. Thurman, now upward of eighty years old, has been confined to her bed by illness for nearly a fortnight; but until this attack had shown few signs of decrepitude.

The chief caterer of fashionable society in Washington is a woman who occupies a most unpretentious little shop. She has served every president since the days of Harrison's grandfather.

Mrs. Ingalls, the wife of the ex-senator from Kansas, is described as a woman of sunny disposition, "with not a particle of the cynicism for which her distinguished husband is noted."

Mrs. Mary Bryan, editor of the Munro Library, owns a small plantation down in Georgia and baled the first cotton this year in her state. Mrs. Bryan, who is also known as the "automatic novel writer," gets out a fresh romance in serial form every six weeks.

Mrs. Isabella Beecher Hooker wants to see the statue of Queen Isabella, which the Queen Isabella association of Chicago is working for, erected in Washington beside that of the Father of his Country; and she would have it so designed that Columbus kneels at the feet of the queen.

Miss Mary Fuller, daughter of the chief justice, after studying piano playing in Germany for four years, gave a musicale in Chicago the other evening, assisted by two fellow students. About 100 guests were present. The entertainment was given in her father's house.

Mrs. William C. Whitney's diamonds are valued at $100,000, and one of her solitaires is as large as a hazelnut. A single clasp on the cloak of Queen Elizabeth had set in it six sapphires, sixty pearls, eighteen rubies and four emeralds. These are not the days of extravagance.

Captain Mary Miller, the woman who managed a steamboat on the Mississippi for seven years and then secured a government license pilot, has applied for the place of lighthouse keeper on the gulf coast. She is an intelligent and rather prepossessing woman. Her husband is still an active navigator, and is running a steamboat on the gulf.

Mrs. Cleveland's family physician in New York has been in attendance upon her at Buzzard's Bay, in anticipation of the event which is to occur about October 1. Mr. E. C. Benedict's steam yacht Oneida will reach the harbor September 30 for the purpose of carrying Mrs. Cleveland to New York, the Madison avenue residence being now put in order.

Mrs. George J. Gould, who was a Miss Edith Kingdon, is a famous young housekeeper, says the Ladies' Home Journal. She cares nothing for society—none of the Goulds do, no matter what is said to the contrary—but devotes all her time to her husband, her children and her home. She does all her own marketing, knows how to select a good joint, and, better still, knows how to cook it.
