Capital News-

LINCOLN—Nebraska's role in the agriculture picture nationwide was brought into focus by a report on a survey of a sales management magazine which found 34 of the 93 counties in Nebraska ranked in the top 600 in the nation in the value of farm products sold last year.

The magazine estimated that farm products sold in Nebraska in 1958 totaled $1,304,464,000. This is more than $278,200,000 over the 1957 estimate.

Dawson and Scotts Bluff counties, in the rich Platte river valleys, and Cuming county, in the equally rich Elkhorn valley, ranked in the top 100.

Dawson county was 47th with an estimated $52,483,000 in agriculture products sold. Cuming county was 62nd with $46,274,000 and Scotts Bluff county was 78th with $39,484,000.

The other Nebraska counties and their rank in the nations top 600: Douglas 137; Dodge 181; Cedar 227, Custer 249, Wayne 263, Gage 275; Burt 285; Hall 312; Saunders 336; Lancaster 339; Knox 353; Stanton 383; Platte 392; Hamilton 398; York 407; Cherry 453; Seward 455; Richardson 463; Lincoln 477; Otoe 479; Washington 491; Cheyenne 498; Antelope 507; Fillmore 515; Butler 537; Madison 552; Merrick 561; Phelps 573; Dixon 590; Sarpy 592; and Holt 593.

Driver's Licenses

The state's chief driver's license examiner, illiam Edwards said new driver's licenses will go on sale Sept. 1.

All licenses expire Sept. 1 and motorists have 60 days to renew them. Edwards said anyone who does not renew his license within the 60-day grace period will be required to take the driver's examinations.

Regular licenses will be renewed for a two-year period while probationary licenses—those issued to all drivers 19 years old and under—will be good for one year.

Edwards estimated there are between 750 thousand and 800 thousand licenses on file in the Capitol. He said about 45 thousand to 50 thousand new ones are issued each year and about the same number are cancelled each year because former holders have left the state, died or have stopped driving.

Lower Auto Insurance

Your driving record will be the key to your automobile insurance rate under a new safe driver plan instigated by two insurance rating firms which represent some 200 companies which write insurance in Nebraska.

Under the safe driver insurance plan the insurance premium will depend upon the number of points a driver has, State Insurance Director William Grubbs said.

One point is assigned for each accident and for each conviction of a chargeable moving traffic violation, except for five serious offenses for which either three or five points are charged.

Where there are no points for two years, premiums will be cut 20 percent. One point earns a 10 percent discount and two points means the driver will pay the basic rate for the policy.

For three points, 20 percent is added to the premium and with four points 40 percent is added. Five points will add 70 per cent and six or more points will mean that insurance costs will be 100 percent more.

Oppose Resignation

State Tax Commissioner Fred Herrington, who is expected to resign within the next few months, said his mail is running 25 to one urging him to stay in his office.

Herrington receives $10,000 a year. His appointment does not expire until 1963.

Pay Increases

The State Board of Control has granted pay increases to some 170 officers at the State Penitentiary.

Board Chairman Charles Leeman said the low pay scale was brought to the board's attention while it was interviewing candidates to replace Joseph Bovey as warden.

Bovey resigned after he came under fire from Governor Ralph Brooks. The board named Maurice Sigler to replace him.

Board Asks for Bids

The State Normal Board will call for bids this month on housing construction at three of the four state teachers colleges which it governs.

Bids will be called for on Aug. 11 for construction of men's and women's dormitories at Peru College.

On Aug. 18, the board will ask for bids on a women's dormitory and married student and faculty housing at Chadron College.

The board will seek bids on Aug. 25 for construction of married student housing at Kearney College.

Later in the year, Board Secretary Albin Larson said, the board will ask for bids on a student union at Peru, a student union at Chadron and for men's and women's dormitories at Kearney.

All of the buildings will be financed by revenue bonds. The Peru construction cost estimate is $731,800 while the Kearney projects will cost an estimated $2,073,000 and the Chadron construction costs are estimated at $1,230,000.

New Airplane

The state is buying a new $100 thousand twin-engine Bonanza Beach airplane for the use of all state agencies.

The plane will replace a 1957 twin-engine Bonanza owned by the State Aeronautics Department.

That plane currently needs major repairs.
