Declining Movement in Grain Prices Sustain Moderate Check.

NO FURTHER APPREHENSION AS TO CROPS

Wheat Closes Firm and Little Higher—Corn Market Shows Firmness that Shows No Further Decline—Provisions Quiet.

CHICAGO, July 30.—The declining movement in grain prices sustained a moderate check today, September wheat closing ⅜@1c, corn ⅝@1c and oats a fraction higher. Provisions closed 5 to 15c improved. At the opening September wheat sold ¼ to ⅝c higher to 68⅝@68¾c. Liquidation was small in volume, while there was a fair amount of covering owing to the firmness of the Liverpool market. The market, however, eased to 65⅝c during the first few minutes while a few lines of long wheat were being disposed of. A rally to 68c followed and for some time the market ruled steady but dull. Speculation was revived by a report that during the last twenty-four hours 140 loads had been taken for export. Of these fifty were said to have been contracted for at New York today. As there was a small amount of eastern buying here and the report was in line with previous allegations concerning deterioration of the wheat crop in various parts of Europe, the report was accepted as true and under buying thus encouraged September rallied to 68⅝c and closed firm ⅞@1c higher than yesterday's close at 68⅝@68¾c. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour were equal to 402,000 bushels, while primary receipts were 1,122,000 bushels, compared with 858,000 bushels last year.

Minneapolis and Duluth reported 108 cars against 225 last year and 404 a year ago. Local receipts were 597 cars, 176 of contract grade.

The Bradstreet report showed an increase in the world's visible of 3,900,000 bushels.

The corn market displayed a firmness, which, more than to anything else, was due to a feeling that the decline for the time had gone far enough. There was little in the crop situation to cause further apprehension. On the contrary messages indicated considerable hope for the crop in Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri. Prices held steady early on profit-taking by shorts and advanced later to the best prices of the day on buying by a group of professionals for the time arrayed on the bull side. September sold between 52½@54¼c and closed firm ½@¾c higher at 54⅛@54½c. Receipts were 267 cars.

Oats opened firm in sympathy with other grains. For a time considerable quantities were for sale and prices sagged. The renewed strength in wheat and corn later, however, was felt in the oats pit, where it developed that a fair short interest was in existence. On buying from this source the market advanced the latter half of the session. September sold between 32½c and 34@34¼c and closed 19@1½c higher at 33⅞@34c. Receipts were 384 cars.

Provisions were quiet but firm in sympathy with the cereal markets, higher prices for hogs and on a good cash demand for lard. September pork closed 12½c higher at $14.32½, September lard 15c up at $8.70 and September ribs 5c improved at $7.92½.

Estimated receipts tomorrow: Wheat, 265 cars; corn, 160 cars; oats, 200 cars; hogs, 25,000 head.

METALS—Included in the cable advices this morning was a decline of £1 in spot pig tin at London, as a result of liquidation, while the forward delivery of that metal was without change and held steady. The close was irregular, with spot standing at £119 15s and futures at £116 5s. Our market, however, did not respond to their depression abroad, as it held pretty steady at fully sustained prices, closing at $27.00@$28.00. Copper in London followed the loss scored here yesterday and eased off 7s 6d, but little business resulted. The close was easy at £67 6s 3d on spot and £67 15s on futures. Here the market was quiet at yesterday's decline, closing at 16½@17c for Lake Superior and 16⅝@16¾c for casting and electrolytic. Lead was 2s 6d lower abroad, closing at £11 17s 6d on spot, while the local market was quite featureless and unchanged at $4.37½; brokers, 16½@17c. NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS.

Traders Disinclined to Attempt Any Movement of Prices.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The dullness and sluggishness of the market exceeded anything that has been seen since last summer and autumn, after the fall in prices on account of the spring wheat shortage had been succeeded by the period of waiting preceding the national election. The extreme fluctuations reached as high as a point in only a limited number of stocks and in them, as in the general market, the movement was wavering and uncertain. The largest part of the dealings was in the United States steel stocks, but the reports in morning newspapers of good prospects of a settlement of the strike were ineffectual to cause any strength in the stocks.

The whole market sunk more and more into a waiting attitude. The present ease of money takes that factor out of immediate consideration. But the future of the money market and the cautiousness of bankers in locking up capital in long-time loans serves as a warning of possible future complications. The course of the government revenues is a disappointment to those who hoped for relaxation of demands on the money market from that source. In spite of the operation of the amended revenue law, the government's receipts continue to run well over those of last year, while the expenditures thus far this month have fallen more than $800,000 below those of July last year. As a consequence, the government deficit for this month is only a little over $2,000,000, whereas it had amounted to $4,665,639 by this time in July of last year. The subtreasury at New York has taken over $1,000,000 from the market since Friday last. For the last week in July last year preceding the government interest in disbursements in August, the subtreasury yielded a small sum to the New York money market. The continuance of those unlooked-for conditions of the government revenues will materially affect money market conditions during the period of interior crop demands upon New York. These doubtful factors in the outlook discouraged any buying demand and made the market soft and yielding, even to the light selling pressure that was brought to bear upon it. The reactionary tendency gained force and the closing was dull and weak at about the lowest, many important railroad stocks showing net losses of a point or more.

There was some early show of strength in the railroad bond market on a well-diversified demand, but best prices there were yielded in the late dealings. Total sales, par value, $1,125,000. United States bonds were unchanged in quotation in the last call.

The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram:

The markets here were lifeless today, pending completion of the settlement. The action was steady. Americans showed no decided tendency.
