VANISHES WHILE SWIMMING

Peter Barlow, Switchman for Illinois Central, Drowns in Missouri.

JAMES HASKINS SEES HIM AT THE LAST

Two Are Bathing from a Sandbar When Barlow Takes Fatal Notion to Battle with the Current.

Peter Barlow, a switchman in the employ of the Illinois Central railroad, was drowned yesterday afternoon while bathing in the Missouri river near the east end of the motor company's bridge. He was an expert swimmer and is supposed to have either been seized with cramps or sucked down in an eddy near one of the large piers.

Barlow, in company with James Haskins, a bartender employed in a saloon at 1608 West Broadway, went down to the river bank about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon to swim. Haskins and Barlow were paddling about in the shallow water near a sandbar when they noticed a man in a boat fishing about 100 yards away. The fisherman was using a bottle for the float for his line and Barlow told Haskins he guessed he would swim out as far as the bottle. Haskins saw Barlow reach the bottle and then swim toward the large pier of the bridge. He turned his back for a minute and when he looked around again Haskins failed to see any sign of his companion. He waited on the sandbar for several minutes, but, failing to see any signs of Barlow, came to the conclusion he had been drowned. Haskins donned his clothes as speedily as possible and notified the bridge tender and then reported the matter to the police. Chief of Police Albro hastened to the river, but no signs of the man's body could be seen.

Little of Barlow is known here. He came to Council Bluffs on May 21 and a few days later went to work for the Illinois Central railroad as a switchman. He boarded at the Metropolitan hotel until July 1. On July 10 he became sick from the heat and has not been working since. He was a member of the Switchmen's Union of America and is thought to have a family in West Superior, Wis. The application on which he was given employment here by the Illinois Central road was dated at Fort Dodge.

HOTEL IN RECEIVER'S HANDS

Judge McPherson Puts E. W. Hart in Charge of the Grand.

On an order issued by Judge McPherson of the federal court the Grand Hotel of this city was yesterday afternoon placed in the hands of E. W. Hart as receiver for the Grand Hotel company. An injunction was also issued restraining D. C. Smith, the lessee of the hotel, from in any way interfering with the receiver.

The Grand hotel was leased to Major D. C. Smith of Kansas City March 21, 1899, and he took possession of the house April 1 following. By the terms of his lease Major Smith was to pay a rental of $300 a month and keep the house in proper repair.

In asking for the appointment of a receiver the Grand Hotel company, which is composed of a number of the leading business men of Council Bluffs, it is claimed that Major Smith was in arrears of rent to the amount of $600 and that there was at least $2,500 amount of repairs needed to the house. The plaintiff company alleged in its petition that owing to the manner in which Major Smith had managed the house he had "impaired, tarnished and injured the good name of the hotel" so that former patrons of the place refused to stop there.

Some few months ago Major Smith gave mortgages on the hotel saloon and fixtures to Fenlon & Foley and William Moore of the wholesale cigar firm of Peregoy & Moore for about $2,300 to cover bills for coal and cigars.

Receiver Hart furnished a bond in the sum of $4,000 and took possession of the hotel yesterday afternoon. The hotel will be kept open and as soon as the affairs of the present lessee can be straightened out will be under new management.

The hearing of the suit of the Grand Hotel company against Major D. C. Smith has been set for August 24 in the federal court.

CONVENTION OF DEMOCRATS

Call for Pottawattamie County Issued by Chairman Reed.

The call for the democratic convention of Pottawattamie county, to be held in this city on Thursday, August 15, was issued yesterday by Chairman Brooks Reed of the county central committee.

THREE SEEK TO BE DIVORCED

One Wife is Weary of Having a Husband Who Spends Her Savings.

Three mismated couples filed petitions in the district court yesterday asking that the matrimonial bonds which tie be severed. In two cases the wife appears as the aggrieved party, while in the other it is the husband who seeks to have the knot untied.

Mrs. Maud B. Owens, who was married to John W. Owens in this city in July, 1894, has become weary of her husband taking all the money which she managed to save from her salary as a teacher and then deserting her, so she wants her maiden name and rights as a maiden restored. According to the story related in her petition her husband deserted her five years ago after he had secured from her $200 which she had saved from her earnings as a teacher. When he had spent this he returned to her, but shortly after induced her to part with $500 which she had again saved, and then he deserted her for the second time. Again he came back to her when he spent this money and again she condoned his offense. Last July he succeeded in inducing her to part with $600, which she had saved from her earnings, and again decamped. With Mrs. Owens it meant third time and out and she decided it would be economy on her part not to be handicapped with a husband, hence the suit for divorce.

Mrs. Anna Deuning was married to Robert Denning in Council Bluffs April 20, 1894, but as she alleges he has deserted her for another woman she wants the bonds that bind her to him severed by due process of law. She also asks the custody of their two minor children, two daughters, aged respectively 5 and 2 years.

John Higgins in his petition alleges that his wife, Catherine, whom he married in Ireland some five years ago, is far too strenuous for him and his relatives. He says she not only treated him inhumanely, but put in her leisure moments when she was not abusing him by beating his mother and sister, and that not content with this she in moment of rage attempted to take the life of their eldest daughter, a child 4 years of age. He asserts that Mrs. Higgins left him last June, taking with her their youngest daughter, Dora, aged 2 years. He asks for a divorce and the custody of the eldest daughter, who is now in his care.

CLAIMS HE IS ADOPTED SON

William Short Seeks to Secure Possession of John Short's Property.

William Short, who claims to be an adopted son of John Short, recently committed to the state asylum at Clarinda, brought suit in the district court yesterday to secure possession of two-thirds of the proceeds of the sale of the property belonging to the latter. T. G. Turner, guardian of John Short, is named as party defendant to the suit.

The plaintiff alleges that John Short and his wife adopted him in April, 1868, in Detroit, Mich., when he was 15 months old and changed his name from James Sullivan to that of William Short. An alleged contract of adoption entered into by Short and his wife with Mrs. Mary Sullivan and dated April 30, 1868, is made part of the petition.

John Short owned a two-story brick store building on Broadway, which is about to be sold by the guardian to satisfy the claim of a creditor named Way. William Short claims he is entitled, as the adopted son, to two-thirds of the property.

SUED BY UNITED STATES

H. A. Boyle is Asked to Account for Money Intended for Soldiers' Expenses.

H. A. Boyle of Crawford county, a former first lieutenant and surgeon in the Fiftieth Iowa volunteer infantry during the Spanish-American war, is defendant in a suit brought by the United States in the federal court here yesterday.

It is alleged by the government that Lieutenant Boyle has failed to account for $126 which he received from Major John Tillie and which was to be expended in defraying the subsistence in other expenses of men traveling from the Second division hospital to Iowa. It is alleged by the government that Lieutenant Boyle not only failed to account for the money, but did not expend it for the purpose designated.

KEATING GETS JUST ONE GIRL

Miss Clara Louise Troutman Proves to Be the Favorite His Song Was About.

John H. Keating and Miss Clara Louise Troutman were married last evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Troutman, 926 Third avenue. Rev. George Edward Walk, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of the relatives and friends of the couple. The groom under the nom de plume of "Lynn Udall" earned fame and wealth as the composer of the popular songs, "Just One Girl," "Just as the Sun Went Down," and many others. Mr. and Mrs. Keating will make their home in Portland, Ore., where Mr. Keating has property interests.

Banks in Splendid Condition.

That the banks of Council Bluffs are in the best of condition is shown by the official statements recently called for by the comptroller of the currency. The official statement of the state banks was called for June 29 and that of the national banks July 15. The condensed statement of the banks of this city follows:

	Capital.	Surplus and Profits.	Cash.	Deposits.

MAJOR HUME IN DES MOINE

Says Report of Rowdyism at the Dubuque Encampment is Greatly Exaggerated.

ENGINEERS AT COAL MINES ORGANIZE

Superintendent Barrett Receives Reports of Rural Libraries—Grading is Begun on New Electric Road—H. H. Hahn of Blair Hurt.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, July 31.—(Special.)—Major Hume, who is chief clerk in the office of the adjutant general of Iowa, returned this morning from the Dubuque encampment. General Byers has not yet returned, as he remained to attend to business matters in connection with the closing up of the camp affairs. Major Hume declares that the reports published in regard to rowdyism among the soldiers at the Dubuque encampment were entirely wrong, that they were grossly exaggerated by the newspapers at Dubuque and do the members of the Iowa National guard an injustice. There was some trouble when a policeman refused to be made the victim of an innocent joke and assaulted a soldier and for a time there was threat of violence, but there was no general rowdyism indulged in by the soldiers. Discipline was not maintained as rigidly at Dubuque as in the past, nor as it will be at Council Bluffs, owing to the intense heat which made it almost impossible for the men to sleep, but, considering all things, the camp was much more orderly than many of the camps which have been held in the past.

Sac County Libraries.

State Superintendent Barrett today received a report on the rural school libraries established in Sac county. The report shows that in the rural schools of the county there are now libraries aggregating 6,249 volumes, of which 2,655 were added the past year. The teachers raised for these libraries the past year the sum of $912.89 and there was secured by taxation under the Iowa law $234.84, or a total of $1,147.73. There was given by George W. Schee of Primghar as an encouragement to the raising of funds to start the libraries the sum of $200. Superintendent Barrett reports that in general the new law requiring the setting apart of a sum each year for adding to rural school libraries is working well and good results are being achieved.

Mine Engineers Organize.

A state organization of the coal mine hoisting engineers has been formed for the first time in the history of labor organizations in this state and the association will affiliate with the Iowa State Federation of Labor. The coal mine engineers have been slow to organize from the fact that they are scattered about over the state and have had little to do with each other, but other classes of laborers, especially those connected with mines, have been closely organized. The meeting held here was attended by representatives of local unions in the various mining districts of the state. W. T. Arbuckle of Lehigh was elected president and John M. Terry of Foster secretary. Others who were conspicuous in the meeting to organize were: J. W. Taylor, Pekay; Samuel Spowart, Oskaloosa; O. W. Lundholm, Saylor; D. C. Dodge, sr., Frazier, and William P. Boustead, What Cheer. There were also delegates and representatives present from the mines in the district in and about Des Moines. The national secretary, Mr. Jenkins of Danville, Ill., was present. He has been engaged in organizing the engineers into local unions, but this is the first time an attempt has been made to form a state association.

A strike is on at the various brick plants in Des Moines, the men demanding recognition of the union. The managers have refused to accede to the demands made and work is suspended partially.

Work on Electric Line.

Work has actually been commenced grading on the electric railroad from Des Moines to Nevada. The first eighteen miles out have been contracted for and the contractors are now at work on the grading, commencing near the town of Ankeny, in this county. It is expected that the entire line to Nevada will be completed by fall.

Institute Instructor Injured.

Superintendent H. H. Hahn of Blair, Neb., was seriously hurt in a runaway accident at Sac City, where he is one of the instructors in the county normal institute. He and Prof. C. H. Jump, county superintendent, were out driving when the horse ran away. Prof. Hahn jumped out and was injured. He struck on the side of his face and received bruises and his wrists were sprained. He was picked up in a nearly insensible condition and cared for. Prof. Jump remained in the buggy and succeeded in stopping the horse, but was himself more or less injured.

New Corporations.

The Manning Electric Light company of Manning has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000; Peter Ohrt, president and manager; W. B. Swaney, secretary and treasurer.

The executive committee of the State Fair association will meet Saturday in the office of Secretary H. G. Van Houten at the statehouse.

Members of the board of control will meet at Cherokee tomorrow morning to look over the progress of the work on the new insane hospital, where there are now over 250 men employed.

Enlisted in the Army.

Several men will leave tomorrow morning for the Presidio, where they will be immediately transferred to Alaska for service in the Seventh infantry. Three of the seven, Frederick B. Woods, Lewis R. Sayers and James Ping, are from Des Moines. Claude O. Domoghue, Bert C. Wadsworth, Harvey D. Jackson and Edward Carrick are from Sioux City, having enlisted yesterday. Captain Sweezey also enlisted the following men, who are assigned to infantry duty throughout the country: William Willcocks, Albert Halben, Hannon Bole, C. B. Blank, C. W. Hothe, Edgar Warren and Ed H. Baker. All are from Sioux City.

Smash at Pacific Junction.

PACIFIC JUNCTION, Ia., July 31.—(Special.)—While a Burlington switch engine, hauling an emigrant car, was crossing the K. C., St. J. & C. B. railroad track today an extra freight coming from the north hit the switch engine broadside and nearly demolished it. The emigrant car, containing three men, a horse and a cow, was overturned, but no one was injured. The freight crew claims the airbrakes would not work.

Boy Killed on Illinois Central.

FORT DODGE, Ia., July 31.—(Special.)—Archie Pearsons, a 17-year-old boy, was run over and killed at Fonda at 9 o'clock this morning by an Illinois Central passenger train going west. Pearsons had been hunting and while returning had fallen asleep on the roadbed. The entire train passed over his body. It was not found until several hours later.
