We wish to impress on you the advantages and convenience of a bank account.

Right now is a good time to put your business on a systematic basis. After once you have used the check plan of paying all bills, you will realize the risk of the haphazard, lose money in the pocket method you are now using. The old

Class Play

The class play given last evening by the class of 1911, entitled "A Strenuous Life," was a pronounced success. The scene of the play is in a boarding house occupied by college students. The play revolves around a student who has been paying more attention to sports than to his studies but has been deceiving his father by writing of receiving medals and honors, while at the same time he was head over heels in debt to his landlady and tradesmen. His father and sister make him a visit and complications begin. A freshmen is made to represent a professor, in order to deceive the father, while the real professor is made to represent a freshman. The hero of the play becomes involved more and more in the meshes of the net as the play advances and is only saved through the Japanese girl whose vocabulary consists of the word "Yis". The play is splendidly written and the class pay a royalty of $25 each night. Not having space to speak in commendation of the different characters, we can only say the entire cast reflected great credit on itself and the school from which they graduate and gave a good characterization to all the parts. Music between acts was furnished by the band. The members of the class taking part in the play were, Florence Leininger, Lula Lofholm, Frieda Ohlsen, Zelpha Reed, June Fuller, Jennie Minshull, Fritz Leschinsky, Cash Pritchard and John Burrowes, the class prophecy being given by Lila McNulty in a most appropriate manner, being well rendered and especially well written. Other members of the cast were Downing Charlton, Harold Burt, Albion Ohlsen and E. S. Cook. The play will be given again this evening.

Miss Wilma Amick of St. Paul, a daughter of Conductor Amick, and a graduate from St. Paul college last week, visited here a few days this week, going home Tuesday.

Bro. Beushausen and wife of the Times will take in the State Editorial meet at Omaha next week. It is nice to be a wealthy quill driver. We are living in hopes for the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Slominski, nee Miss Marie Lewandowski, left last Saturday morning on a bridal trip of a month's duration to visit his parents in Michigan. He will start his new home on his return.

We learn that our young friend, Nancy Harrod, at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Leininger, has been ill the past two weeks with an attack of appendicitis. We trust she may recover speedily and without undergoing an operation.

Rev. Montgomery sold off some of his personal property on the streets Saturday last, preparatory to moving his family to Alliance, which will be his headquarters, while he is pastor evangelist of the church in the country roundabout. We hope he will make good in his new field.

This week is given over pretty much to the various functions connected with Commencement week in our schools, this being the great event in the lives of the ten young people who have finished their high school course, many social functions being prepared in their honor. May their future be as bright as the world seems to them now.

Word is received as we go to press that Rev. N. C. Johnson of Kearney will supply the pulpit at the Presbyterian church both morning and evening of next Sunday. A meeting of the congregation will also be held at the close of the morning service. All invited to attend. Rev. Johnson also expects to preach at Austin Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Jas. Johansen yesterday entertained some 20 lady friends in honor of Mrs. W. O. Brown, who with her two daughters leaves next Wednesday for Chicago and other points in the east to spend the summer. Mrs. Joe O'Bryan of Ord and Mrs. Joe Thompson of Ravenna were here to attend the social function. A most pleasant time was enjoyed by all present, the affair being an entire surprise to the guest of honor.

Detlef Petersen was down from Oak Creek Decoration Day. Detlef is one of the old-timers, coming here way back in 1878—33 years ago, when he was a young man, single, but refused to stay that way; was here when Sherman county was in swaddling clothes, before our pre-historic court house was built; when they had Kearney for a trading point, used coffee mills to grind their food to eat; and is a living encyclopedia of early pioneer history of Sherman county. He is still living on his land taken up when he came here, is comfortably surrounded with this world's goods, has raised a fine family of children, and is jolly, happy and contented. What more or better could one ask? Could Detlef be prevailed upon to give his knowledge of the early history of Sherman county, it would prove mighty interesting reading. Why don't he or others do so.

E. S. Cook, the new superintendent of the Keystone lumber yards, this week adds his name to our list of readers. Thanks.

Last Friday afternoon, while Alfred Cook was dragging some land on his farm up in Oak Creek, with three horses hitched to the drag, and while going down an incline a piece of paper was blown in the horses' faces, frightening them so they backed up into the machine, one horse being so terribly injured it had to be killed. Alfred seems to be having his share of trouble and then some.

Miss Melvia Danielson, who is in charge of musical instruction at the Peru State Normal, arrived home Monday evening for a few days' visit. We learn that at the opening of the new state normal at Fremont next year, Miss Danielson will be musical instructor in that institution, having accepted a call there at a much larger compensation and more satisfactory conditions. Loup City is proud of their talented home girl.

Willis Fulliton of Austin sends the Northwestern the coming year to Mrs. Julia Kyle at Conneaut Lake, Pa. His entire family has lately recovered from the enjoyment of the so-called smallpox epidemic over the state, but as Uncle Willis had varioloid in its worst form while in the army, he may be pardoned for expressing doubt that what he had this time is what it is claimed to be. His family, like hundreds of others in the county, got through without quarantine.

On Thursday evening, May 25th, the Young People's Bible Class of the M. E. Sunday school held a social in the parlors of the church. Regardless of the electrical storm many of the class were present, also a few of the invited friends. After a business meeting in the class room strawberries and cake were served and the evening was spent in various amusements. These young people have a strong class organization and take an excellent interest in the work of the Sunday school.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the First Presbyterian church was comfortably filled Sunday evening to hear the most excellent baccalaureate sermon given by Rev. W. C. Harper before the class of 1911. The church was decorated with class banners, mottoes and colors, while the pulpit was covered with a profusion of beautiful potted plants and flowers. The music also was well rendered, a beautiful solo by Miss Leininger being worthy of especial mention.

Mrs. Mary Platz of Scotts Bluff, the Misses Lena and Olga Platz, who have been teaching in Colfax county, and Mr. Grover C. Platz, who has just graduated from the Schuyler schools, mother, sisters and brother of Mr. Paul P. Platz of this city, visited the latter and family from Monday to Wednesday of this week, departing for Scotts Bluff, where the mother has just completed her new residence and moved into the city from her farm and where the son and daughters will make their home with her.

We received last week through our young friend, Raymond V. Keans, an invitation to attend the commencement exercises of the class of 1911 of Bellevue college, to be held Thursday, June 8th, at 10 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church. The class numbers 15 in all, of which Raymond is one and Frances Julia Sweetland is another, who have made good in their studies and graduate with honor to themselves, to their parents, to their friends and to their home people. Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Kearns and Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Sweetland expect to attend the graduation and witness with parental pride and pleasure the honor attained by their loved ones.

Vic Swanson and Elmer Youngquest and families arrived from Turlock, Calif., last Friday evening where they went four months ago. The ladies of the party especially were dissatisfied with that country and were pleased to return. Vic and Elmer said times were very dull out there, "nothing doing," so to speak. They returned by the southern route, via Los Angeles, El Paso and Kansas City. They expect to remain here. Mr. Swanson Saturday rented the vacant Odendahl cottage, pending the arrival of his household goods, Elmer and family visiting relatives in Logan a few days till he decides future moves on life's checker-board. We're deuced glad the boys and their families are back here to stay.

Monday, "tag day" in the interest of the cemetery improvement, was taken advantage of by most of our people to see the vast diffefence being made in the appearance of our Silent City of the Dead. All praise to the good women of Loup City who have banded together to make it a beautiful place. Those who visited it that day, and especially the many who have not been out frequently, were surprised over its vastly improved condition. Again all praise to the good women of the cemetery improvement association and also praise to the people of Loup City who so generously gave of their services and money to aid the wives and mothers and daughters in their work. The receipts from the tags amounted to the neat sum of $80.50. The society, of which Mrs. Viola Odendahl is president, Mrs. E. B. Corning secretary-treasurer and Mrs. A. H. Hansel general manager, returns thanks to the auto owners and all who gave of labor, time and money to make the day such a financial success.

SPENT $500.00 -- REFUSED $3000.00

Two years ago one of Uncle Sam's soldiers filed on a 40-acre homestead adjoining the town of Powell, Wyoming. By applying his time served in the Army, this homesteader has now made final proof. He has paid out only $500.00 on the ten payment plan, towards water rights and improvements, and has just refused a $3000.00 offer for his 40-acre farm.

This illustrates the value of irrigated farms under Government Canals in the Big Horn Basin.

Your Chance Soon

More of this same kind of land will be opened soon to entry. The Ralston Unit is already platted and 12 miles more of the main canal is more than half finished by the contractors. If you want to get one of these rich Government prizes send me your name and address for my mailing list and I will notify you as fast as new tracts will be supplied with water. The next one will be announced very soon.

NEW FOLDER: The new Shoshone Project folder contains a map of the Big Horn Basin, plats of the Garfield, Powell and Ralston irrigated lands several farm scenes and two beautiful pictures of the Shoshone Dam. It is yours for the asking. Write today for particulars about our personally conducted excursions to these lands first and third Tuesdays.
