EDITORS CONVENE IN JUNE

Nebraska Press Association to Then Hold Annual Convention.

KNIGHTS TO ENTERTAIN THEM

Ak-Sar-Ben Will Throw Open Doors to the Visitors and Performance Will Be Given at the Den.

Entertainments for the members of the Nebraska Press association, which holds its annual convention in Omaha June 2, 3 and 4, soon will be completely planned. A special committee is at work filling up the leisure hours of the delegates, and when final arrangements are announced it is expected every minute will be filled with something entertaining or educational.

Before the beginning of the convention the editors of the state will occupy the protestant pulpits. Some of the texts for their lay sermons have been given out and indicate a good church attendance on Sunday before the sessions open.

The featuré entertainment for the editors will be given by the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben Monday night at the den. The season of shows there will begin at that time. While the men are attending the show an evening of entertainment for their wives has been planned to be given at the home of Mrs. H. E. Newbranch. This will be a reception.

The stock yards company will entertain the editors at the stock exchange Tuesday noon with a luncheon, after which they will be taken for an automobile ride over South Omaha and Omaha. That night a dance will be given at one of the country clubs, under the auspices of the three Omaha newspapers.

Further entertainment features are being planned by the bureau of publicity of the Commercial club in conjunction with the entertainment committee. The Nebraska Press, a newspaper announcing details of the convention, will be issued this week and each following week until the meeting.

Elevator Moves and Takes Off Thumb of Carpenter Fixing It

Harry Erickson, a carpenter living at 2613 Capitol avenue, lost his right thumb while working in the elevator shaft of the Paxton block. Erickson was nailing a strip to the weightcasing of the elevator, when the machine, which was supposed to remain stationary until he had finished, was accidentally started and the heavy weights, catching his thumb in the casing, completely severed the member from his hand.

Erickson, half crazed with pain, screamed for help and started to run, but had gone scarcely fifteen feet before he pitched forward in a faint. He was carried by occupants of the building to Dr. Foote's office, where he was soon revived and the flow of blood staunched.

He was then removed to his home in a taxicab.
