MOLASSES AS FUEL.

The Sweet Stuff So Plentiful as to Be Cheaper Than Wood.

The low price of common molasses some years or more ago led this paper, says the Louisiana Planter, to urge its distillation into alcohol, and at the same time one of its correspondents suggested its use as fuel, and the suggestion attracted wide attention at the time, and several inventors had in hand apparatus that they believed would be successful in burning molasses if it were to be used as fuel.

Molasses is now as low or lower than ever, two cents per gallon being hardly obtainable for it. Of heavy-bodied molasses one hundred and sixty-six and two-thirds gallons will weigh a short ton of two thousand pounds. This would make full cost three dollars and thirty-three cents per ton on the plantation, and rather less per ton than current prices for coal delivered there.

The question would then arise as to the fuel value of molasses. As it is almost altogether carbonaceous matter it must have a considerable fuel value, but as to its relative merits as compared with bituminous coal we have no data at hand to determine. Heavy boiled common Louisiana molasses contains, say, 20 per cent. water, 8 per cent. ash, 12 per cent. gums, and 60 per cent. sucrose and glucose. Hence we have 72 per cent. of carbonaceous matter available as fuel, and only 20 per cent. of water. This would certainly make excellent fuel if there were competent devices to burn it, such as used for liquid fuels.

Molasses has recently been used for fuel in Cuba, and with seeming success. It was there poured or sprayed onto the bagasse as it entered the furnace, and the judgment of those interested was that its efficiency as fuel when used in this way was incontestable.

Our grinding season is now approaching, and if our inventors and engineers will take the matter in hand they may be able to soon demonstrate the actual money value to us as fuel of this seemingly worthless by-product.

The molasses product of Louisiana for 1892 will probably reach 120,000 tons, and if of equal value with coal it would represent 120 boat loads of 10,000 barrels each. Most of it is yet too valuable to use as fuel, but the constant tendancy of our molasses is toward the low grades, and year by year less of it is consumed as food. We need new outlets for it, and its possible use as fuel promises relief.

Raises Her Own Tea.

Mrs. Increase Sumner, of Starke, Bradford county, raises her own tea, and has treated her guests to cups of the homemade beverage, which was pronounced delicious. She says that owing to rapid growth she has to cut off the bushes every three or four years, while in China this is done only once in seven years. She gathers three crops a year; the finest tea costs fifteen dollars a pound, but will not stand a sea voyage, and never gets farther than Russia, but her bushes furnish it to her for the picking.

Because the alleged steel wheels put out by inexperienced manufacturers have gone down in ordinary winds, a feeling has grown that the Steel Wheel is unsafe. Judged only by the Aermotor. In this year's blizzards and cyclones the Aermotor has proportionately much less than any wooden wheel, while the loss of the imitation steel ones has frequently been total.

45 sold in '88
2,288 sold in '89
6,268 sold in '90
20,049 sold in '91
60,000 will be sold in '92

A Steel Windmill and Steel Tower every 3 minutes. These figures tell the story of the ever-growing, ever-going, everlasting Steel Aermotor. Where one goes others follow, and we "Take the Country." Though sold, we were unable to make all of the 20,049 Aermotors in '91. Orders often waited 4 weeks to be filled, but now we have vastly increased our plant and are prepared promptly to plant our increase in every habitable portion of the globe.

Are you curious to know how the Aermotor Co. in the 4th year of its existence, came to make many times as many windmills as all other makers combined? How it came to originate the Steel Wheel, the Steel Fixed Tower, the Steel Tilting Tower?

1st. We commenced in a field in which there had been no improvement for 22 years, and in which there seemed no talent or ambition, and none has yet been shown except in feeble imitation of our inventions.

2d. Before commencing the manufacture, exhaustive scientific investigation and experiments were made by a skilled mechanical engineer, in which over 3,000 dynamometric tests were made on 61 different forms of wheels, propelled by artificial and therefore uniform wind, which settled definitely many questions relating to the proper speed of wheel, the best form, angle, curvature and amount of sail surface, the resistance of air to rotation, obstructions in the wheel, such as heavy wooden arms, obstructions before the wheel, as in the vaneless mill, and many other more abstruse, though not less important questions. These investigations proved that the power of the best wind wheels could be doubled, and the AERMOTOR daily demonstrates it has been done.

3d. To the liberal policy of the Aermotor Co., that guarantees its goods satisfactory or pays freight both ways, and to the enormous output of its factory which enables it to furnish the best article at less than the poorest is sold for. For $20 we furnish the most perfect bearings ever put in a windmill, and have made an exhaustive revision of the Aermotor and Towers.

If you want a Rigid, stiff, Steel Fixed Tower—or if you want the tower you don't have to climb (the Steel Tilting Tower) and the Wheel that runs when all others stand still, (The Steel Aermotor) or if you want a Geared Aermotor to churn, grind, cut feed, pump water, run grindstone and saw wood, that does the work of 4 horses at the cost of one (!!!), write for our 100-page Illustrated priced catalogue showing every conceivable phase of windmill construction and work, to the AERMOTOR CO., 12... Michigan St., Chicago, or 1... Dearborn St., Chicago.

GALVANIZED AERMOTOR

It is not enough to make portions of a wheel of galvanized metal. It must be good as painting. The Steel Aermotor Tower are now galvanized after being completed, thus absolutely protected from rust and wear.

The Aermotor Pneumatic Water Supply System enables you to supply every part of your house with water without an Elevated Tank.

Harrowing despair is the lot of many, as they look back on lost, forever lost, opportunity. Life is passing! Reach out. Be up and doing. Improve your opportunity, and secure prosperity, prominence, peace. It was said by a philosopher, that "the Goddess of Fortune offers a golden opportunity to each person at some period of life; embrace the chance, and she pours out her riches; fail to do so and she departs, never to return." How shall you find the GOLDEN opportunity? Investigate every chance that appears worthy, and of fair promise; that is what all successful men do. Here is an opportunity, such as is not often within the reach of laboring people. Improved, it will give, at least, a grand start in life. The GOLDEN opportunity for many is here. Money to be made rapidly and honorably by any industrious person of either sex. All ages. You can do the work and live at home, wherever you are.
