Next Tuesday, our readers are all aware, is election day. We hope that as far as possible every voter in the county will present himself at the polls. It is important that this, as well as every county in the western part of the part of the State, have out a full vote. It will have a bearing upon our future representation, and will, also be something of an indication of the rapid increase of the wealth and population of Southwest Nebraska.

It has been currently reported that Dr. I. W. Tulleys, the nominee for Probate Judge, "put up a job" to secure a nomination; that the thing was worked up quietly and then sprung at the right moment, and a lot of other stuff as absurd as it is false. Dr. Tulleys did not seek the nomination, and did not even give his consent to those who wanted to bring his name before the convention. As soon as the nomination for Treasurer was announced, he left the convention, with the remark to several of his friends that he did not want the nomination. It was an act of spontaneous good-will on the part of his friends.

Whoever claims or states that there was any underhanded work in the matter is an unmitigated liar.

We have not a word to say against the private character or abilities of Mr. Lutz. But we oppose his election on ground of consistency. The great majority recognize and hold to the principle of conventions and nominations, and Mr. Lutz knows this as well as anyone. Notwithstanding, he prefers to try his chances as an independent candidate, with moral certainty of being defeated.

When you go to vote on election day see that the name of Isaac W. Tulleys for Probate Judge, is on your ballot, and don't be influenced by any misrepresentations to regard to him.

Vote for J. A. Tulleys for County Clerk, if you want an efficient public officer, one who will not only always be on hand for business, but will attend to business with promptness.

We have received a copy of the Plum Valley Times, a paper published Knox county, Ohio, which contains the following in regard to the Tulleys Bros., which shows the estimation in which they are held at their old home in Ohio:

BAINBRIDGE, Ohio, Sept. 27.

ED. TIMES—I see from reading the Red Cloud CHIEF, published in Webster county, Nebraska, that at the Republican County Convention recently held in that county, Dr James A. Tulleys was nominated for County Clerk, and Dr. I. W. Tulleys for Probate Judge. Both of these are excellent nominations, and both fight to be elected, and if they are as well known and their real merits as well appreciated by the citizens of Webster County, as they are here where they were both born and raised, there will be no doubt of their election, and the citizens of Webster county will find that in the matter of choosing county officials, in two instances, at least, they made eminently proper selections.

As I have before said, both of these gentlemen, who are brothers, were born and raised in this place. And among the great number of the young men of this vicinity, who have left the home of their youth to aid in peopling the Great West, I know of none more worthy of the confidence and support of the people in their new homes, and none whose success in life will give old friends here greater pleasure. CONSTITUTION

OF THE

WEBSTER COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

ARTICLE I.

This Society shall be known as the WEBSTER COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

ARTICLE II.

The object of this Society shall be the promotion of Agriculture, Horticulture, Stock-raising, and the Mechanical Arts.

ARTICLE III.

The officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and and an Executive Committee of six members, one to be elected from each voting precinct in the county, all of whom shall be elected at the Annual Meeting of said Society, and shall hold their offices one year, and until their successors are elected.

ARTICLE IV.

The President shall preside at all the meetings of the Society, sign all orders on the Treasurer for money, give the casting vote in case of a tie, and perform all other duties usually required of a President.

ARTICLE V.

It shall be the duty of the Vice President to assist the President in the performance of his duties when required, and to preside in his absence.

In the absence of both President and Vice President, the Executive Committee shall elect one of its members to preside, giving preference to its chairman.

ARTICLE VI.

It shall be the duty of the Secretary to record the proceedings of the Society, to receive all moneys and to pay the same over to the Treasurer, taking his receipt therefor, countersign all orders on the Treasurer for money, and to give notice of all meetings of the Society, and to correspond for the benefit of the Society.

ARTICLE VII.

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive all moneys of the Society from the Secretary, give him a receipt therefor, and pay the same out on the order of the President countersigned by the Secretary, and to account to the Society for all moneys received by him. The Treasurer before entering upon his duties shall give a bond in such sum as may be designated by the Executive Committee, to be approved by the President.

ARTICLE 8.

The Executive Committee shall be the Finance Committee of the Society. It shall meet on the first Saturday in May, of each year, and settle with the Treasurer, and attend to all the financial and other business of the Society that may come before it, to provide for holding the Annual Fair of the Society, to appoint and prescribe the duties of all superintendents and awarding committees, and to have general supervision of the affairs and property of the Society subject to the control of the Society.

ARTICLE IX.

All articles competing for premiums shall be entered in the name of the owner, and no article shall be entered for a first premium but once in the same class except in Sweepstakes, and no premium shall be awarded for an inferior article or animal where there is no competition.

ARTICLE X.

Any person may become a member of this Society by paying one dollar to the Secretary, and may renew the same annually by the payment of one dollar.

ARTICLE XI

This Constitution may be amended by a majority vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Society.

REGULATIONS.

The Fair Grounds will be open for the reception of all articles and stock on the first day of the Fair, at 8 o'clock A. M.

ENTRIES

may be made at any convenient time at the Secretary's office, at Red Cloud, previous to the opening of the Fair, and after that time at his office on the fair grounds.

1. All exhibitors must purchase membership tickets before making entries, a firm being regarded as one person, but only one member of the firm will be admitted to the grounds on the ticket that allows the firm to compete.

2. Articles that are the products of the soil must be entered in the name of the producer, and animals must be entered by and in the name of the owner of the same, and articles that are the result of mechanical or artistic skill may be entered in the name of the artist or contriver by their agent.

3. On the entry of each article or animal a card will be furnished to the exhibitor designating the number of the entry, the lot and class, and the name of the exhibitor, which card must be attached to and remain on the article or animal during the Fair. And no article or animal will be assigned a place on the ground until the entry has been made as above stated, and must remain on exhibition during the Fair.

4. No entry can be made after 5 o'clock of the Fair, except in case of unavoidable detention.

5. A single animal may be exhibited singly, as one of a herd or pair, and in sweepstakes, but shall not be otherwise entered in more than one class or lot.

6. Entries of Thorough-breds must by statements and copies of such pedigrees as are required by the awarding committee, and must be delivered by the Secretary to the awarding committee before awards are made.

7. Exhibitors are expected at all times to give the necessary attention to to whatever they may have on exhibition, and at the close of the Fair, to take entire charge of the same. Diligence will be used by the officers of the Society to prevent injuries, but in no case will the Society be responsible for any damages or loss that may occur.

8. Persons desiring space for the exhibition of articles not entered for competition can have it allotted by applying to the secretary, giving name of article and owner and space required.

9. All articles not enumerated in the premium list, will be entered in their appropriate class, and if found worthy will be awarded a diploma or premium.

INVITED GUESTS.

10. The officers of all Agricultural and Mechanical Societies, and members of the Press are respectfully invited to attend the Fair without further notice.

REFRESHMENTS.

11. All persons furnishing refreshments on the grounds are required to lay in their supplies before 8½ o'clock A. M., of each day of the Fair, and for that purpose tickets of admission will be granted for themselves and wagons, but precisely at that hour the grounds will be closed.

The sale or use of intoxicating liquors is positively forbidden.

AWARDING COMMITTEES.

12. Awarding Committees will be selected from various sections of this and adjoining counties, and notified of their appointment on or before the first day of the Fair, at which time they will be furnished with premium list by the secretary.

Members of awarding committees will report to superintendent of classes at 10 o'clock A. M. of the day that is fixed in the programme for awarding premiums on the class in which they are elected to judge.

No article or animal that may be deemed unworthy shall be entitled to a premium, but in all cases, where there is no competition a second premium shall be awarded to articles worthy of a premium.

Awarding committees will report to the Secretary as soon as practicable after awarding the articles on exhibition.

Red ribbons shall designate 1st, and blue ribbons 2d premiums.

SUPERINTENDENT OF DEP'TS

13. Superintendents of Departments will take particular direction of all articles in their respective departments, see that the articles and animals have appropriate places and stalls, and that articles are conveniently arranged for examination by the judges, as well as to furnish information relative to the exhibition. Superintendents not reporting to the secretary by 10 o'clock A. M. of the 1st day of the Fair will have their places filled by appointment.

14. The Marshal shall have charge of all police and public arrangements, and it shall be his duty to make himself familiar with the programme and see that it is executed.

15. Sale of stock and other articles may take place every day of the Fair under charge of the Executive Committee.

PREMIUMS AND DIPLOMAS.

16. Cash premiums will be paid as soon as possible after the awards are handed in and recorded. All premiums not claimed before the 1st of January after the Fair will be considered as donated to the Society.

The Diplomas of this Society will be awarded only to animals and articles of the highest merit.

An entrance fee of 10 per cent on the premium competed for will be charged at the time of entry.

A diploma will be awarded in place of a cash premium if the exhibitor desires.

Special premiums may be offered by individuals for exhibition of speed in horses, or excellence in cattle or other stock, also, in any other line of merit or display which is likely to prove attractive, of which due notice will be given through the Press.
