Olympic Athletes Will Meet in New York Wednesday

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Titanic disaster had a marked influence on the amount of funds subscribed for the benefit of the American Olympic team. So says James E. Sullivan, the American commissioner, in a statement made public here today.

In the midst of subscription work, Mr. Sullivan pointed out, the Titanic sank and a sudden check in the inflow of money was noted. Fortunately Colonel Robert M. Thompson advanced $15,000 toward defraying the expense of the trip to Stockholm, otherwise, Mr. Sullivan says, it "looked as if plans for the special steamer would have to be given up."
