THE CHIEF.

LOCAL MATTERS.

—Leap year.

—Girls do not let your chances.

—Like sunbeams pass you by.

—Read our communications this week.

—J. C. Farley keeps the boss cigars in town.

—Farm to let, at Cowles. Inquire at this office.

—Our legal friend, Ed Hawley, seems full of business of late.

—The Misses Sherwood favored the CHIEF with a call last Saturday.

—The Festival at the court house on New Years evening was a success.

—The weather, the last week has been almost as warm as the spring months.

—Mr. Mitchell, of the hardware firm is the father of another bouncing boy.

—O. C. Case, we are glad to state, is rapidly recovering from a severe illness.

—The Phelps Co. Pioneer has reduced its subscription price to $1.00 per year.

—For want of space an interesting letter from "Betsey" fails to appear this week.

—The "youth and beauty" of the town indulged in a Jack rabbit hunt on New Years day.

—Mr. Jones of Omaha addressed the Odd Fellows at the public installation at the Court House ast Friday evening.

—All persons indebted to the late firm of Morris & Westveer will please call and settle their accounts at the office of O. C. Case.

We met a sensible farmer the other day—he said that in the future he would buy calves instead of farm machinery.

—Dan Rice, the famous circus man was converted at the Moody and Sankey meetings in St. Louis recently, and has gone to preaching.

—Mitchell & Morhart have sold about three dozen "Westminister" and "Times" hard coal stoves, the present season and they have given universal satisfaction.

—When the next Legislature meets, the watchword of the influential republicans of the North-Platte country will be, "anything to beat Dawes." —North Nebraska Eagle.

—Stabler & Deisher have purchased a large lot of farm machinery for the spring trade and will be ready in a few days to supply all their customers with anything they may want in that line.

—A Guide Rock correspondent sends us the subscription price of the Omaha Bee and asks us to publish it. If the Omaha Bee wishes us to advertise its rates, it must pay for the same.

—The killing of quail became unlawful on the 1st day of December, the time for killing deer, antelope, elk and buffalo expired Jan. 1st. It will be unlawful to kill prairie chickens after the 1st of February.

—We have known all along that the most of the job printing of this and adjoining towns was being done at this office but we didn't know that we was getting all of it until the other paper came out last week. It told the tale.

—A Hastings preacher said: "The little good any of us can do must be done with our hearts thumping against the hearts of our fellow men." And every young woman in church looked at every other young woman, and smiled approvingly.

—That an editor should sell himself soul and body to Sen. Paddock for $20 as payment for a dozen copies of his paper, is not so much a matter of surprise to us as that the distinguished (?) Senator should squander so much money in a way that is so unlikely to do him any good.

—For the sake of peace we wish that some one would take a job of work to the Argus office. Such howling as was indulged in by the head of that establishment last week just because the business men choose to have their work done at the CHIEF office, is calculated to unsettle the nerves of ordinary mortals.

—Judge Gaslin informs us that the terms of District Court for the present year will be held in this County on the 23d of March, 29th of June and on the 4th of November.

He says that unnecessary delays in the disposition of causes will not be tolerated hereafter.

—The store of A. Garber, Guide Rock, was burglarized last monday night and over $30.00 in money, and an overcoat taken. The thieves effected an entrance through the window by prying up the sash with an ax. No clue as yet has been obtained of the whereabouts of the depredators.

—One of the orphan children lately brought out from New York was found by us on the streets last Tuesday night, crying bitterly, and claiming that he had been without food for two days. We provided for his immediate wants, at a restaurant. While we do not want to find fault with those who are supposed to have the care of those children, we would most emphatically state that in our opinion it would be far better to leave them in the orphans Home in New York, than to bring them to our county to suffer neglect and become objects of private charity, or county paupers.

We do not know that any one is really to blame in this matter, but we feel justified in calling attention to it.

MARRIED.

At Batin Jan. 1st. by Rev. J. A. Dixon, Mr. William T. Buschow to Miss Eliza E. Barrett. All of Blue Hill, Webster Co.

By permission of the Divine Providence, Bishop Andrews of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach in the Court House at Red Cloud on the evening of Jan, 15th, at 7 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

John A. Dixon Pastor.

—It is not news to the people of this town and county that the Argus was started in this town with the avowed purpose of "playing out the CHIEF." We smile when we think of it, and when we hear, as we frequently do, of the underhanded means that a few ignoramuses who have received justice at the hands of the CHIEF in times past—employ to injure our business, well, we treasure it up against a day of reckoning which is sure to come. At the present rate we estimate that it will take the Argus about four hundred and fifty thousand decades to "run out" the CHIEF, and then it will be further from the accomplishment of its avowed purpose than at the present time. We can but exclaim in the language of the Immortal Bard of Avon, "Lay on McDuff, and damned be he who first cries hold, enough."

COWLES ITEMS.

The Holidays passed off quietly.

Mr. Ringer is talking of building an addition to his hotel.

G. W. Brown intends to erect a fine hotel here in the spring.

A Literary society has been organized here, also a Base Ball Club.

Santa Claus presented Mr. D. T. Thomas with a fine 10 lb. boy on New Years day, Mr. T. is happy and his cigars smoke well.

We boast of the following mercantile houses.

Moon & Callender, dealers in drugs, dry goods and groceries.

Ward & Everett, Hardware dealers.

D. T. Thomas, dealer in groceries and agricultural implements.

N. D. Fox & Co. dealers in grain,

Templeton Bros. & Co., Lumber dealers.

Thrift is the order of the day, and everyone is confident that Cowles will be a large and thriving town in a few years.

LITTLE BLUE ITEMS.

E. Pettyes has just completed a new shop for blacksmithing.

A. Hoffman & Co. are doing a thriving business, holding their share of the trade.

Spencer Alexander is contemplating taking up his abode in Guide Rock, and going into business in that town.

Most all of our neighbors are making some substantial improvement which I have not time and space to name.

W. E. Thorne has put up a new wind mill to pump water for his large stock of cattle and hogs as well as for general use.

We are having fine weather for our Holidays, and enjoying ourselves well, generally, having but a very little sickness here this winter.

Mr. Henry Cook will be found at the blacksmith shop at this place, where as good repairs or new work can be had as in any other shop in this County.

John Wratten has more than he can do at his trade as carpenter and joiner. at present he is employed on the boxes for the new Wells P. O. which will be completed this week.

We have just heard of the death of our friend George Zeiss. His was a home for us after a long ride to town, and we all shall miss him much, We sympathize with the bereaved and afflicted family.

John McCoy is building a large and commodious farm house which is nearly completed, and is as great an improvement both to his large and well improved farm, and the neighborhood in general, as any that has occurred for some time.

We had a big wolf hunt New Years day, some seen, but none captured. We will have another the 15th inst. there will be a very large turnout, and lots of fun and I think some game. We cordially invite all sport loving men to join us in the hunt, with plenty of dogs and guns. There is fun ahead. We would like some of our friends in Red Cloud to join us in the chase.

We have laid off a fine site for a cemetery two miles west of this place and there is a great interest taken in the matter and we will soon have as respectable resting place for our departed friends as can be expected at this early day, with many graves marked with substantial marble slabs as grave stone monuments.

MORE ANON.

LAST Saturday we had the sad duty of following the body of George Zeiss to the grave.

It seems but yesterdy since the deceased arrived in this town then containing barely more than a dozen houses. Time has been rapidly speeding by and he who then came here in the prime of life, had passed the first decade of decay. Those who bore the coffin, and those who followed in procession surely and sadly indicated that Time is leaving its marks on all of that small band who six years ago commenced in earnest the building of Red Cloud.

Something over four years ago we followed to the grave the body of perhaps the brightest, most vigorous and energetic, one of the earliest settlers, the first county clerk of the county. About two years ago, the oldest of the half dozen farmers who settled in the immediate vicinity of the town, old father Brice, a pauper, yet the one chosen to read the Declaration of Independence on our Centennial anniversary, was carried to the Cemetarey.

And now George Zeiss, the proprietor and founder of the "Boys Home" has passed away.

Of that small number who identified themselves with the early history of Red Cloud, and have remained with us, the CHIEF thinks of none who have not abundantly prospered.

Those who were poor have since became wealthy and find thenselves in easy circumstance.

Those who were unknown and obscure have filled offices of distinguished trust and prominences.

And of them all we now recall only those three whom death has smitten.

Very appropriately and becomingly all of the older citizens of the town were at the funeral, and the oldest were chosen for pall bearers, and of them all we trust that there were none in whose breast there did not arise something of the old affection and friendship for whatever and whoever was associated with our early history.

George Zeiss the deceased was born on the 29th day of May, 1829, in Rulo, Saxony.

He came to Red Cloud on the 21st day of July 1873.

He built the Boys Home in 1876, and was acting as its landlord at the time of his death. He died on the 1st, day of January of the present year, at the age of fifty one years and seven months, of heart disease.

His death was sudden and entirely unexpected by his friends.

He leaves a wife and four children, probably out of the reach of want, if not in comfortable circumstances.

He was a kind and indulgent father, a popular and respected citizen.

He had a kind word and look for every one who came in his path, and an open purse for every object of charity or public good.

Probably there was none among us who had more and warmer friends and fewer enemies than had George Zeiss.

The name of his hotel, chosen by himself, expresses the old man's character. The "Boys Home" kept by the "Boys" friend was the most popular hotel in the Republican valley.

No man can do do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient or write a good article when he feels miserable and dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves; and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters

Now Is The Time to Subscribe to Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly

The January Number—commencing a new volume—of this very excellent magazine is an unusually attractive one in its literary and artistic departments. A new serial story of deep interest, entitled "Not Guilty," by Etta W. Pierce, is begun, and those who read the opening chapters will scarcely fail to follow the story to the end. The leading article, "Icebergs, and dangers Encountered at Sea," by Capt. Barrett, of the U. S. Navy, is replete with information and exceedingly interesting. "The Negro Exodus from the Gulf States," by Fred Douglass; "Dwelling House—Reform," by Geo. J. Hagar; an article on "De Talleyrand," and one on "Teeth" by Dr. Wilson, will not fail to attract considerable notice. The department of fiction is very attractive, the stories are by some of the most popular writers, and one by N. Robinson, telling "How Mr. Nobbles took his Bride and Mother-in-Law to Niagara Falls," with its comic illustrations, everbody who can appreciate genuine humor will enjoy. There are poems by Nellie C. Hastings, Rev. M. G. Watkins, A. A. Watts, etc: some admirable sketches, and an abundant miscellany embracing a variety of subjects. Notes of Travel, Fun, Science, etc., etc. There are 128 quarto pages, with about 100 illustrations, together with a beautiful colorred frontspiece, entitled "Maternal Solicitude." Those of our readers who desire pleasant and instructive reading should subscribe to FRANK LESLIE'S POPULAR MONTHLY for the new year. The annual subscription is $3; single copies, 25 cents, postpaid. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 53, 55 & 57 Park Place, New York.

Gaocers may say they have as good. They are mistaken. It is the best in the world. Try it. Most of the Grocers have it. Have the Gold Medal or none.

Pause, Ponder and Peruse!!

The invention of that superior and complete sewing machine (the "Family" Sewing machine), marks one of the most important eras in the history of machinery, and when we consider its great usefulness and extremely low price ($25), it is very difficult to conceive of any invention for domestic use of more or even equal importance to families. It has great capacity for work; beautiful, smooth and quiet movement, rapid execution, certainty and delightful ease of operation, that at once commend it above all others. The working parts are all steel, strong and durable, and will last a life time; the bobbins hold 100 yards of thread; the stitch is the firmest of all stiches made, neat and regular, and can be regulated in a moment to sew stitches from an inch in length on coarse material down to the finest, so infinitesimal as to be hardly discernible with the naked eye, and with a rapidity rendering it impossible to count them as fast as made; it has more attachments than any other, and it does to perfection all kinds of heavy, coarse, plain, fine, or fancy needle work with ease, and far less labor than required on other machines. It needs no commendation, the rapid sales, increasing demand, and voluntary encomiums from the press, and the thousands of families who use them, amply testify to their undoubted worth as a standard and reliable house necessity, extending its popularity each day. Machines sent anywhere to be examined before any money is paid. AGENTS WANTED by the Company. Address them for information, FAMILY SEWING MACHINE CO., 7 14-1y 755 BROAWAY, NEW YORK.
