NEW YORK STOCKS

Last Day of Year in Market Characterized by Great Dullness.

DEALINGS PROFESSIONAL

New York, Dec. 29.—With a triple holiday in prospect the last day of the year in the stock market was characterized by an excessive dullness and few price changes of importance. Dealings were altogether professional and represented to a greater degree than ordinarily the winding up of speculative accounts.

Public interest was evidently at a low ebb, even the bond division reflecting little or no inquiry. For the most part trading was restricted to the usual favorites, with marked pressure against the motors and their subsidiaries, as well as other specialties conspicuous in the depression of the last few weeks.

Utilities, notably the gas shares, tobaccos, some of the papers and leathers and many shares of no specific description, were irregularly lower, with moderate heaviness in rails. The only noteworthy feature of the latter division was the Wabash group, the new preferred "A" stock hardening on the declaration of an initial dividend of 1 per cent.

Equipments and munitions were somewhat mixed, Bethlehem Steel, however, rising 3 points, with 1 to 2 for some of the other distinctive war shares. United States Steel broke moderately at the outset, but more than regained its loss, closing at a net gain of 1¼ points.

Oils were consistently strong, with considerable activity in Texas company at an extreme gain of 15 points. Copper and shippings ruled firm to strong, the recent rise in Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies finding partial explanation in the October statement, showing an increase in net of more than 80 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

Central Leather, Baldwin Locomotive, Pressed Steel Car and a few others of the same class were materially better, the entire list being at the highest levels at the close. Total sales of stocks amounted to 750,000 shares.

Sterling exchange and marks were decidedly higher, but dealings in all remittances were nominal.

International bonds were stronger in the main, Anglo-French 5s recovering almost a point from yesterday's low record. Total sales of bonds, par value, $2,270,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.
