THE MISSOURI REPUBLICAN.

[illegible] stirring events which are sure to make memorable the last 1860—the recurrence of the election of President and Vice-President of the United States for four years—the extraordinary division of parties in that election, sectional in character, so far as one of them is concerned, and National and Conservative, as the other party must be, for it holds almost equal sway with the Black Republicans in the North, and is dominant in the South and the slaveholding States—these things excite in us a desire to extend the circulation of the Republican to every family in the Union, if possible. With this view we now send out this prospectus. In the course of political events for the last four or five years, we have failed to make out the [illegible] perfectly understood, we have been peculiarly unfortunate. We do not think we have, however. We have opposed Black Republicanism in every shape and form in which it has been presented to the country, and we intend to do so in the coming Presidential contest. It matters very little whether Wm. H. Seward shall be nominated by the party in opposition to the Democratic party, or that some sugar-coated candidate shall be presented in his stead, we shall be persistent and unflinching in our efforts to defeat such nominee—we view the preservation of the Union, and believing that the election of the Black Republican candidate will, if it does not ensure, its dissolution, we think there is reason enough to justify our course in the premises.

In the matter of the state politics, we shall take our own position on all questions as they may arise. We have been opposed to the Railroads yet unbuilt, and have advocated the grand system inaugurated many years ago. We believe they can all be completed by the exercise of sound judgment and the exemption of partiality when it is right and proper to do so. We shall watch zealously to see these great interests already [illegible] upon them retarded, by this Legislature, or such upon them retarded, by this Legislature, and shall hold those who are instruments in doing it, if it unfortunately such should be the case, to a just account before the people—all depends upon the completion of these roads, and we shall not be the originating down condemnation upon those who shall in their duty on this vital question.

We shall be for the People—sustained by them, and serving no other ambitious than to advance the interests of the State, and of the City in which we have all our lives—and equally watchfull for the preservation of the Union, and the respect due to, and acknowledgement of, the Constitution under all circumstances—the Republican will not fail in devotion to, and support of these objects.

As a newspaper, we shall labor, as we have labored, to make it equal to any in the country. We have correspondents at all points from which news of much interest may be expected, and they have always been faithful and industrious in the collection of facts. We shall add to this number whenever the occasion demands it. The Telegraph will also be put into requisition at every point where it can be used, particularly from Washington and Jefferson City, for the transmission of important intelligence.

We ask our friends to use some exertion to add to our already large and every day increasing circulation.—For a year to come, no man nor family in the Union should be without a newspaper. The Newspaper Press is the great Authoress in this country. More than the Pulpit, or the bar, or the halls of the legislation, they were instrumental in forming Public Opinion, and it is highly important that that opinion should be controlled and kept in proper channels so as to secure the perpetuity of our institutions, and the prosperity of the People. This is the great mission of the newspaper press, and in all things we shall endeavor so as to conduct the Republican as to make it conduce to that end.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.

MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY THOUSAND copies are now issued of each number of Harper's New Monthly Magazine.

This success, to which the history of Periodical Literature affords no parallel, has not been achieved and is not maintained, without a liberal expenditure of talent and money. The ample remuneration offered by the Publishers enables them to secure the best productions of the most accomplished Authors and Artists of this country, to whom at least three thousand Dollars annually for the Letter press and Illustrations of each number of the Magazine.

The careful and laborious selection from the rich literature thus placed at their disposal, the Publishers believe that they have produced and can continue to produce a more attractive and useful Magazine than has ever before been offered to the great mass of intelligent reading public. Among the regular writers for the Magazine are numbered the most distinguished American authors, but the Publishers refrain from enumerating a list of contributors, being desirous that the articles should be estimated by their own intrinsic merit rather than by the names of the Author.

Dakota City Oct. 22, 1859.

NOTICE.

To SHAREHOLDERS of Property in Dakota City, and others:

There have been several assessments made from time to time, to defray the expenses of the company, a large proportion of which has not been paid; and in case the same is not paid the resolutions of the company will be enforced against all who have not, or will not comply immediately. The books of the company have been kept in such a manner, that vouchers will have to be presented by those who have paid, that their shares may be properly credited.

One assessment was made, October 6th, 1856, for $5.00, one October 7th 15, for $5.00, one June 4th 157, for $15.00, one July 27th, 157, for $2.00, one September 4th 157, $10.00, one June 12th 15 for $3.00. Total, $40.00.

The whole amount of assessment on each share of stock of the Dakota City Company, and the shareholders will remember, that in the articles of incorporation, all the private property of the Stockholders is bound for the assessments made against the shares registered in his name, or that he may hold

And further:

At a meeting of the Dakota City Company held June 12th, 1858, there was a resolution passed ordering the President to give notice to all the Shareholders to pay the amount due within sixty days, or in default of payment all the stock on which the assessments were not paid in sixty days, from the date thereof, should be sold to the highest bidder, and the assessment paid; and the overplus if any, to be subject to the order of the Shareholders.

On the 23d day of August 158, there was another resolution passed, giving the President power to do what was most expedient in his judgment with the property and assets of the Company, to meet the liabilities of the same.

AND NOW,

By order of the President, T. ELWOOD CLARK, we give Notice,

That if the above is not complied with in sixty days, the resolutions of the company will be enforced, and all the stock of the company that the assessment are not paid on, will be sold to pay the liabilities of the company; as all the property of the city within the bounds, to wit: from Elm Street to Vine Street and from and from 6th street to 20th street, has been entered by the Mayor, and all outside that by Trustees; and the time for procuring warrantee deeds of those parties closes within six months from the date of their entry; and all the property not deeded will be forfeited. SHAREHOLDERS AND CREDITORS will take warning that on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1860, all the stock with all the property not then covered by deed in Dakota City, will be sold to the highest bidder, and the debt of the company settled up, if only a dividend is declared.

N. B. We would further say that those who have not obtained deeds to the lots drawn on their shares, can obtain the same by calling upon the Secretary and paying the assessment due.

THE GLOBE.

The Official Paper of Congress

I shall publish the Daily Globe, and the Congressional Globe, and Appendix during the next session of Congress. The Daily Globe will contain a report of the debates in both branches of Congress, as taken down by reporters, equal at least, to any corps of short hand writers in this or any other country.—When the debates of a day do not make more than forty-five columns, they shall appear in the Daily Globe of the next morning, which will contain, also, the news of the day, together with such editorial articles as may be suggested by passing events.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix, will contain a report of all the debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the Messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments, the Reports of Committees of Congress on important subjects of general interests, the Laws passed during the session, and copious indexes to all. These will be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages, averaging 2,297 words per page. The whole will make between 1,700 and 2,000 pages. It is believed that no book has ever been published at so low a rate. Last year I advertised in the Daily Globe for six months, and in about one hundred other newspapers, in the United States, a reward of $250, to be paid to any person who would produce a book published at so low a rate, and none was produced. The large number of copies authorized for by Congress enables me to afford the debates to subscribers so cheap.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix go free through the mails at the United States as will be seen by reading the following Joint Resolution passed by Congress the 6th of August 1852:

Joint Resolution providing for the distribution of the Laws of Congress and the Journals thereon:

With a view to the cheap dissemination of the Laws of Congress, and the debates relating to the true interpretation thereof, and to make free communication between the representative and constituent bodies:

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the present session of Congress, the Congressional Globe and Appendix, which contains the Laws and the Debates thereon, shall pass free through the mails, so long as the same shall be published by order of Congress: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorise the circulation of the Daily Globe, free of postage.

Approved, August, th 152.

TERMS:

For a copy of the Daily Globe 4 months	$6 00
For a copy for a less time (per month)	1 00
For a copy of the Congressional Globe and Appendix during the session.	3 00

Bank notes current in the section of the country where a subscriber resides will be received at par. The whole or any part of a subscription may be remitted in postage stamps, which are preferable to any currency except gold and silver. Where Bank notes under $5 can not be procured I will send two cobies for $5

A paper will not be sent unless the money accompanies the order for it.

I can not afford to exchange with all the newspapers that desire the Globe, but I will send the Daily Globe during the session to all who shall publish this prospectus three times before the first Monday in next December.—Those who publish should send their papers containing it to me, marked with a pen, to direct attention to it. The Congressional Globe and Appendix will be stereotyped, and therefore, I shall be able to send the back numbers for this session to all who may subscribe after the session commences; but if the first edition shall have been exhausted before the subscription money is received, I shall charge one dollar additional per copy, to pay the expense of putting the plates on the press. Subscriptions should reach me as early as the first week in December, to insure complete copies at the prices advertised above.
