Robert Armstrong, the fashionable hatter, has returned from an extensive and successful trip throughout the State. He disposed of a large lot of his most stylish goods.

J. J. L. C. Jewett left Saturday to attend to some mining business, by which he hopes to make a ten strike. We know of no man whose efforts we should better like to see crowned with success.

Sandy is Himself Again.

George Melville, alias Sandy, notoriously known in Omaha and the West, has escaped the halter. He was to have been tried in Colorado on the charge of murder, but as no witnesses could be found to be brought against him at the trial, he was accordingly discharged. He was interviewed at Cheyenne the other day by Mr. McNamara, who reports him to have been feeling jubilant over the failure of that prospective necktie sociable. Sandy is ambitious and wants to rise in life, but he don't wan't to do it in that way.

An Elegant Pet.

Fred Hirst, manager of the upper Farnham street Atlantic & Pacific telegraph office, received by express a day or two ago, from some unknown purson, a box, containing an elegant pet, namely, a bull snake, six feet and two inches long. One side of the box is glass so that the reptile can be easily seen. When the reptile is stirred up, it makes a noise like a buzz saw, and cracks its head on the glass. It is an elephant on Hirst's hands, and he is willing to present it to any body who will take it away. If he wants to get up a circus, it is suggested to him that he turn it loose on the sidewalk.

First M. E. Sunday School.

The teachers of the First M. E. Sunday School Friday evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

Superintendent, Samuel Burns; Assistant Superintendents, T. B. Lemon and C. L. Garrison; Secretary, J. W. Arnold; Treasurer, C. L. Garrison.

This Sunday School has just closed a very pleasant and prosperous year—the eighteenth year of its organization. It has 32 efficient officers and teachers, and 319 scholars, and has no indebtedness, with a balance of $206 in the treasury.

State Sunday School Convention.

This week, the 9th, 10th and 11th insts., the Annual State Sunday School Convention will be held at Nebraska City. A large number of delegates will go from Omaha. The railroad fare has been reduced to the usual standard—one fare and a fifth for the round trip. It is anticipated that the coming convention will be superior to any previously held in the State.

Run Off the Track.

Saturday morning about half-past 8 o'clock, the dummy train, while at Spoon Lake, ran off the track owing to the switch not having been set correctly. The engine and one car were ditched, causing a delay of nearly two hours to the transfer train from the east. There was no damage done.

MONTE ON THE RAIL.

The Gamblers Operating on the Chicago and Rock Island Railway.

Since the three-card monte men have been driven out of town, they have sought other fields where they can commit their depredations on the pocket-books of the unwary and unsophisticated traveler. A portion of the Omaha gang seems to have captured, as it were, the Chicago and Rock Island railway, and are now boldly operating on both ends of the line, without any interference on the part of the railroad officials or employes, who must be aware of this deplorable state of affairs. If they are not, they ought to be, if they are not deaf and blind. Hardly a day passes but what one or more travelers land in Omaha dead-broke, having been robbed out of their money by these birds of prey on this railroad.

Friday there arrived here three men who had been taken in and done for. One man, who was en route to California, had to sell his through ticket to the Union Pacific general ticket agent, Mr. Kimball, and return home, almost heart-broken over the affair. Another man, who was on his way to Denver, was obliged to do the same thing, and abandon his trip to the west; while the third victim of yesterday's monte transactions, found himself entirely strapped. He was coming to this State to invest his few hundreds in land, upon which to settle, but now he will have to give up all hopes for some time to come of acquiring a home in Nebraska.

The question is, how long will this business be allowed to continue on the Chicago & Rock Island railroad? Are its passengers not entitled to a reasonable protection from these sharpers? If the officers of the company wish to guard the interests of their road, and to keep it in favor with the traveling public, they must immediately drive these monte cappers and throwers off their line.

Mr. Wright Writes to Make Himself Right.

SARATOGA, June 6.

EDITOR OMAHA BEE:

In your issue of the 5th there appears an article with this caption: "The Worst Government," wherein Mr. Bechtel, the author, makes me use the following language while speaking at Waterloo last Saturday evening: "The American Government is the worst government the sun of heaven ever shone upon." The gentleman misconstrued entirely the spirit of my remark, which was to this effect: "That the American Government as conducted to-day exhibits the worst picture of self-government that the sun of Heaven ever shone upon; that we are ruled not by laws of the people's making, but by those dictated to us by purse-proud cromorants who, having made themselves rich at the expense of the public are not satisfied, but now are crying, "Give slaves, Give!" Far be it from me to even by a thought attempt to tarnish in the slightest way, the glorious escutcheon of our system of Republican Government. No, I am too thoroughly an American, but it is time for all true men, and especially young men of our country, to prepare themselves for the mighty struggle that is coming. Let them be up and working rather than be lulled asleep by the delusive tale preached to them by antiquated theorists, that better times are coming. The gentleman gives me some good advice, for which I thank him; I always listen to advice. Again, he seemed to wish for the opportunity of a discussion. He is on the right track; he has I know, the sound doctrine in his heart, else he would never have been awakened by any remark I might have made. Now instead of discussion, which is impossible, as there are not two sides to the question, let me here tender to him the use of my school-room, for any evening during the next four weeks, he may designate to speak upon the subject, and I will insure him a good house, and plenty of co-operation.

Hoping that he will accept the invitation, and satisfy a desire, which, as a teacher, an American, and brother co-operative, he must feel to be his duty in the premises, and that we may hear from him again, not through the press, but from the rostrum, his proper sphere. I remain with respect, his obedient servant, W. WRIGHT.

Deserters Arrested.

Constable Simpson and Policeman Thorn Saturday morning arrested a couple of deserters, and taking them to the Barracks they received the customary reward of $30 a piece for them. This would be a profitable business if deserters were plenty.

The Union Hen and the Honey Bee.

WRITTEN FOR THE BEE BY JOHN G. SAXE.

A Union Hen—the story goes—
Loquacious, pert and self-conceited,
Espied a Bee upon a rose,
And thus the busy insect greeted:

"Say, what's the use of such as you,
(Excuse the freedom of a neighbor!)
Who gad about, and never do
A single act of useful labor?

"I've marked you well for many a day,
In garden blooms and meadow-clover;
Now here, now there, in wanton play;
From morn to night an idle rover.

"While I toil and scratch at Redfield's,
My faithful nurse—the best of mothers;
You idly buzz about the fields,
Without the least regard for others.

"While I lay eggs, or hatch them out,
You seek the flowers most sweet and fragrant,
And, sipping honey, stroll about,
—I best a good-for-nothing vagrant!"

"Nay," said the Bee, "you do me wrong;
I'm useful too; perhaps you doubt it,
Because—though toiling all day long—
I scorn to make a fuss about it!

"While you, with every egg that cheers
Your daily task, must stop and hammer
The news in other people's ears,
'Till they are deafened with the clamor!

"Come now with me, and see my hive,
And note how folks may work in quiet;
To useful arts much more alive
Than you with all your cackling riot!"

MORAL.

The Poet, one may plainly see
Who reads this fable at his leisure,
Is represented by the Bee,
Who joins utility to pleasure;
While in this self-conceited Hen
We note the Poet's silly neighbor,
Who thinks the busy "working-men"
Are doing all the useful labor!

Spaun vs Kennedy et al. Leave to answer in ten days.

McCormick vs Wood; jury trial. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $1,326.32.

Adjourned until 9 o'clock in the morning.

The Grand Jury came in this morning and reported a number of indictments, which cannot yet be made public, as they have not been arrested.

They also reported that they had visited the jail and found it cleanly and well kept, so far as came under their observation; the discipline appeared to be good. "Your jurors, however, feel it incumbent on them to say, that the prison accommodations are not sufficiently entensive to meet the requirements of this county, and further that a basement prison, even under favorable circumstances, is not a proper and suitable place of detention for persons charged with crime, and certainly not for such as are detained as witnesses.

The basement under the court-house is old, decayed, badly ventilated, and in the opinion of the grand jury, unfit and unsafe for the confinement of criminals.

If it is within our province to do so, we respectfully recommend to the County Commissioners the early construction of a county prison, adequate to the necessities of Douglas County, and on a plan in accordance with the times, as to ventilation, sanitary regulations, and the physical necessities of its inmates.

Respectfully submitted,
WM. A. GWYER, Foreman.

The jury was then discharged.
