THE DAILY BEE.

OMAHA.

Tuesday Morning, July 17.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—The city council meets to-night.

—The base ball game was not to be called until 4 p. m. to-day.

—Postmaster Coutant intends to appoint James Woodard as assistant postmaster.

—The pic-nic of St. Barnabas Parish and Sunday school, announced to take place on Thursday is postponed to Thursday, July 26th, in order to unite with St. Mark's Sunday school on that day.

—Sadie McBride, the female policeman, was run in last night for drunkenness. She is also wanted on the charge of robbing a man of $48.

—There will be a union missionary meeting at the First Congregational church Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Moses Smith, of Detroit, Michigan, president of the Woman's Board of Missions to the interior, will address the ladies. All ladies of the city interested in mission work are most cordially invited to be present.

—B. F. Troxell & Co., steamboat agents, have received a dispatch from Sioux City stating that a steamboat will arrive here this evening en route for St. Louis, for which place she will receive passengers and freight.

—There will be a mass meeting of Irishmen to-night at Crounse's hall, corner of Capitol avenue and Sixteenth street, for the purpose of making arrangements for a reception to be tendered Hon. Patrick Egan, ex-treasurer of the Irish National Land League. Next to Parnell, Mr. Egan is entitled to the respect and gratitude of all Irishmen, and it is therefore but fit that every member of the Irish race should join in doing him that honor. The meeting will be called to order at 8 o'clock.

—This will be an important week in base base circles.

—Gottlieb Storz was arrested for assault and battery and his case continued to Aug. 15th.

—A man was beaten out of $30 Saturday at the depot by the old regulation confidence game.

—A complaint has been filed against Emma Tripp and Will Chambers for assault and battery.

—Charles Shiverick is advertising great bargains in fifty patterns of fine chamber suits that he is closing out.

—Frank Walters, Joe Barker and others are circulating printed petitions for paving the alleys with Colorado sandstone.

—In police court yesterday there were three disturbers of the peace, two of whom were committed and one paid a fine.

—In the district court yesterday the case of O'Connor vs. Cox was still on trial before Judge Neville. There was nothing up in Judge Wakeley's court.

—The petit jury has been dismissed by Judge Neville, except the portion now sitting in the case of O'Conner vs. Cox, which will be the last jury trial of the term.

—At the meeting of the Omaha Cricket club held last Saturday, the following officers were elected: Wm. Preston, president; R. Firth, secretary. The club proposes shortly to make a trip to Chicago, where they will play a game of Cricket with the Chicago Cricket club.

—Two females, who undoubtedly reside in "Hell's Half Acre," created quite a sensation Sunday in the quiet neighborhood of Sherman avenue. The couple were driving a team of spirited horses which could not keep up with the spirited desire and the volume of profane words, which they fired out all along the avenue.

—The three lodges of the Knights of Pythias in Omaha are making great preparations for the coming session of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska, which meets in this city on the 4th of September next. Arrangements are on foot for a parade of the order on the afternoon of the 5th. Many delegations and lodges from different parts of the state are expected, and several from Iowa.

—It looked like old times yesday to see judge Anderson presiding in police court, where he sat five years ago, when the BEE reporter first went there for news. A better judge than Anderson never graced the bench, nor one who could tell quicker what news was when he saw it and the newspaper men always appreciated his ability in that direction. This will partially redeem the reputation of chase's administration.

—The newspapers were well represented at Saturday's game according to the young man who holds the responsible position at check taker at the grand stand entrance. He very kindly informed the occupants of the grand stand that there were "Seventy-five newspapemen in already," this was when the city editor of one of the dailies entered accompanied by a friend, while the city editor of THE BEE, with a prominent state official, paid the regular fare at the gate and sat through three or four innings in the broiling hot sun. Honors are easy.

—Mr. W. R. McPherson, the Omaha architect, has just returned from Bismarck, Dakota, where he went to put in plans and specifications for the new statehouse to be erected at that point. He came in competition with architects from all points and at the outset seemed to have the advantage over all, his plans meeting with the greatest favor. He was ordered to go to work and make a detailed estimate for the board and did so, but meantime someone got in their work for a Minneapolis architect, named Buffington, who finally carried of the prize. It was no discredit to Mr. McPherson, however, and he received the congratulations of a his brother architects up there on his fine work. His plans were certainly beautiful and could not be excelled by anyone.

—Mr. W. P. Foster, western passenger agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, left for St. Louis last evening, after doing some splendid work for his company in this city. Mr. Foster is a genuine western "pusher," and he managed during his short stay here to give the Chesapeake and Ohio a big boom. His posters, with the views of prominent points on the road, adorn all the bill boards in the city, including Boyd's Opera House, the Academy of Music, etc., and his tickets are on sale in every office. It was Mr. Foster's first visit here, but we hope it will be but the beginning and that the many friends he made while in Omaha will hereafter see him pretty often.

A Correction.

To the Editor of The BEE.

I noticed that in referring to the concert on the hill on Saturday, you speak of the Musical Union orchestra as being under my direction. The musical director of the orchestra is Mr. S. Hoffman, I being the manager of the same. Please correct the error and oblige.

Yours truly, J. MEYER.

CURLEY VS. BOES.

The "Champion of the South" Finds a Rival.

A Crete Man Wants Him to Put Up or Shut Up.

About two weeks ago Jack Curley, the ex-champion pugilist of the south arrived in Omaha, and since that time has industriously advertised the fact that he was ready to fight any man in the Missouri Valley, with naked hands, London rules. The first reply to his challenge comes in the following, taken from the Lincoln Journal:

CRETE, July 14, '83.

Mr. Jack Curley.

SIR: I notice in the State Journal of July 13, that you challenge any man in the state of Nebraska for a fight in a 24 foot ring, under the London prize ring rules. I am willing to wager $1,000 to $5,000, as you are so confident of yourself. Please answer by return mail. I weigh 198 pounds.

Yours respectfully, J. C. BOES.

Mr. Curley left for Chicago on the afternoon train Sunday and before going stated to a BEE reporter that if anybody wanted to fight him, his address would be in care of the Chicago Sporting Journal. He said that he was ready to fight anybody at any place where the authorities would not interfere, whether it was in Nebraska or Louisiana. He thought the contests which had been gotten up here had given people the idea that all the fighters were "kids," that is, that there was nothing square about the matter and that all the fights were sold out beforehand. He stands ready to put up his money and fight any one who will face him, on the terms already published, and can be found by addressing as above.

LIGHT WEIGHTS.

Ed. Connors and John Files, two light weight pugilists from the East, who are staying in the city a few days prior to going West, have consented to give an exhibition at Turner hall garden next Saturday evening, and the set-to promises to be the finest of the kind ever seen in Omaha.

Connors hails from New York. He is the man who defeated the noted Black Diamond in a soft glove fight in Philadelphia. Files is from Chicago, where he recently knocked out Tom. Chandler in three rounds, and won the champion middle weight medal of Illinois. Chandler was the man who knocked out Captain Dalton.

A DOMESTIC CYCLONE.

Which Demoralized a 16th Street Barber.

And Created a Sensation in the Neighborhood.

The colored society of this city was in a terrible state of commotion for the last two weeks over the eccentricities of Mrs. Waddle, wife of the well known Sixteenth street barber.

Mr. Waddle, whom the reporter of THE BEE sought yesterday morning for an interview, was hard to be found, but the scribe while roaming round his shop struck upon Mrs. Waddle, of whom he did not ask a statement, but to his delight soon struck a neighbor who volunteered to give as much of the case as he knew, which is as follows:

Joe Waddle is a nice fellow and has lots of sympathizers. On the other hand his wife is a holy terror. About two weeks ago Joe's sister came to pay him a visit, and his kindness and liberality toward his sister excited the jealousy of his wife, who commenced to abuse Joe in the worst possible manner. As he is a good natured fellow he stood the racket until it got too hot, and one bright morning while he was at his shop Mrs. Waddle appeared at the threshold with a clenched fist threatening destruction and murder; alleging that he was treating his sister much better than her. Poor Joe as usual tried to avoid trouble, and slid out by the back door in the alley and was lost for a couple of days to his wife and customers.

A few days later two similar scenes happened and Joe followed the same line of conduct over, keeping away from home and business and in each instance returning with the hope that his better half would get over the excitement. But to his horror on Sunday last Mrs. Waddle appeared at the store armed in the true Indian style with Joe's own razor, a hatchet and a coal oil can full of oil. Here she made a dive for Joe who slid out by the back door, followed by his wife, to the alley where they engaged in a hand to hand fight in which poor Joe got the worst of it, for the simple reason that Joe did not have practice in the fistic art at which his wife is quite an expert. Before the pantomine was closed Joe got the coal oil can with the oil over his head, followed by bricks, sticks and every other imaginable thing that came handy to the hands of his wife.

After the battle was over Mrs. Joe appeared on the street, where she was received with laughter by the big crowd that had collected round; imagining that the bystanders were making fun of her she made an appropriate remark to the effect that if any son ——— made fun of her she would blow his brains out.

In the meantime Joe went on a dead run to Judge Anderson, who issued a warrant, had Mrs. Waddle was arrested, but as Joe did not appear before the judge yesterday she was released.

Joe has the biggest share of sympathizers, who claim that his wife ruined his business, from which he was forced to retire yesterday.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

A Special Meeting Held Last Evening.

A special meeting of the board of education was held last evening. Present: Messrs. Copeland, Conoyer, Gibbon, Livesey, Parker, Points, Specht and Mr. President.

The committee on teachers and text books made a report in favor of certain teachers. Adopted.

The following teachers were elected for the ensuing year: Carrie M. Hartley, Jennie McLouth, Ida E. Mack, Fannie E. Hurlbut, Annie L. Bloor, Lillie Parks, Lizzie R. Perkins, Nora H. Lemon, Emma A. Kendall, Hattie S. Roddy, Nellie Bennett, Josie F. Harper, Ross C. Eddy, Lottie Bunker, Ellen Sexton, Maggie McCague, Belle H. Lewis and Sarah E. Thompson.

The committee on buildings and property made a verbal report in regard to repairs on the high school building.

The committee on teachers and text books made a report requesting the superintendent to assign Misses Agnes McDonald and Emma Fitch to positions as teachers at the opening of the schools in September.

Mr. Gibbon moved that the salary of Mr. Larned be raised to $1,200 per annum. Ayes, Copeland, Livesey, Gibbon, Specht and Parker. Nays, Conger, Points and Mr. President.

Mr. Conger moved that the committee on buildings and property be authorized to have the old furnaces in the Central school building be put either in the Cass or East school building. Carried.

Mr. Specht moved: That the special committee be authorized to secure the lot adjoining the school house site on Seventeenth and Leavenworth streets; carried; ayes, 8.

Mr. Parker moved: That the salary of the superintendent be fixed at $3,000 per annum. Carried.

Committee on teachers and text books made a verbal report in favor of a teacher of writing and drawing at a salary of $900, and that the superintendent be authorized to contract with the same.

Chessman, York; Miss E. Livingstone, Fairbury; A. M. Rollins, Neligh, and Wm. Landon, Superior, are among the Nebraskans at the Paxton last night.

The Chicago Journal of July 12th, says: "Mr. S. H. H. Clark, general manager of the Union Pacific railway, accompanied by Judge Thurston and Col. A. H. Sellers, will leave this evening for the Neepeenauk club house in Mr. Clark's private car. At the club, where everything is lovely, including the fishing, Mr. Clark and Judge Thurston will be the guest of Colonel Sellers, who is president of the club. If they don't have a good time, it won't be Colonel Sellers' fault."

Thomas Maguire, the veteran theatrical manager, of San Francisco, passed through the city yesterday on his way home from the east.

Gen Howard and Lieutenant Howard left for Ft. Niobrara last evening on official business.

Mrs. D. Simon, Sam Simon, and N. D. Simon, of Portland, Oregon, are at the Paxton.

George L. Beadle, of the Western Union Telegraph company, is in the city on business.

Col. J. O. West, of Grand Island, registered at the Millard last night.

Rev. Geo. W. Wainwright, of Blair, is a guest of the Millard.

A. Packer, of Beatrice, was a guest of the Millard last night.

John Keck, of Ogden, registered at the Paxton last night.

Supt. C. M. Lawler, of the S. C. & P. R'y, is at the Millard.

F. M. Craig, of Kearney, was at the Millard last night.

C. W. Adams, of Central City, is at the Millard.

J. A. Stephens, of Ogden, is a guest of the Paxton.

R. S. Baker and wife, of Fairbury, are at the Paxton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bunce returned yesterday from a visit to Winterset Ia.

Mrs. A. Polack left for Manitou Springs, where she will meet her husband.

Vic Bierbower has returned from his vacation, spent at his old home in Sidney.

Mrs. Bushnell and Mrs. Edward Parker, of Quincy, Ill., are in the city for a few days, the guests of Dr. R. C. Moore.

J. H. McColl, Hugh McLean, and H. R. Faulkner, of Dawson county, were guests at the Millard to-day.

F. S. Potvin, the Lincoln contractor who has the contracts for constructing several of our new school houses, is in the city to-day.

Adjutant-General R. C. Drum, U. S. A. and Col. Thos. F. Barr, returned from Salt Lake this morning and are guests at the Paxton.

Mr. John G. Jacobs, the well known undertaker and coroner of Douglas county, will leave on Wednesday, with his family, for a three months trip on the Pacific coast. There is no public official who would be missed more by the newspaper men than Mr. Jacobs and while they wish him a pleasant trip they also hope for his speedy return. It is so seldom that he takes a vacation that we suppose it will have to be endured this time.

Mr. J. B. J. Ryan, an old Omaha boy and a prominent journalist, who has been at work for H. S. Reed & Co., of Chicago, for some time past in getting up their reviews of the principal western cities, has recently been promoted to the position of chief editor of the corps, with seven assistants. The firm is doing a fine work in Dakota, Colorado and Iowa, and Joe is to be congratulated on winning so excellent a position in their favor.

Depot for Supplies.

The Union Pacific, in their supply department, have a general storekeeper located at Omaha, and under him are three branch stores, located at Denver, Colorado; Armstrong, Kansas, and Laramie, Wyoming; and the fourth one is just being established for the Idaho division of the road at Granger. This store is to supply the Oregon short line and the Utah and Northern with everything used in the shape of lumber, iron, hardware, oil, machinery, tools, metals, etc., numbering in the list hundreds of articles. Mr. J. S. Gibson, of Omaha, has just been assigned to the management of this store. He was in the city yesterday and will probably bring his family here to reside, being attracted by the beauty of this city and the many advantages it offers as a place of residence, and its nearness to Granger, where he will do business. Granger is too barren and desolate a place for him to take his family. One object, we understand, of making Granger the location of this supply store is that the company are using large quantities of redwood lumber along the line, and this can be taken to Granger and then sent forward over the Oregon Short line without transfer. A building 29x100 feet is being erected for this store.—Salt Lake Tribune.

PARALYZED.

Overwhelming Defeat of the Sioux City Nine.

Coming Games in Omaha This Week.

Saturday's game between the Sioux City's and Union Pacific's, at the grounds of the latter, was witnessed by a very fair crowd and resulted in a one-sided contest. Only six innings was played, at the end of which the home team had rolled up no less than thirty-one runs while the visitors by very hard work, assisted by a charitable error on the part of Mr. Funkhouser, who relieved Baudle behind the bat, managed to get in one run. Such exhibitions as that of Saturday should not be dignified by the name of base ball and the only redeeming point in Saturday's fiasco was that it gave the U. P.'s an afternoon of practice. The score below should have the effect of confining the S. C.'s to the smaller towns and country fairs:

THIS WEEK'S GAME.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, the Port Huron's, of Port Huron, Mich., and the Union Pacifics meet at the St. Mary's avenue grounds. These games promise to be very interesting as the P. H.'s are the acknowledged leaders of the northwestern league and bets are freely offered that they will down the U. P.'s two out of three games.

Speaking of a game recently played at Sawinaw between the "Port Huron's" and the "Saginaw's," the Port Huron Daily Telegraph says: Yesterday's game at Saginaw between the Port Huron's" and the "Saginaw's" was one of the best games of base ball ever played on the upper peninsula, the score standing 2 to 1 at the close and errors only 2 to 1, both in favor of the "Port Huron's." Good weather is all that is required to insure for the lovers of our national game in Omaha three of the best games of ball ever witnessed in this city. The U. P.'s have been strengthened somewhat by a well known player who will probably appear in Wednesday's game. We append the names of players and their respective positions in Tuesday's game.

BENNETT'S BURGLARY.

The Fifteenth Street Grocer Falls a Prey to the Gang.

At some late hour Sunday night, the grocery store known as "Bennett's," on Fifteenth street, in Williams' block, was entered by burglars and a quantity of goods amounting to something less than $50 carried away.

Mr. Bennett left the store all right at six o'clock and judging from the appearance of things is of the opinion that the entrance was effected before or during the severe storm which took place at 4 a. m.

The shutter to the north window opening out on the alley was cut with a knife or sharp chisel, so that a hand could be inserted and the latch lifted. Then a pane of glass was broken, the bolt to the window sash drawn back and the window raised. All goes to show that it was the work of some one thoroughly acquainted with the premises. A small dog was inside the store but his barking was no doubt drowned out by the noise of the storm.

The goods taken consisted of cigars, jack-knives, toilet sets, etc., and does not foot up very large but Mr. Bennett offers $50 for the capture and conviction of the thief.

Exit was made through the back door and it was left standing wide open so that the rain fell in and drenched the floor thoroughly.

Free Evening Exhibition of Fine Art.

Mr. O'Neal, the well known artist will have his studio open all this week for a free exhibition. The work exhibited is that of his pupils and some of the pieces are remarkably fine. Mr. O'Neal and his pupils extended a cordial invitation to all lovers of art and all artists, to be present and they can be assured of a fine treat.

LIGHTNING STRIKES.

Another Cyclone Among the Union Pacific Conductors.

There were rumors in the air yesterday that there was to be another big cleaning out among the Union Pacific passenger conductors, such as took place a year and a half ago, and sure enough the rumor proved true.

It was stated to-day that every conductor between Omaha, Denver, and Cheyenne had had his head cut off but this was an exaggeration.

A Union Pacific official who was interviewed by a BEE reporter admitted that a number of their men were discharged but not all. Their places will be filled by freight conductors, who in turn will be succeeded by men from their own crews.

Real Estate Transfers.

The following deeds were filed for record in the county clerk's office July 14th, reported for THE BEE by Ames' real estate agency:

John Rush, county treas., to Ferdinand Streitz, deed lot 5, blk 458, Grandview, $1.28.

John A. McShane and wife to Geo. A. Coulter, w d lots 13 and 14, McShane's sub div., $1,250.

Patrick J. Mullen and wife to Henry Voss, Jr., w d lot 17, Redick's 2nd add., $575.

U. P. Ry. to W. F. Laing, w d ne ¼ of sw ¼ of acre 7, 15, 10, and lots 3 and 4, in 7, 15, 10, $334.77.

A. B. Rogers and wife to Michael Farrell, w d w 100 ft of n ½ lot 2, Harbach's 1st add., $1,500.

Minor Ballinger to Lucy L. Penny, w d e ½ of lot 9, blk 7, Shinn's 1st add., $800.

COURT HOUSE COSTS.

The Estimates and Amount Paid on the New Building.

The Progress of the Work Thus Far.

From the county clerk, Mr. John Baumer, we obtain the following figures, showing the amount of work already done and money paid therefor on the new county court house, now in process of erection on Upper Farnam street:

Amount of estimate for work done in the month of June, $5,682.72.

Fifteen per cent deducted, $852.41.

Amount paid, $4,830.31.

Total amount of estimates to date, $95,850.42.

Amount retained, per cent, $14,377.53.

While the above may seem a large amount to pay considering the fact that the building has only been completed to the top of the first story, it must be remembered that the basement is of solid masonry and that the vaults have been built as the work proceeded. There remains but one story to be added, and it is expected to have the building enclosed by fall.

An anonymous circular was issued on Saturday, making inquiries as to these figures, which THE BEE has obtained for the information of all concerned.

CAPITOL HILL.

A Splendid Open Air Concert Given by the Musical Union Band.

It is a long time since such a delightful musical treat has been given on Capitol Hill as that by the Musical Union Brass and Reed band on Saturday evening.

This band, an out growth of the Musical Union Orchestra, which under the able leadership and direction of Mr. Julius Meyer, has done so much to raise the Standard of Music in this direction, has been in rehearsal for several weeks past under the leadership of Mr. August Rohrs, formerly of the celebrated U. S. Marine Band. It was their first public appearance and they were greeted with a large audience of ladies and gentlemen, including some of the best musical connoisseurs in the city. That none went away disappointed is certain but there were many who were surprised at the success of the new organization and at the store of latent musical talent in Omaha which had hitherto remained hidden. This new band is a creditable supplement to the Musical Union orchestra and will no doubt rank high from the first.

The concert was a splendid one, the selections being the finest that could be made. The overture "Last spiel" and the horn quartette by Messrs Brandt, Rohrs, Schmidler, and Dolmann, were especially fine and the piccolo solo, "The Nightingale," by Mr. Julius Meyer, was a perfect gem and received its due meed of admiration from the audience.

It is expected that other concerts will be given during the summer and if so they will become the most popular of anything of the kind ever given in this city.

Sunday's Work.

At 9:15 the bible class met in the association parlor, fifteen young men being present, and nearly an hour was spent in studying a portion of the "Sermon on the Mount," many practical lessons being brought out. At one o'clock the committee visited the jail and the usual services were held—Mr. F. H. Bunday, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Mr. T. M. Marshall making short addresses. Much interest is manifest in these services, and before the close there were five requests for prayer. A large audience assembled in the association hall at 4 o'clock, where a song service, conducted by Mr. John Frees, lasting a quarter of an hour, opened the service. Mr. W. R. Bozard was the leader who, speaking upon the subject of "The Debtor's Prayer," showed the debt we all owed to Christ, who redeemed us from our sins. His talk was followed by a beautiful duet entitled, "Pardon, Peace and Power." Short talks by a number of the young men followed, when Mrs. Day, in her impressive manner, sang number 35 in gospel hymns, "All to Christ I owe." After the usual announcements the meeting closed, all feeling that "it was good to be there."
