Some of the democrats who have purchased reservations on the special train are going down just for the fun of it. They are not a bit worked up about the ticket, being prepared to support it, no matter who the nominees may be. They expect to sit on the side lines and watch Governor Bryan gyrate around, while Arthur Mullen remains in the background and does the real manipulating of the Nebraska delegation.

Jap Barrier Not Breach of Pact, U. S. Note States

Right to Regulate Immigration Lies Within Inherent Power of Nation, Declares Hughes.

own discretion with respect to the admission of aliens and the condition and location of their settlement within its borders," Secretary Hughes note continues.

Not Limited by Pact

It is at this point that the secretary, after noting that the president "would have preferred to continue the existing arrangement" with Japan with such modifications as seemed desirable, asserts:

"This government does not feel that it is limited to such an international arrangement or that by virtue of the existing understanding (the gentlemen's agreement) of or the negotiations it has conducted in the past with the Japanese government, it has in any sense lost or impaired the full liberty of action which it would otherwise have in this matter. On the contrary, that freedom with respect to the control of immigration, which is an essential element of sovereignty and entirely compatible with the friendly sentiments which animate our international relations, this government in the course of these negotiations always fully reserved."

Treaty Cited

Then the note quotes the clause from article II of the commercial treaty of 1894 with Japan which stipulated specifically the reservation of the right to control "the immigration of laborers" by law. It adds that when the new commercial treaty of 1911 was under negotiation this clause was eliminated at the instance of the Japanese government because of the existence of the gentleman's agreement of 1907-08 by which Japan undertook, on her own motion, to restrict such emigration to the United States.

Reference also is made to memoranda exchanged between the Japanese embassy and the state department dated October 19, 1910 and January 23, 1911, in which the state department acquiesced in the Japanese suggestion for elimination of the clause under discussion but with the stipulation that "the government of the United States does so with all necessary reserves and without prejudice to the inherent sovereign right of either country to limit and control immigration to its own domains or possessions."

Released from Obligation

On February 18, 1911, the embassy replied in a memorandum which stated that "the imperial government concurs in the understanding of the proposal relating to the question of immigration set forth in the above mentioned note of January 23 last."

Secretary Hughes' note points out that this correspondence constituted a "distinct understanding" between the two governments of the rights of each to control immigration, and adds that the advisability of dealing with the question by legislative enactment "necessarily remains within the legislative power of this government to determine," a power which congress now has exercised.

The note advises the Japanese government that since the exclusion provision takes effect July 1, 1924, the Washington government must consider the government of Japan as released from any further obligation under the gentlemen's agreement as from that date. It concludes with the assertion that recognition of the right of each government to legislate in control of immigration "should not derogate in any degree from the mutual good will and cordial friendship which have always characterized the relations of the two countries."

Kearney Council Plans Paving of Circular Drive

Kearney, Neb., June 18.—City council has passed an ordinance creating a paving district embodying the circular drive around the main buildings on the Kearney State Teachers college campus. Parking space is also at a premium when functions are held at the college and it is planned, after the driveway is paved, to provide room for parking cars on the west end of the grounds.

Pie, Bacon, Gravy in Divorce Tangle

"Episodes" Described in Mehrens Domestic Case; Wed Year Ago.

Peter Mehrens testified in domestic relations court Wednesday that his two apartment houses, the Conamore and Joyce, Twenty-seventh avenue and California street, are encumbered heavily with debts. They are worth $175,000.

His wife, Hattie, whom he married a year ago, charges that he has treated her cruelly. He denied this and said he kept her in much better style than she was accustomed to.

Both were married before and have grown children who were present at the hearing.

Three "episodes," the lemon pie, bacon and gravy episodes were testified to. Once Mehrens, who was a cook before he acquired property, made a lemon pie which burned in the oven and made him angry. Another time Mrs. Mehrens sent the apartment house janitor for some bacon and Mehrens told her not to do that. The other episode had to do with Mehrens' demand to have gravy with his meals.

Mrs. Mehrens was formerly Mrs. Hattie Lovejoy and lived at Fourteenth and William streets. Her first husband died in 1918.

"SLAIN" COUNT ALIVE AND WELL

By International News Service.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 18.—What at first appeared to be a film colony murder, based on a story told to authorities by Norris Nodler, 21, convicted gangster, that Count Miguel Escoto, film actor and Spanish nobleman, and who was declared to be an intimate friend of a well known screen actress, had been murdered, was blasted here early today when Count Escoto was found in a local apartment house.

Nodler's story was that the nobleman had been murdered and his body buried on the beach along the ocean near Oceanside, between here and San Diego. Authorities had searched along the beach for two days where the body of the count was declared buried, without finding it. Then Count Escoto was found here.

BROTHERHOOD OFICIAL GIVES TANLAC CREDIT FOR RESTORING HEALTH

Oldest Member of B. R. T. South of Ohio Keeps Medicine in His Family Medicine Chest.

E. Walter Trippe, 324 Healey Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., legislative representative Brotherhood Railway Trainmen, and oldest member of the Brotherhood south of the Ohio river, lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac, the medicine that has proved of such great benefit to him.

Mr. Trippe was formerly freight and passenger conductor of the Seaboard, W. & A., Southern and A. & W. P. He numbers his railroad friends by the score and is also a popular fraternal order man. Mr. Trippe has also served as assistant collector internal revenue, Northern district of Georgia, and is now a publisher and editor.

"I have not been without Tanlac in my medicine chest in 8 years," said Mr. Trippe, "but I have had two experiences with it that stand out especially in my history. Once when I came in from my run with my stomach all upset and my digestion just about wrecked, Tanlac proved effective and I began to swear by it. Again following an accident that kept me in bed for a long time and pulled me down to a mere shadow of myself, I turned to Tanlac and it built my weight right up and gave me back all the energy and strength I ever had.

"Not only has Tanlac helped me, but I know so many of the brother trainmen who have benefited by it that I often call Tanlac the railroad man's best friend."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

THIS WOMAN RELIEVED FROM SUFFERING

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A Remarkable Story

Dover, Del.—"I wish every woman would take your wonderful medicine as it has done so much good to me. I had cramps and faint spells and very bad pains. One day I was over to my neighbor's house and she told me I ought to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So I went to the store on my way home and got a bottle, and took the first dose before supper. I have been taking it ever since, and you can hardly believe how different I feel. I had just wanted to lie in bed all the time, and when I started to brush up I would give out in about ten minutes. So you know how badly I felt. I used to go to bed at eight and get up at seven, still tired. Now I can work all day and stay up until eleven, and feel all right all the time. My housework is all I do in summer, but in winter I work in a factory. I have told a good many of my friends, and I have had three come to me and tell me they wouldn't do without the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Samuel Murphy, 219 Cecil St., Dover, Delaware.
