THIS happy thought is chargeable to Henry Ward Beecher: "I have no sympathy for an eight-hour man with a fourteen-hour wife." It is respectfully submitted for the consideration of American labor.

OLD KING COAL combination is a very merry old soul at the expense of others. If he can't be regulated in his unseemly mirth by State legislatures, Congress will have to try to restrain his boisterous merriment.

COL. BOB INGERSOLL has temporarily discontinued operations on the line of theology, to become an impractical ranter against the pluck me system, etc. Some of the Colonel's recent speeches would indicate that his hand has lost its cunning.

AFTER yelling themselves hoarse over the "coal find," the Omaha papers have now come to this sensible conclusion: "Before we rend the air with hosannas, brethren, let us make sure we have something to shout over." The resolution should be unanimously adopted.

"ONE thing is certain," says the Louisville Courier-Journal, (dem.) "the president cannot afford to make many more mistakes either as to measures or as to men, if he hopes to stay where he is, and the democratic party can not afford to win any more victories and get nothing for them."

IT is related in Buffalo that a young married man of that city, going home very early the other morning and endeavoring to steal quietly to the spare room without awakening his wife, was fairly paralyzed by a clear, wide-awake voice, saying: "What was the limit, George?" She had sized George up.

GOVERNOR DAWES has removed Dr. Matthewson from the superintendency of the state asylum for the insane, the action, it is freely stated, having been precipitated by the continued and increased opposition to that official by the state board of public lands and buildings, against which the "bouquet governor" finally capitulated.

"LIE on McDuff and dam'd be he who first cries hold, enough," is the terrific translation of the hoary Shakespearian chestnut hurled at the Stratton Herald's stalwart editor by the religious editor of the Trenton Democrat, last week. The doctor entertains some hope of Ashwill's ultimate recovery; but, alas! poor Yorick, remorseless Morse mortuus est. Sic transit gloria mundi. Rodents!

Worse Than a Fire Alarm,

One of the most dreadful alarms that can be sounded in a mother's ear is produced by croup; dreadful, because it is known to be dangerous; the more dreadful because the life of a loved one is in jeopardy. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a never failing safeguard against this dangerous disease. Its reputation as a preventive and cure of croup is fully and firmly established. In fact, it is the only remedy which can always be relied upon. Sold by Willey & Walker and McMillan & Weeks.
