WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1891.

BOSTON had a $300,000 fire Saturday.

ELEVEN deaths from la grippe in New York Sunday.

WALT WHITMAN is extremely weak and may die any moment.

TWO men were killed over a dog fight at Huntington, Tenn, recently.

SPRINGER of Illinois was made chairman of the ways and means committee Wednesday.

A PASSENGER train jumped the track near Newcombe, Mo., Sunday, and a dozen people were severely injured and some may die.

THE new chancellor of the state university has set his stakes at a thousand students for next year. He seems to be doing very excellent work, and to be the man for the place.

GRAND ISLAND is having trouble with fire bugs. A building was fired Wednesday night but was quickly extinguished by the firemen. Everything pointed to incendiarism.

THE union depot officials at Kansas City had an exciting time with a lunatic on the Santa Fe train Tuesday. One man was badly cut in the leg with a knife in the hands of the madman.

THE police raided the Omaha gambling joints Wednesday evening but got nothing. Four places were raided, but the "games" had evidently been "tipped" as everything was as quiet as the grave.

IT is said that Congressman Kem doesn't propose to be silent, but has demanded a place on the committee on agriculture as the representative of the biggest congressional district in the United States.

JOHN G. ROBERTS, a wealthy Ohio farmer, 43 years of age, has not had a wink of sleep for four weeks and his case is puzzling the Cincinnati physicians. His health otherwise is good and he does not feel sick.

IT is said that the late Senator Plumb was a subscriber to every newspaper published in Kansas, and that he read them with interest and profit. In this way it was doubtless that he kept so well informed on matters interesting to his constituents.

NICK FOX of South Omaha brutally murdered his wife and then cut his throat, early Tuesday morning. He shot his wife in the abdomen, and she died several hours later in great agony. Fox is not fatally injured and will very probably recover.

TERRIBLE scenes were witnessed at the burning of the insane asylum at Pontiac, Mich., Saturday. There were over 1200 inmates and they were as unmanageable as horses, and indeed many of them used less sense. By only the promptest work of the officers was a holocaust prevented.

WALKER PETERSON of Creston, Iowa started out to see the sights in Omaha with $170, and a jag. He saw the sights, but could not his money when he woke up in a den on Capital avenue. He reported the matter to the police who arrested a couple of his companions who had more money than was usual for them.

A LAND slide occurred on the C. St. P. M. & O. Ry. near Sioux City one day last week and came very near catching a train. This was followed shortly after by another slide still heavier, which lodged about 800 cars of dirt upon the track. All connections at Sioux City were cut off and the traffic of the road paralyzed.

CHARLES L. UNCLES, a colored man, was ordained by Cardinal Gibbons, at Baltimore, Sunday, as a Catholic priest. This is the first colored man that was ever ordained or admitted to priesthood. He said his first mass early Christmas morning, and at the first of the year will be assigned to special work among his own race.

A COLLISION near Tarrytown, N. Y., Christmas, resulted in the death of eleven persons and the wounding of several more. The collision was due to the negligence of a brakeman who was sent back to flag a train. He fled and cannot be found. Vandals were soon on the scene of the wreck, robbing the dead and wounded.

AN artesian well near Forest Junction, Wis., just when a depth of 105 feet was reached, threw sand into the air two hundred feet into the air and blew the derrick and tools about in confusion. It gradually subsided and then spouted again. Over 200 wagon loads of sand were deposited about the well but not a drop of water was seen.

THE senate, Wednesday, confirmed the following appointments of foreign ministers: A. L. Snowden, of Pennsylvania, minister to Greece; Richard Shannon, of New York, to Nicaragua and San Salvador; Rumaldo Pacheo, of California, to Honduras; J. S. Burham, of Pennsylvania, to Hayti; J. Coughlin, of New York, to Bogata; F. R. McCreery, Michigan, secretary to the legation at Santiago, Chili; Lars Anderson, of Ohio, secretary to the legation London. L. W. Colby, Nebraska, was confirmed assistant attorney general of the United States.

Lecture Course for Farmers.

The university has established a short course of lectures—ten days—Feb. 16-26 1892, designed for farmers. For this course there will be no charges. Personal expenses while at Lincoln can easily be kept within a dollar a day, if so desired. There will be opportunity between lectures and during evenings for much reading; the university library is open till 10 o'clock p. m., and the reading room of the city library is accessible to all. The museums and laboratories of the university will be open to those taking the proposed course. If you think of attending, you had best enroll before Feb. 1. Address, "The Chancellor, University of Nebraska, Lincoln." Lectures will be given by Chancellor J. H. Canfield, C. L. Ingersoll, F. S. Billings F. W. Taylor, C. E. Bessey, D. B. Brace, L. Bruner, H. H. Nicholson, E. H. Barbour and others, on subjects of special interest to farmers or those contemplating farming.

THE Flail is as confident as it can be of any thing that the people cannot afford to go wild on the question of beet sugar factories. The experience of Grand Island and Norfolk is not of a nature to inflate the hearts of the people with a very great deal of confidence in the enterprise as a paying investment. The fact of it is the Norfolk concern is bound to prove a disaster to the city. That magnanimously liberal people encumbered themselves with the bonus so that they cannot liberate themselves for years with the best possible results. Merchants, who donated so royally, have handicapped themselves so that many of them must inevitably go to the wall in consequence. And what have they secured? Simply a whited sepulcher full of dead men's bones. The building stands there but for nine months in the year it will be idle and, if it does not pay agriculture better in the future than in the past year, that nine months will be increased to twelve. —[Fremont Flail.

WHAT a woeful thing it is to think of! 30,000,000 people in Russia in a destitute and starving condition. A recent writer says: "They are wandering advertisements of squalor, suffering from all diseases to which the famine stricken are heir. Their eyelids are swollen to monstrous dimensions; their faces pinched and withered and their whole body shriveled to human ghosts or shadows. Sometimes one meets them stalking silently through the deserted village with their tenantless ruins of burned houses, at other times they will drift into hamlets when, instead of almsgivers, they meet their own lean images still ghostlier shadows, of themselves and together they slink away to a hiding place which often becomes their last resting place."

NEBRASKA'S delegation in congress seem all to be at work, each in his own way, for the good of our beloved state. Senators Manderson and Paddock, being old members, have the advantage of experience and acquaintance over the members of the lower house, and have introduced a number of measures, some of which will doubtless be enacted into law. THE JOURNAL desires to give every may his due, and believes that Congressman Kem is equally as sincere and praiseworthy as McKeigan or Bryan. It is gratifying to see that he is doing something more than "make signs;" we could hope that he will secure that recognition which the growing interests of his large constituency demands.

CONGRESSMAN KEM is formulating two bills, one to repeal the law allowing the treasury to deposit public money in national banks, the other to provide that under certain conditions the government may purchase improved land and pay for the same in bonds bearing two per cent interest. Citizens may then rent this land from the government, the tenant acquiring an option and the rental money to be credited as payment on the land.

NEBRASKA NOTES.

Work has begun on a new hotel at Wayne to cost $18,000.

W. L. Hartwell of Plattsmouth fell off a high sidewalk and broke his collar bone.

J. P. Hensley, a resident of Grand Island, was killed by a motor train at Denver.

The B. & M. eating house at Hastings was almost entirely destroyed by fire on the 21st inst.

Henry Steele, a resident of Nebraska City, fell under a moving train and lost both his legs. He cannot live.

The good people of Omaha made Christmas a joyous occasion for many of the very destitute people of the city.

The bar docket of Antelope county shows one hundred and twenty-five foreclosure and confirmation proceedings.

Harvard people were treated to a mirage the other evening and saw the electric lights of Grand Island, thirty miles distant.

Diphtheria prevails at Neligh to an alarming extent. District court adjourned recently at the request of the board of health.

A call has been made for the state sheriffs' convention to be held at Lincoln, Dec. 29. Sheriffs-elect are also requested to be present.

George Kiley, an employe in the Blair Pilot office, had his arm badly lacerated by getting it caught in the machinery of a job press.

Dorchester had an $8,000 fire for a Christmas present. The insurance was less than $4,000. The village was not prepared to fight the flames.

Joseph Creekbaum near Ulysses attempted to commit suicide last week with a shotgun. He succeeded in badly injuring his left side and arm.

A farmer near Holmesville tried the experiment of raising peanuts the past season, and from a peck of seed he harvested seven bushels of goobers.

A young man in Blair chases respectable young ladies after dark along lonely streets. The local paper says that a word to a fool don't do any good.

On the night of Dec. 22d, the Farmers, Exchange store of Schuyler was entered by burglars and $200 worth of overcoats, clothing, handkerchiefs and gloves taken.

Claud Stock, the first white child born in Hastings, was drowned recently at Galena, Ill. On the occasion of his birth he was deeded a city lot by the townsite company.

The entire plant of Nebraska City's big distillery was destroyed by fire Thursday. The loss will reach $50,000, fully covered by insurance. It will be rebuilt at once.

A little child of Mr. Kincaid, of Gibbon, was put to bed Thursday night, seemingly as well as usual, but was found dead in the morning. The cause of death could not be determined.

George Wilkinson shot and instantly killed L. C. Dodge, a prominent resident of Butte City, in an altercation over some land. Wilkinson gave himself up and is now in the custody of the sheriff at O'Neill.

Bernard Hart, an employ at Cudahay's packing house, South Omaha, was badly scalded Tuesday by standing too near the boiling caldron. His flesh peeled off in many places, and he can hardly recover.

A student in the Lyons schools was attacked with a fit in the school room and nearly caused a panic among the scholars. He was revived after a time. His trouble is supposed to be the result of cigaretto smoking.

A Gage county man thought he could run the hotel elevator during the absence of the elevator boy. He fortunately escaped without injury, but his thrilling experience was almost sufficient to produce gray hairs.

Peter Larson, while operating a corn sheller near Tekamah, got several fingers mashed in the machine, and seeing that they were of no further use to him he took an ax and chopped them off, wrapped up his hand and continued his work.

The farmers around Madison have organized the Grain and Live Stock company with a capital of $15,000. The plan is to commence building an elevator as soon as the material can be procured and have it completed within thirty days, weather permitting.

A party of Bohemians on their way home from Madison stopped at a family named Franek's and producing a jug of alcohol proceeded to get drunk. The alcohol was turned into a water pail and Emil Franek, a young lad getting up in the night drank two cups of the stuff, producing his death in a few hours. An autopsy showed perforation of the stomach. The stomach was softened and honeycombed.

Treasurer-elect Bednar tells us that he may not accept his office on account of the bond required, it being set at $80,000. Under the new law the public money is deposited in the bank paying the county the most interest thereon, hence when the bankers do not get the free use of the money they do not sign bonds. Without them it is hard to get the necessary amount and Mr. Bednar wearies. His proposed deputy, F. E. Moore, is required to furnish the same amount and may experience trouble. —[Schuyler Quill.

It was an Omaha-Lincoln deal and the balance of the sugar-beet convention was a monkey show. Omaha lawyers and Lincoln real estate men who know about sugar only as they have used a little of it in their alcohol, talked glibly of the great benefits that would accrue to the farmer, caring much less for that individual than for the "hoss that totes him." It may have been a beet convention but it is certain that it was a convention of beats." While the above from the Fremont Flail is no doubt intended for sarcasm of the baldest kind, it is undoubtedly a fact that there is a suggestion of truth in it. It was not a convention made up of those farmers or others who had been so exceedingly successful in making money raising beets that they were anxious their fellow farmers should likewis see the benefits, and hurry into the business. It seems plain to THE JOURNAL that whoever makes money out of the beet business it is not those who cultivate them and sell them to the factory—it is somebody else.

Washington Letter.

[From our regular correspondent.]

The friends of Representative Mills feel that Mr. Crisp has added insult to injury by writing a note to Mr. Mills asking him to take the second place on the ways and means committee, instead of offering him the chairmanship, which, they say, he would have declined anyway. Mr. Mills, in his answer to the note of Mr. Crisp, declined serving on the ways and means committee, and said that he had no preference as to other committees. He will probably be made chairman on the committee on commerce.

There is quite a howl among the southern members because the chairmanship of the two most important committees—ways and means, and appropriations, are to go to northern men, it being about settled that Springer and Holman will secure these two plums; but the opposition will not give up hope until the appointments are actually made.

Senator Paddock has originated a scheme which speaks well for both his business sagacity and his largeness of heart, and Secretary Rusk has entered into a hearty co-operation with him to carry the idea out. It is proposed that the farmers of the great corn raising states of the northwest shall contribute a train load of corn, which shall be carried to Russia free of freight charges, and be presented to the starving peasants of that country, who, by practical demonstration, will then know that American corn is a first-class food product, a knowledge that we have been vainly trying to impart to them for a number of years.

Naval officials will not admit that a war with Chili is among the probabilities, nevertheless the navy department is taking the preliminary steps necessary to get in readiness for such a war. Not only have all of our available war vessels been ordered to the Pacific, but arrangements are being made which will give the department the control of a large number of merchant vessels at short notice should they be needed. Yet all this is regarded as merely precautionary, as those who ought to be posted are of the opinion that Chili will apologize as soon as she finds that we are in earnest.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A Little Girl's Experience in a Lighthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Trescott are keepers of the Gov. Lighthouse at Sand Beach, Mich., and are blessed with a daughter four years old. Last April she was taken down with measles, followed with a dreadful cough and turning into a fever. Doctors at home and at Detroit treated her, but in vain, she grew worse rapidly, until she was a mere "handful of bones."—Then she tried Dr. King's New Discovery and after the use of two and a half bottles, was completely cured. They say Dr. King's New Discovery is worth its weight in gold, yet you may get a trial bottle free at C. B. Stillman's drug store. 6

Wonderful.

E. W. Sawyer, of Rochester, Wis., a prominent dealer in general merchandise, and who runs several peddling wagons, had one of his horses badly cut and burned with a lariat. The wound refused to heal. The horse became lame and stiff notwithstanding careful attention and the application of remedies. A friend handed Sawyer some of Haller's Barb Wire Liniment, the most wonderful thing he ever saw to heal such wounds. He applied it only three times and the sore was completely healed. Equally good for all sores, cuts, bruises and wounds. For sale by Wm. Kearville. 11

A House Down Side Up.

Baby had a cold, Mrs. McGinnis said hot whisky, Aunt Katy said catnip tea, Cousin Em. said rhubarb was the thing, but Grandpa (heaven bless him) said Haller's Sure Cure Cough Syrup would take the cake, and it did. For sale by Wm. Kearville. 11

Baby cried,
Mother sighed,
