Armour's Buying of Leiter's Cash Holdings Steadies the Market.

WHEAT MAKES BUT A SLIGHT DECLINE

Corn and Oats Remain Unchanged, Pork and Ribs Each Record Losses, While Lard is Also Unchanged.

CHICAGO, June 14.—The reported buying by Armour of Leiter's northwest holdings, with the reported damage by rain in Texas, held wheat fairly firm today. July closed with a loss of 1½c and September ¼c. Corn and oats left off unchanged. Pork lost 17½c and ribs 2½c. Lard closed unchanged.

The flurry yesterday seemed to have cleared the atmosphere on the Board of Trade and today there was little to remind one of the disturbance except lower prices. The Leiter deal was generally considered to be dead and buried, so far as the trading in deferred futures was concerned, but the obsequies of the cash end of that remarkable speculation were still to be performed. Prices were not far from the closing of the day for the majority of sales, although a few sales were made at ½c improvement in September and December. July sold down 3c and September and December about 1½c each during the following half hour's trading. It became rumored before noon that besides buying from Leiter all the June wheat the latter had coming to him, Armour & Co. had bought all the cash wheat held by the young speculator in Minneapolis and Duluth. That gave a little tone to the proceedings in the pit. The gathering strength was increased when the rumor referred to received the substantial confirmation of the president of the Illinois Trust Savings bank. To complete the bullish combination, the weather was still wet in Texas, where much of the wheat is in shock, and it rained heavily in Kansas and other western states. Liverpool contributed a further item of bullish news by cabling that the wheat throughout east central Russia was threatened with total failure from drought, and that the worst was probable unless rain relieved the situation within a week. The Liverpool quotations were anything but bullish, giving clear indications of the abandonment of a threatened July corner in that market. July was 1d per cental, or the equivalent of 1c, a bushel lower this morning than it closed yesterday, but September was only lower by the equivalent of ⅛c a bushel and December 5-8c. July at Liverpool had recovered about 6c a bushel of its early loss before the close. Atlantic port clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 510,000 bu. Chicago receipts were fourteen cars, against fourteen a year ago. July opened at 78@79c, declined to 76c, rallied to 77½c, the closing figure; September started at 70 7-8@71½c, sold down to 69 7-8c, firmed up to 70¾c at the close.

The continued rainy weather and the more settled feeling in the wheat pit created a firm tone in corn. July opened 1-8c lower at 32 1-8@32¼c, sold up to 32½c, down to 32c, then up to 32 3-8c asked at the close.

After a weak start oats firmed up on reports of wet weather and talk of rainfall. Prices at one time showed a slight advance as compared with the close last night. July started 1-8c lower at 23 5-8c, sold down to 23 3-8@23¼c, rose to 23 7-8@24c and settled back to 23¾c.

Reports of an improvement in the yellow fever situation in Mississippi, together with light receipts and lower prices at the yards, had an influence in provisions at the start, which reacted later on selling by English packing concerns. Swift was also a seller. Pork opened at $9.60, sold to $9.70, declined to $9.40 and rose to $9.42½ at the close; July lard started 5@7½c higher at $5.82½@5.85, declined to $5.70@5.72, firmed to $5.72½@5.75½, the closing figures; July ribs began 7½c better at $5.47½ and declined to $5.37½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow are: Wheat, 70 cars; corn, 600 cars, 160 cars; hogs, 27,000 head.

Liverpool Wheat Market.

LIVERPOOL, June 14.—Operators in July red wheat at the opening today were nervous. The first business done was on 7¼d down, outside holders unloading and shorts selling more confidently. It rapidly lost 6d more, but rallied a penny before the call finished. During the morning numerous fluctuations ensued according to the strength of the buyers and sellers, but the panicky feeling was confined to the immediate opening. The total day's trading was not abnormal—150,000 quarters. Opinions here regarding the immediate future are not altogether unfavorable, as the stocks of tenderable wheat are still limited. Leiter is reputed to have contracts in Liverpool which are still open and traders are awaiting developments before closing engagements.

New York Wheat Market.

NEW YORK, June 14.—Contrary to expectations, the Liverpool market opened today fairly steady on late positions and with no loss decline on July than the collapse from the bull deal would seem to justify. The result here this morning was a strong opening with foreign houses, good buyers and local traders covering shorts. There was some reaction from these prices, but the market on the whole ruled very steady, closing from 1-8c lower to 5-8c higher; December was the feature, leading everything else in strength and for the first time this year passing the September. A more healthy condition of speculation was thus indicated and buyers would doubtless have been more prominent in the day's transactions had it not been for the fear of further liquidation in the adjustment of Leiter's accounts. Foreign houses renewed their export buying; many unfavorable crop reports came in from the southwest and from Russia, while the world's visible showed a week's decrease of 2,850,000 bushels. All of these served to offset in part the disturbing Chicago news and restrained further aggressive work by bear operators. The range on September today was from 76⅝c to 76 7-8c, closing at 74c; December opened 7-8c under September, passed it on several occasions and closed firm at only 1-8c discount; July sold from 87c down to 82¾c, closing at 83¼c.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Collapse of the Wheat Deal Results in Unsettled Speculation.

NEW YORK, June 14.—There was a disposition in speculative circles today to await the further progress of events after a series of testings by the professional element. There was evidently an expectation at the opening that there might be renewed pressure on the liquidation on account of the collapse in the wheat deal. The bears were prepared for such a development with considerable confidence, bringing about declines of a point in some cases. No heavy offerings were encountered at the decline, however, and prices had come back about to the opening level before the end of the first hour. Later in the day there was renewed selling on a large scale, which was attributed to the Chicago account, and this served to reawaken some apprehension as to the extent of the damage done to the financial fabrics by the collapse in wheat. This tendency of prices unsettled the tone of the speculation and resulted in a rather irregular drift for the rest of the day. The strength of Manhattan and Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis stocks and the firmness of Sugar and Tobacco on the later dealings helped to sustain the market. While the immediate influence of the wheat collapse is past, there are several considerations which served to keep alive the reactionary spirit. For one thing, there is some anxiety to find how the subscriptions to the new public loan will progress. If the bonds are taken by small investors the effect on the money market which may result is an unsolved problem. It is considered probable at all events that money will become dearer, though no actual stringency is looked for by any competent observer. The indications are for another thing that the heavy grain movement over western railroads has passed its maximum and some falling off in earnings is to be expected in consequence. The new revenue law in force today has one or two features whose effect on the stock market values is a matter for speculation. Prices of bonds yielded in sympathy with stocks, but losses were not large and there was no pressure of liquidation. Total sales, $1,840,000. United States new 4s, registered, advanced ¼ per cent; the old 4s, registered, ¼ per cent; the old 4s, coupon, ¼ per cent; the 5s, registered, and the 5s ¼ per cent in the bid price.

The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says: The stock markets here were stagnant today, the brokers being at the Ascot races. Americanns were dull, owing to about the lowest on the collapse of the Leiter wheat deal. This caused a semi-panic on the Liverpool Corn exchange and renewed rumors as to the solvency of some firms here. The Seligmans announce the details of the United States government loan and that they are prepared to receive subscription from here. It is understood that the Brazilian funding scheme recently detailed in these dispatches will soon be submitted to the bond holders by a council of foreign holders, acting for the Rothschilds, who presumably dislike association with Brazil's temporary default. The supply of American bills offered for discount is again large. The difficulties connected with the recent issue of Chilean treasury bills are in the course of arrangement.
