

COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL

CHICAGO.

Considering the hot weather which prevailed business has maintained a steady course. Commercial defaults seem to be few in excess of those at this time last year and are due mainly to the pressure of July settlements upon weak traders, but the list includes none of special significance in the effect upon credits. Money is in wider request for mercantile purposes and the banks are adequately able to supply legitimate needs besides preparing for the approaching drain of currency to move crops, but the discount rate may soon turn firm, increasing numbers and their collecting early delivery rate to substantial totals. Activity expands in dry goods, boots and shoes, clothing, furniture and food products, notwithstanding the advanced average in price lists, as compared with a year ago.

Conditions in the manufacturing branches show some of their remarkable strength. Hides and leather move more freely, hard woods are in better request and shipments are larger of hardware, plumbing goods, merchant iron and wares.

The total movement of grain at this port, 6,934,248 bushels, compares with 7,818,947 bushels last week and 6,928,120 bushels a year ago. Receipts are 35.5 per cent under those in 1906, while the shipments gained 117.7 per cent. Receipts of live stock were 298,329 head, against 260,908 head last week and 297,935 head last year.

Bank clearings, $237,746,030, exceed those of corresponding week in 1906 by 9 per cent.

Failures reported in the Chicago district number 21, against 25 last week and 16 a year ago.—Dun's Review of Trade.

NEW YORK.

Weather conditions still favor seasonable trade and crops, and there is no more than ordinary quiet noted in wholesale lines as a result of midsummer conditions and the rigors of the vacation season. Retail trade especially is turning out rather better than anticipated. One favorable development certainly calling for notice is the continuance of good reports as to collections. Fair activity, with firm prices, is noted in wool. Large sales are few. Conservative buying of shoes and leather is noted in leading markets.

In the leading industries there are some cross-currents. Iron and steel are quieter as a whole, with prices tending to ease, while copper is lower and stocks reported accumulating. In the shoe trade business is moderate. In the cotton goods industry production is of record proportions, but still insufficient to meet demands.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending July 18 number 177, against 185 last week, 188 in the like week of 1906, 165 in 1905, 190 in 1904 and 183 in 1903. Canadian failures for the week number 26, against 28 last week and 18 in this week a year ago.—Bradstreet's Commercial Report.

Told in a Few Lines. Germany alone sends to London annually 20,000,000 fenders of birds for military purposes. President Henry Hopkins of Williams college is to retire and Prof. Harry A. Garfield of Princeton, son of the late President Garfield, has been chosen to succeed him.

THE MONTANA LEGISLATURE.

The Statute Book, just issued, is a Mass of Riddleous Errors.

The laws passed by the last Legislature of Montana have been issued in book form by Secretary of State Yoder, and it is the opinion of lawyers and others that never before did a Legislature in any State have so many careless authors and incompetent enrolling and engraving clerks. The result is that Montana has some of the most ludicrous laws that ever graced a statute book. In fact, so numerous are the errors that the Secretary of State was impelled to put this notice in the fly leaf: "The within are exact copies of the enrolled laws as the same reached this office, and neither this office nor the printers employed in the work are responsible for spelling or punctuation." The effect, it is thought, will not be passing, as the Supreme Court, in passing upon laws, tries to determine the intent of the Legislature.

A bill was passed to prevent the sale of diseased meat, with the enrolled and engrossed copies thereof read "dressed meat." Thus, literally speaking, it is against the law for butchers to sell meats except upon the hoof, and if they obeyed it they would be compelled to drive cattle into a purchaser and dispose of them while alive.

A bill was passed relative to the measurement of hay. It provides certain rules for determining the amount "when it has been in the stack six months, provided it has been in the stack three months." The intention of the Legislature was to make allowance for shrinkage after the hay had stood three and six months.

Still another law requires building houses, sheds and hotels in plain sight of patrons and customers, when its intention was just the opposite.

Another law, dealing with the land question, refers to "parented" instead of patented lands.

A UNIFORM INDIAN RELIGION.

Indian to be given instruction that will not befuddle the Indian being arranged now by experts in the Indian Department at Washington, and is to be introduced in the government Indian schools throughout the United States. The Indian bureau experts to have the form ready for introduction by the commencement of the autumn term.

The new policy will bar sectarian influences from Indian schools. At present ministers of all denominations are allowed to practice their respective creeds in the government schools, together with attempts to convert the red man, however.

The result is that the Indian pupils become confused. They find the Lord's prayer read and printed in different ways and different constructions placed upon some passages of the Scripture. Henceforward, however, after the uniform religious code has been introduced, only non-sectarian exercises will be permitted. Each denomination, however, will be allowed to instruct Indians who desire to embrace a particular faith, but there is to be no more competition among denominations for converts.

All Indian tribes originally had a form of religious worship, which was adhered to with surprising persistency. The attempts to convert the red man, however, have been unavailing since the first discoveries of the American continent by white men. The first white man to live among the Indian tribes of this locality was a Spanish priest, who, with the intention of converting the Indians, came into this country with Coronado during the seventeenth century and remained with the Pawnees. Eventually he was tortured and murdered by the people whom he sought to convert.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

Purchase by the government of stock in some of the larger railroads for the purpose of obtaining representation upon the boards of directors is a plan which has been proposed to President Roosevelt, and which, it is reported, he is seriously considering. The step, which would be in the direction of government ownership, and which was first taken by Germany before that government acquired ownership of a railroad, can only be brought about by an appropriation by Congress of money to be used in the purchase of the stock. It is reported that should the President not make the recommendation to Congress at his annual message some of the Democratic leaders, those in harmony with Mr. Bryan's government ownership plank, will introduce bills proposing the appropriation. The advocates of the policy argue that government supervision can materially be promoted by having a representative of the government 'on the boards of some of the larger railroads.

Upon the advice of Attorney General Bonaparte, the President has instructed Secretary of Commerce and Labor Strauss to have the census bureau make a special enumeration of the proposed State of Oklahoma, including the present territory of Oklahoma and the Indian Territory, for the purpose of determining the distribution of population among the subdivisions into which the State will be divided should the new constitution be approved at the polls. The administration understands that this constitution would be likely to gerrymander the State favorably to the Democrats. The work on the new census is to be commenced as soon as the necessary blanks can be provided. William C. Hunt, chief statistician of the census bureau, will have immediate supervision of the work in the field.

The completeness of the restoration of "Old Ironsides," on which the Navy Department has been at work for some time, has lately been attested by the casting of the big guns with which the ship will be armed. There are forty-four of them, duplicates of the famous old pieces with which the Constitution fought its famous battle with the Guerriere. Each of them weighs three thousand four hundred pounds, exclusive of its carriage. The carriages are also faithful reproductions, made after old drawings and prints. When all the work on the Constitution is finished, the modern visitor who steps aboard will have the sensation of passing into another century in history and another era in naval architecture and equipment; and the chances are that no one will ever again want to "tear her tail and her ensign down."

Regular ambassadors and ministers to foreign countries are hedged in by rules, instructions and customs which sometimes limit their efficiency. Of late years there has been an increasing amount of neighborly visiting between the nations in the persons of informally credited representatives. Mr. Root, on his visits to South America and Canada, kept all the time the attitude of a friendly tourist with no business but to carry greetings and study the country he visited. This summer he is going to Mexico on a similar mission, and Mr. Taft will go to Japan. By means of these visits much can be done for diplomacy which cannot be performed by regular departments of state.

The treaty drawn last February between the United States and Santo Domingo has been signed by President Roosevelt at his Oyster Bay home, it having already been ratified by the Dominican Congress and the United States Senate. This treaty settles definitely the question of the collection of Dominican revenue and makes the island republic virtually an American dependency.

There seem to be very few deceptions upon which President Roosevelt seems it advisable to lay aside the protection of a revolver. His practice of carrying a weapon has again been advertised, this time through the discovery made by one of the Masonic functionaries to whom fell the task of tying the apron about the President's waist at the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic building in Washington.

Attorney General Bonaparte has made public a list of sixteen objections which have been raised to the proposed constitution of the proposed State of Oklahoma. The persons who have brought these objections to the government's attention regard them as warranting President Roosevelt in deciding that the proposed constitution does not satisfy the test of the enabling act.

When the King of Italy was told that a son had been born to the wife of Lloyd C. Griscom, the American ambassador in Rome, he exclaimed: "I and always believed that ambassadors were blessed only with grandsons!" Ambassadors, as well as Senators, used to be old men, but this all seems to have been changed. Ambassador Griscom is only thirty-four years old, and it will be many years before he is a grandfather; and there are many men in the Senate less than fifty.

Secretary of War Taft has ordered an investigation of the case of Lieutenant Colonel Charles G. Ayers, whose alleged criticism of army officers in a newspaper interview was understood to be connected with a dispute between his wife and certain officers at the West Point Military Academy.

The President has appointed Judge Walter Francis Frear of Honolulu, chief justice of the Hawaiian Supreme Court, to the position of Governor of Hawaii.
