Try Pheasant Casserole

By BLANCHE SPANN PEASE, Homemaking Editor

Have you ever made a grape pie? If you have, you'll want to try this one and if you haven't, well, you ought to try it!

RIPE GRAPE PIE

Two and one-half cups grape pulp and skins, three tablespoons melted butter, ¾ cup sugar, two tablespoons flour.

Wash fully ripened grapes, separate pulp and skins. Cook pulp slowly until soft. Rub through sieve. Combine sieved pulp and skins. Combine sugar and flour. Add to grape mixture. Add butter. Pour into pastry lined pan. Cover with top crust or strips of pastry. Bake in a hot oven of 425 F. about 25 minutes.

I made pickled crab apples, using this recipe last year, and we liked them. Maybe you'd like to clip this to use when you have crab apples to put up.

PICKLED CRAB APPLES OR PEACHES

Select firm, well ripened crab apples. Wash. Do not pare or remove stems. Remove blossom ends. Prick skins to prevent fruit bursting. Cook slowly until tender in a pickling syrup prepared as follows:

Four cups sugar, two tablespoons stick cinnamon, two cups vinegar, two tablespoons whole cloves.

Combine sugar, vinegar and spices. Boil 10 minutes. Cook until tender, a few at a time, in the boiling syrup. Pack in sterilized jars. Fill jars with boiling syrup and seal.

The above syrup can also be used to pickle peaches. You use firm, well ripened peaches. Blanch and remove skins. Combine with the syrup and proceed as directed for the crab apples.

It's nice to have a few jars for garnishes.

RED PEPPER RELISH

Twelve red peppers (chopped), 14 medium onions (chopped), two tablespoons salt, 12 green peppers (chopped), two cups brown sugar, four cups vinegar.

Cover peppers with boiling water. Allow to stand for five minutes. Drain. Cover with boiling water. Allow to stand for 10 minutes. Drain. Add onions, sugar, salt and vinegar. Stir until well blended. Heat to boiling and boil for 10 minutes.

'Slow Poke' Wins Prize Subscription—

Dear Frontier Lady:

At last I am sending the letter and recipes that I intended to send many months ago. But the old adage, "Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today," seems to be in reverse for me, and comes out, "Never do today what you can put off until tomorrow."

It will soon be hunting season again and so will send in my recipes for pheasant casserole and rabbit barbecue. I hope you and The Frontier readers will like them.

PHEASANT CASSEROLE

One pint boned pheasant, one can cream of mushroom soup, one medium onion (chopped), one cup water or stock, salt and pepper to taste.

Roll pieces of pheasant in flour and brown in butter. Add onion, cream of mushroom soup and water or stock. Heat. Pour all into casserole and bake 30 minutes in a 350 F. oven. You may top this with your favorite biscuits, if desired.

RABBIT BARBECUE

One rabbit (cut in serving pieces), one can tomato paste, one pint tomato juice, two tablespoons vinegar, two tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons flour, two onions (chopped fine), one teaspoon dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste.

Prepare rabbit for frying. Arrange on bottom of greased baking pan. Mix together the rest of the ingredeints. Mix the flour in the tomato juice and add to the mixture. Cover the rabbit with this and bake slowly 1½ hours or until rabbit is tender and sauce clings to it. Turn about three times. Very good either hot or cold.
