Boy Scouts for Surgeons at Toy Hospital While Camp Fire Girls Serve As Nurses, Needlewomen

Upper left: Miss Helen Housman, more familiarly kno wn about Camp Fire headquarters as "Pete," is an expert with the paint brush. Upper right: A basket of dolls as th ey are received to be repaired and made fit for further service. Lower left: Dolls after receiving the attention of the Camp Fire girls. Lower right: Mary Ellen Snavely, who fashions dresses according to the latest mode.

Several hundred Omaha kiddies are going to receive dolls and playthings on Christmas morning as a result of the efforts of the Camp Fire girls and the Boy Scouts.

Every day dozens of broken dolls and other toys are finding their way to the Camp Fire headquarters and they are being rebuilt and made ready for further service.

One good doll from the wreckage of three is a good average because where the head of one has been broken, the body of another is beyond repair and the wig of a third would be entirely missing.

Wig making, sewing, plastic surgery and painting are a few of the things that are necessary towards the rebuilding of the playthings.

Dolls, ranging all the way from the cheap ones that do not even go to sleep when laid down, to the more expensive ones that say "mamma," are among those donated by clubs and individuals.

In the case of mechanical toys, cradles, go carts and buggies, the Boy Scouts do the repair work and hundreds of these have been put in condition and declared to be "as good as new."

On Christmas morning the Scouts will be out, long before dawn and before they have received their own presents, driving away the clouds of disappointment in hundreds of homes and making the day a gala one for their less fortunate brothers and sisters.

Advancing Insurrectionists Reported to Have Lost Town of Kroya.

By International News Service.

Belgrade, Dec. 22. The upheaval in Albania was pictured in dispatches received here today as becoming less a one-sided affair favoring the rebels.

The insurrectionists, said these advices, have lost Kroya, which is to the rear of their forces advancing on the Albanian capital, Tirana. The rebels are striving to recover Kroya.

Fighting continues in the Mat district under the leadership of the former premier, Zogu Bey. His regulars were reported to have recaptured Trumcha-Flieu, taking prisoners.

London, Dec. 22.—The British foreign office dispatched a note today to the nations bordering on Albania. The note urged that these powers maintain neutrality toward Albania's internal troubles.

The foreign office denied that British warships had been sent to Albania.
