of the newspapers may be. Our great aim is to prevent any issue of the war from becoming a matter between the triple alliance (Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy) and the triple entente (France, Great Britain and Russia). Whatever discussions may have taken place between these groups, it is a fact that no official utterance on their behalf has been made.

"One thing is absolutely certain and that is on one wants war. On the contrary, we are all determined to have peace, and do you think a question such as that between Austria and Servia would be worth a general conflagration? We all think not."

Inquiries in other quarters add to the impression that moderate counsels are prevailing.

Reservists Arrive from America.

ATHENS, Nov. 12.—A body of 1,500 Greek reservists from America arrived today. A detail of 300 military police has left for Saloniki to police the city.

Practice Mobilization in England.

ALDERSHOT, England, Nov. 12.—A practice mobilization of the whole of the troops stationed at the military camp here has been ordered by the war office. The troops compose an entire army corps, with infantry, cavalry, artillery and the auxiliary services complete.

The troops at the Aldershot military camp are virtually always on a war footing. The command is the most extensive in the British Isles and the troops of the London garrison are attached to it.

The various arms are represented by twenty-four battalions of infantry, twenty-four batteries of horse and field artillery, two regiments of cavalry engineers, army service corps and medical corps. The camp is about thirty-five miles from London and the London battalions are dispatched there by railroad in case of mobilization.

Charged with Shooting Boy.

YANKTON, S. D., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Joseph Pecinka of Lesterville is under arrest on the charge of shooting the 12-year-old son of Joseph Bartos of the same town. The shooting, which took place Sunday night, was done with a shotgun, the charge taking effect in the boy's legs. Pecinka claims the shooting was accidental.

Letters of a Slim-Made Woman to Her Fat Sister

Seventh Letter: On the Fat Woman's Thimble-of-Water Bath.

Dear Sis:—Just out of the bath—invigorated—glowing and hungrily awaiting the dinner gong with the appetite and digestion of a stevedore. And such a bath as I had—you remember that before I took off that 90 pounds excess weight there used to be a tubful-of-me-and-a-bucket-of-water and that I had to put myself through several "rinsings" to get rid of the excess soap.

You know, sis, what a daily misery—and necessity—bathing used to be when I was fat. But now that I have gotten rid of that excess "displacement"—changed my name from "Ava Du Potse" to "Symmetrical Betty," I can not only take a real bath in real water, but can wash my own back.

Now, sis dear, don't forget to follow that harmless formula I gave you—you remember it is ¼ oz. Marmola Powder, ¼ oz. Cascara Aromatic and 8½ oz. Peppermint Water, a teaspoonful after meals and at bed time.

I beat you to slimness, but don't let me keep too far in the lead—and remember, dear, it will improve your digestion, your health and complexion and you can eat what you like, be as lazy as you choose and keep on getting thin. Give Marmola a persistent trial and in the end you will win as I did, your Slim Made, length the causes and events of the civil war.

BETTY.

LAY CORNERSTONE OF REBELS' MONUMENT

Justice for Rebels.

"The present," he said, "is the era not only of honors to the dead, but of justice to the motives and patriotism of both union and confederate soldiers."

Mr. Bryan praised the work of the Daughters of the Confederacy in erecting the monument, and lauded the spirit that prompted north and south to join in healing wounds caused by the war.

"Let this monument," he said, be emblematic of our nation's unity of aim and purpose. Standing on the line that once separated the two friendly sections, it becomes a bond of unity and breathing the spirit of Him who laid the foundations of a universal brotherhood, it will be to the country a promise of never-ending good will."

About the cornerstone as it was lowered into place stood Colonel Herbert, Mrs. Frank G. Oldenheimer, first vice president of the Daughters of the Confederacy; Corporal Tanner, and Miss Mary Lee, daughter of the southern commander-in-chief, obeRrt E. Lee.

Following the laying of the cornerstone work on the confederate shaft is to be pushed without delay. And officers of the Daughters of the Confederacy hope to unveil the monument before the reunion of union and confederate veterans at Gettysburg battlefield next July.

Sir Moses Ezekiel, the sculptor, has practically completed the design, in which a woman typifying the south extends a laurel wreath over the graves of the dead, while her left hand rests upon a plow.

DEATH LIST OF WRECK GROWS TO EIGHTEEN

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 12.—The total death list of yesterday's wreck on the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad at Montz, La., today includes eighteen. Seven of the ninety passengers who suffered injuries were in a critical condition.

Mark Cunningham, the brakeman on whose shoulders railroad officials yesterdey placed the blame for the accident, declared today he would not suffer for the responsibility of others. Cunningham claims that when he was sent back to flag the train it was only a few minutes behind the excursion train and that the collision was unavoidable so far as he was concerned.

The Interstate Commerce commission will be asked not only to investigate the wreck's cause, but to inquire into the refusal of the railroad officials to give information of the accident to the press and police until nearly seven hours after it occurred. Investigation of the delay in getting the wounded to the hospitals will be requested.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 11.—Ricardo Ascarate, son of a wealthy Mesilla valley rancher, is in jail at Las Cruces without bond, charged with the murder of his 15-year-old wife. The victim was found dead in the family home yesterday, with a bullet through her heart.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

George T. Wilson, manager for Browning, King & Co., and Mr. Charleville, children's clothing buyer, went east last evening on a business trip.

C. P. Howard of North Platte is visiting his brother, W. H. Howard, state auditor-elect. He is manager of Mr. Howard's ranch at that place and states that the western part of the state is in fine condition and is well prepared for the coming of winter, with plenty of feed for the stock. Cattle and horses are all in fine condition.

BUZZINGS

Translated the name of John H. Grossmann means "great man," which is not inappropriate to the lone winner on the democratic legislative ticket.

Fortunately or unfortunately the watchman and dog did not know they were scaring the dynamiters away from the court house when the "job" was pulled off in Omaha.

If there were any votes that missed Dr. Holovtchiner, the returns do not record them.

SIX KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Ton of Dynamite Set Off in Plant at Gary, Ind.

SHOCK IS FELT FOR MILES

Victims Were in Packing Plant Engaged in Repairing Machine When Accident Occurred —No One Injured.

GARY, Ind., Nov. 12.—Six men were killed by an explosion of 2,000 pounds of dynamite in one of the packing houses at the plant of the Aetna Powder company near Gary, Ind.

The dead include William Halpin, foreman; Charles Schmidt, C. O. Carlson and three unidentified workmen. A number of workmen were reported to have been injured, but officials of the powder company said this was incorrect.

The men who lost their lives were repairing a packing machine when the explosion occurred. The dynamite was loose in 100-pound lots on the packing trays and but for this the accident would have been much more severe.

A South Shore interurban train was within a few hundred yards of the plant, but no one on the train was injured, although the shock broke windows in the town of Miller, a mile distant. The buildings are sunk in the ground, only the skylight being above the surface, and are widely separated. This arrangement of buildings prevented complete destruction of the plant.

Noted Surgeons Wield Scalpel for Charity

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Nearly 200 leading surgeons of the world wielded the scalpel for charity in New York's hospitals today. In 171 institutions in the city clinics were held by members of the Congress of Surgeons of North America, gathered here more than 2,000 strong, for their third annual convention. As their guests have come eminent surgeons from abroad.

The operations covered a broad field in almost every branch of surgery. In many hospitals here unusual cases have been accumulating for days in order that the country's most famous surgeons might perform the operations.

There will be 100 or more operations daily until the congress adjourns Saturday night, or approximately 1,000 altogether.

WOMAN FATALLY SHOT AT ROSEDALE, KANSAS

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Florence Barber, shot through the abdomen last night while wheeling her baby along the street near her home in Rosedale, Kan., a suburb, cannot recover, physicians said today. Police and county officers instituted a thorough search for her assailant, whom she said she wounded with his own revolver in her struggle to protect herself and baby.

The police believe the assailant was a burglar who shot the woman for protection after she had seen him leaving a home he had robbed.

Continuous Stream of Hot Apple Pies

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 12.—The spectacle of a continuous stream of hot apple pies coming by means of an endless chain arrangement out of a huge oven at the rate of 2,500 an hour, and then given away to spectators, will be a feature every afternoon this week of the fifth national apple show now being held here.

According to a statement made by President R. E. Strahorn of the Fruit Growers' association today, the apple crop in the United States fell from 70,000,000 barrels in 1896 to 22,00,00 in 1899, but now is steadily increasing. The production this year, he said, is estimated at 45,000,000 barrels.

PLAINTIFF AND DEFENDANT HAVE THE SAME NAME

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 12.—"The case of Max Newman against Max Newman will now be heard," called Magistrate Clifford Mills yesterday.

Counsel for Max Newman, plaintiff, and Max Newman, defendant, full blood brothers, began in an effort to enlighten the court on which was one Max Newman and which was the other.

When the attorneys consumed an hour explaining which "Max" was which, the magistrate ordered that the two Maxes be designated as "plaintiff" and "defendant."

The magistrate decided for Max Newman, planntiff, who sought to foreclose a mortgage held against Max Newman, defendant.

The brothers had different names in Russia, but when they came to America each chose "Max," both refusing to surrender that name, even when implored by their attorneys who suggested expediency in litigation. Max will not speak to Max, his brother.

Murders Her Young Daughter and Then Tries Kill Herself

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—To take revenge on his wife, with whom he had quarreled, Charles Ross killed his 2-year-old daughter today. The child had been smothered to death. A note pinned to the pillow on which the child lay was signed by the father, who admitted his deed. The police were unable to find him.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Ella Crawford, formerly of Danville, Ill., murdered her 9-year-old daughter, Elenora May Crawford, and then made two unsuccessful attempts to kill herself at her home here today. The mother, said by the police to have become insane, drowned her daughter in a bathtub. The woman then attempted to hang herself, and failing in this, she struck herself on the head several times with a hatchet.

Mrs. Crawford then staggered out of the door and attracted the attention of policemen, who took her to a hospital.

Mrs. Crawford's husband was said to have died three years ago. She derived her income from Chicago and Danville real estate.

The first person whom Mrs. Crawford addressed after she staggered from the house she said: "Oh, God, I've killed my little Elinora. She's dead inside on the bed."

Blood was streaming from wounds the woman had made in her head with the hatchet.

Policeman and neighbors entered the house. On a bed lay the body of the child, clad in dripping undergarments. On a table in the room were two shrouds, one intended for the child and the other for the mother. Both were of white silk and the smaller was trimmed with lace.

Beside the shrouds lay a note telling of the use they were to be put. The note concluded:

"Put the body of Elinora between her papa and I. I always said she wanted to be buried beside him. Put me next to her."

Another element was added to the tragedy when the police learned that John Buchanan, 72 years old, father of Mrs. Crawford, and with whom he lived, disappeared yesterday.

STREETS BELONG TO THE PEOPLE, NOT AUTO OWNERS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The rights of the public against the reckless running of automobiles are defined by Judge Sulzberger of the criminal court here in a decision which holds that an owner of a car who occupies it when an accident occurs is equally guilty of manslaughter with the driver. Incidentally the judge notes that the streets of the city belong to the people and declares that the speed of the automobiles should be regulated "to the walking power of pedestrians."
