GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Influences Surrounding Market is Mainly of Bullish Character.

WHEAT SHOWS SOME ADVANCES

Cereal Climbs Higher When Supported by Buying from the Large Concerns Handling the Product.

OMAHA, July 3, 1914.

There was a strong desire on the part of many in the wheat trade to see an advance in values following the long drawn out price recession. They were helped materially by shorts covering because of the approaching holidays. The influences surrounding the market were mainly bullish, but some of the reports received from the liklihood of deterioration in the spring wheat country were far fetched indeed. There were half a dozen reports telling of deterioration because of red rust and black rust was reported from Wilmot S. D.

Charles E. Lewis, the Minneapolis grain man, in a message says there is no black rust in that country; that the weather has been unfavorable for the development of black rust; that it was nearly down to the frost line every night in June, and that in Manitoba there was frost every week during the last thirty days.

The price of wheat at Chicago showed advances of 1⅛@1¼c, and the continued buying of the July future made the close observers take to the bull side, not only in that month but in some of the others. Conditions suggest the wheat market at the present time are abnormal. Only a big scalp is intended but larger concerns now to be seen on the bull or long side, and there is a liklihood that the short will be forced to cover at losses. The strength shown at Minneapolis yesterday was a help to the markets of the entire world. Liverpool was up ½@1⅛d and this was on a lack of deliveries there and the covering by London shorts. The continent was a buyer of wheat at Liverpool with fears of the present political complications between Austria and Servia being tightened.

Corn was irregular and unsettled, with the nearby futures ¼c higher and the more deferred months unchanged to 1c lower. The room trading element in corn sold it freely and there were recessions two or three times during the day on this selling. The inspection question, which gave so much trouble to receivers and shippers on Wednesday seemed to be less confusing and the grading was more in the old basis than that earlier in the week. The shipping demand was only fair, total sales being 300,000 bushels. Local sentiment was still bearish and there is little doubt but what the market will again become oversold.

A much better tone was apparent in the oats market, with offerings well absorbed by a strong local elevator interest. The grain to come out was scattered interests. Rust reports from Iowa and Nebraska were numerous and more insistent.

The western packers were on the buying side of provisions early and this helped to advance values. Scalpers bought freely and there was some buying on short account.

Cash wheat was unchanged to ½c higher.

Cash corn was unchanged to ¼c higher. Cash oats were unchanged to ¼c higher.

Clearances: Wheat and flour, 506,000 bu.; corn, none; oats, 3,000 bu.

Liverpool close: Wheat, ¼@½c higher; corn, ¼c higher.

Primary wheat receipts were 557,000 bu. and shipments 1,016,000 bu.

Primary corn receipts were 510,000 bu. and shipments 422,000 bu.

Primary oats receipts were 605,000 bu. and shipments 585,000 bu.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Disquiet news regarding chances of black rust damage in the next forty-eight hours gave control of the wheat market most of today to the bulls. The close was steady, at a range varying from ⅝c off to ¼c up, compared with last night. Corn suffered a net decline of ¾c to 1c, and oats, a loss of ⅛@¼c. Pork finished 10c to 20c down, but otherwise provisions showed a gain of 2½c to 7½@10c.

There were emphatic denials of yesterday's reports that the dreaded black variety of rust had appeared at Wilmot, S. D. There were signs that the movement of the new winter crop would assume larger proportions next week.

Bullishness, which pervaded the wheat pit most noticeably in the first half of the day, received a good deal of impetus from a forecast of unsettled and warmer weather in Minnesota and the Dakotas, conditions likely to increase the danger of black rust. Unfavorable crop prospects in Russia counted likewise on the bull side.

A suspicious report on the progress of growth, especially in Illinois, pulled support out from under the corn market. Rural offerings were more liberal, and Argentina shipments in excess of what had been looked for. Oats sagged with corn, but hedging pressure was lessened and the shipping demand was brisk.

Unloading by longs brought about a setback in pork. Ribs led the rest of provisions in a fair advance.

CATTLE—There were not enough cattle here to make a market this morning, and as July 4 will be observed as a holiday the trade this morning partook largely of the character of a Saturday's market.

Beef steers of desirable quality have been in good demand all the week, with prices firm every day. As compared with the close of last week there has been very little change in the market prices; in fact, being almost stationary for the last two weeks.

Only a few dry-lot cows and heifers are coming forward and they are meeting with very ready sale at good, firm prices. On the other hand good grass cows and heifers which come into direct competition with low-priced grass steers from the southwest are around 25c lower for the week. Good cornfed bulls have been steady throughout the week, with grassers slow and lower. Veal calves are around 25c lower for the week, the best selling up to $10.00, which is $1.00 per hundred lower than two weeks ago.

Stockers and feeders have been in moderate supply all the week, but the country demand has been so meager that there has been an accumulation of cattle in the hands of speculators and yard traders. The tendency of the market has been lower, but in spite of that fact there will probably be quite a number of cattle carried over until next week.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice beef steers, $8.35@9.15; fair to good beef steers, $8.10@8.35; common to fair beef steers, $7.50@8.10; good to choice cornfed heifers, $7.25@8.25; good to choice cornfed cows, $6.75@7.50; fair to good cornfed cows, $6@6.75; common to fair grades, $3.75@5.75; good to choice stockers and feeders, $7.50@8.00; fair to good stockers and feeders, $6.75@7.50; common to fair stockers and feeders, $6.25@6.75; stock cows and heifers, $5.00@7.25; stock calves, $6.50@7.75; veal calves, $7.50@10.00; bulls, stags, etc., $6.25@7.65.

Representative sales:

HOGS—Supplies were moderate this morning, about 103 cars, or 6,900 head, showing up. For the week receipts total 45,060, being nearly 1,500 smaller than the same days a week ago and 2,000 short of the run for the five market days in the corresponding week last year.

Packers were very slow in starting out again today, but shippers and speculators were out early buying such hogs as they could use at prices that looked to be a nickel higher. Most of these early shipper sales were made at a range of $8.25@8.30. It was well along in the forenoon before killers finally started bidding at steady figures. In view of the fact that receipts were not very heavy and other markets were reported higher salesmen priced their holdings a nickel better. Buyers refused to raise their offers to any great extent and in the end the supply started to move slowly at prices that were no more than steady to a shade higher. Movement was very slow throughout and the market looked shaky at all times, as packers were trying hard to weaken values, but the bulk of the supply finally sold on the basis named, that is, steady to a shade higher than yesterday's average.

Bulk of the sales can be quoted at $8.20@8.25, with a fair showing up to $8.30, the top. As was the case on Thursday the longest strings landed towards the bottom end of the bulk, with some very common stuff slightly under the general range of prices. Trade has been rather uncertain all week, but the close of the week finds the general market abig nickel higher. After going up on Monday and Tuesday a reaction set in, and in the decline Wednesday a good share of the early advance was lost. Since then no very sharp changes have been made, although small gains were registered both yesterday and today. As is customary there will be no market Saturday, the Fourth. Such stock as is received will be yarded and cared for, but will not be

SHEEP—For good range lambs it was largely an $8.80 market, for in the neighborhood of eleven cars of such lambs sold at that price this morning, this being practically everything in the lamb division with the exception of the sorts. Prices were steady to a shade better as compared with yesterday and the sorting was about the same. There were 300 head sorted out of four cars at $8.50, 135 head out of about 700 lambs at $8.50 and 150 head out of a three-car shipment at the same price, the packers, as on Thursday, taking the feeder end as well as the tops of each shipment. The demand seemed very good, which was due to the light receipts of only some 3,000 head and to the fact that tomorrow will be a holiday all day for the killing gangs at the packing houses. While a strong tone featured today's trade sellers do not expect prices to hold up any better than of late.

A limited supply of aged sheep sold at steady prices. The early sales included a load of Idaho ewes at $4.60. The movement had fair activity and the clearance was seasonable. For the week prices are quotably 20@25c lower on lambs, 10@20c lower on yearlings, wethers and ewes. Receipts have been liberal most of the week and while there has been a little decline in values the market on most days has been fairly active, indicating a very good trade for this time of the year.

Quotations on range sheep and lambs: Lambs, good to choice, $8.75@9.00; lambs, fair to good, $8.50@8.75; lambs, feeders, $5.75@6.50, yearlings, good to choice, $6.75@6.90; yearlings, fair to good, $6.00@6.50; wethers, good to choice, $5.35@5.60; wethers, fair to good, $5.25@5.35; ewes, good to choice, $4.50@4.80; ewes, fair to good, $4.25@4.50.
