MOREHEAD READY FOR WAR

Governor Addresses Guard Officers in Martial Strain.

CONFLICT WITH MEXICO SURE

Wants United States to Abandon Philippines and Advises the Militia to Keep Out of Politics.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, July 20.—(Special.)—That war with Mexico is inevitable; that the United States should withdraw from the Philippines and that the Nebraska National guard should stay out of politics, were the three things emphasized by Governor Morehead at a banquet and smoker given at the guard armory last evening by Adjutant General Hall to visiting officers of the guard in which the governor, state auditor, several appointees of the governor and newspaper men were invited guests.

The remarks of the governor in which he advised the members of the guard to stay out of politics were doubly significant inasmuch as at a meeting of the guard officers during the day there had been a very strong sentiment in favor of the guard taking an organized stand against the referendum on the appropriation for a memorial armory at Nebraska City. The governor said he thought it would be a mistake for the guard to take any stand on the proposition for fear it might tend to make opposition to the militia.

Praise for General Hall.

Governor Morehead spoke very enthusiastically of the work done by the guard during the time of the tornado. Major A. H. Hollingsworth of Beatrice said that had General Hall had the press bureau behind him that Colonel Roosevelt had in Cuba or General Funston in the Philippine islands, he would have received the credit due him and which he was entitled to. Major Hollingsworth was strong in his assertions that the newspapers of Omaha did not give General Hall the credit he should have received and he said that a large number of people in Omaha today give the credit for the good work done to the regulars, not even knowing in many instances that it was the guard which was doing the most efficient work under the direction of General Philip L. Hall, jr.

Other speakers were: Dr. Hall, father of General Hall; Private Secretary Morrissey, Auditor Howard, Insurance Commissioner Charles Clancy, Labor Commissioner Charles Pool, Captain A. M. Trimbel of the Grand Army of the Republic, General Hall and one or two others. Major Haysel acted as toastmaster.

Increased Assessment Roll.

Eighty-five counties have so far reported to Secretary Seymour of the State Board of Assessment and nearly all of them show a substantial gain over the assessment of 1912. Douglas county swells the increase with the very fine showing of $1,234,675 above that of last year, while Lancaster county increases its assessment by $475,975. Gage and Saunders counties are among those which have not yet reported, both counties last year showing an assessed valuation of over $10,000,000, being with Douglas and Lancaster the only four counties running their assessment into eight figures. Nine counties show a dropping off in their assessed valuation so far reporting. These are Boone, Box Butte, Butler, Clay, Howard, Kimball, Nance, Saline and Sherman.

Douglas county showed up tremendously in spite of the great damage done to property by the tornado. Lots in the city of Omaha show an increased valuation of over half a million from last year. In fact, everything in Douglas county met with a boost over last year.

The eighty-five counties reporting show an increase in assessed valuation of over $7,000,000. The total assessment roll so far is shown to be $423,944,845. It is expected that the seven counties not yet reporting will be in in a few days and then the exact increase can be given.

Save the Horses.

The College of Agriculture of Nebraska has prepared a bulletin which it is sending out which if followed thousands of dollars in horses may be saved this hot weather. Among other things, it says:

"Water should be taken to the field and the horses given drinks throughout the hotter part of the day. Water is just as necessary for animals as it is for men, the announcements say. Though this seems a little bother, it will mean the saving of much money and will well pay for the time spent. Horses that do not seem to stand the heat well may be helped by pouring a little cold water over their spinal column. Should the animal fall over take the others away that it may have all the air possible. As a stimulant which is recommended to revive overheated horses the college says that six ounces of whiskey in a pint of water is good, or one-half ounce of ammonia in a pint of water. Rubbing the limbs with camphor is also beneficial."

Hog Cholera Serum Cheaper.

The use of hog cholera serum is now within the reach of every hog breeder in Nebraska according to the following article by Dr. Gain of the state farm:

"July 1 the price of hog cholera serum and virus was reduced to 1 cent per cubic centimeter. This is less than serum is sold for in any state in the corn belt. This si made possible by the liberality of the last legislature appropriating $15,000 for the work in serum production and also an additional $15,000 as a subsidy for serum not used. Owing to the possible deterioration of serum through standing in the sun or in other places where it is subject to high temperatures this ruling is made necessary. We do this for the protection of the users of serum."

BEATRICE, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—The thirteenth annual picnic of the old settlers of Barneston will be held on August 20 and 21. A good program is being prepared for the occasion.

Mrs. Oliver Mason, the chiropractor at Filley, who was arrested recently on the charge of practicing medicine without having first secured a certificate from the State Board of Health, appeared before Judge Walden Friday and pleaded guilty. She was fined $50 and costs. The charge against her husband, which was a similar one, was dismissed.

H. E. Arthur, manager of the Hoag elevator, yesterday reported that he has purchased 30,000 bushels of wheat since the new grain was out. The wheat in that locality is averaging from twenty-five to thirty-five bushels to the acre.

NEWS FROM BRIDGEPORT AND MORRILL COUNTY

BRIDGEPORT, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—The days set for the old soldiers and settlers' reunion will be held in Bridgeport August 13-15. Governor J. H. Morehead, Judge H. M. Grimes of North Platte and Judge L. G. Hurd of Harvard are among the prominent speakers who are expected. Preparations are being made for an excellent program to entertain the old soldiers and their friends.

Three heavy rains during the last three days broke the drouth here, much to the delight of farmers and people in general. The headgates of nearly all irrigating canals in the valley were closed up to that time by order of the State Board of Irrigation; but yesterday the water commissioner reopened them. The bounteous rains furnished a good supply of water for the North Platte river, which was very low.

A washout occurred Friday at the government dam at Whalen, three spans of the railroad bridge being washed out. Much work will be required before traffic can be resumed on the Bridgeport-Guernsey line.

Twenty feet of the roadbed of the Burlington was washed out Friday about six miles east of here. The rails were left about eighteen inches above the grade. Passenger train No. 202 passed safely over, only the rails holding the train up.

News from Osceola.

OSCEOLA, Neb., July 20.—(Special.)—The Osceola chautauqua opens on Monday and will continue over until July 28. Bishop McIntyre is to be here for the opening day.

Prospects are very flattering at this time for a good big corn crop in Polk county. The rains of the last two days have about taken the crop out of danger and with reasonably good weather during the coming weeks the yield will be equal to that of any recent year. Wheat, oats and alfalfa are the best that has been had for ten years.

REPUBLICANS OF SOUTH DAKOTA TO GET TOGETHER

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., July 20.—(Special.)—Everything indicates that several thousand republicans, representing all parts of the state, will attend the big get-together republican convention which is to be held in Sioux Falls next Friday for the purpose of reorganizing the republican party of the state an dending the factional strife within the party.

While it chanced that most of the signers of the call for the convention are men who during the last campaign have been identified with the stalwart faction of the republicans, the great majority of progressive republicans an dnewspapers give their approval to the convention and are urging that republicans of the state, without regard to factional affiliations of the past, turn out and attend it.

GRANT WEDDING TOOK PLACE WEEK AGO

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 20.—The wedding of U. S. Grant, jr., of this city and Mrs. America Workman Will of Los Angeles, which was to have taken place at 7 o'clock last evening, did not take place. Instead of a wedding, it was announced to those present at the time that the marriage ceremony had been performed one week ago, Judge George Puterbaugh officiating.

To many persons this statement was not a surprise as for several days there had been persistent report of a secret marriage, although these were promptly denied.

Only a few friends of the Grant family assembled for the wedding that had been set for this evening. U. S. Grant, IV, was the only of the bridegroom's five children who was in the hotel parlor when the announcement of the previous marriage was made. Chaffee Grant and his sisters, although in the city, absented themselves.

After the announcement which took the place of the expected wedding ceremony a dinner was served to a few friends of the Grant family.

Mr. Grant is 69 years of age and the eldest son of the former president. Mrs. Grant is 34 years old.

It was first announced that the wedding was to take place at 10 o'clock this morning, but at that hour the prospective bridegroom and bride were occupied in placing over the grave of Mr. Grant's first wife a bronze statue that had arrived from the east only yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant will depart tomorrow on a trip around the world, by way of the Orient.

BOONE MAN HAS SOUVENIR OF PERRY'S FLAGSHIP

BOONE, Ia., July 19.—(Special.)—Just now things pertaining to Commodore Perry are of general interest, since the celebrations are still going on, on the Great lakes. H. J. Chinneck, who, when a youngster, lived at Erie, has a most interesting souvenir of the Niagara, Perry's flagship, which was sunk just off Erie. Mr. Chinneck, who lives at 1721 Story street, has a paper knife made out of a spike taken from the Niagara. His friend, E. J. Bloeser, of Erie, secured a half dozen of the spikes, which, with the old hull, were buried for nearly a century, and had them made into paper-knives for himself and his friends. Chinneck is going to have a suitable engraving put on his knife.

WATCHES COUNTRY GAME

President Witnesses Diamond Contest at Little Burg in Brush.

TRIES THE INCOGNITO STUNT

It Doesn't Work and Battle Stops While Crowd Cheers Chief Executive—Women Discover His Identity.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—President Wilson today experienced the excitement of a country base ball game and thoroughly enjoyed it. He happened along in his automobile at La Plata, Md., about thirty-five miles south of Washington, when he heard a series of wild shouts from a frantic crowd of enthusiasts "rooting" with all the intensity of a major league struggle for the rival teams.

The president wore a large pair of goggles and thought he could watch the game without being recognized. He stepped out of the automobile at the crossroads general store, a short distance from the diamond. As he cautiously approached the grounds, however, a thousand curious eyes were turned upon him. The feminine enthusiasts of La Plata almost immediately discovered his identity.

"It's the president!" they chorused as they swooped down on him and greeted him.

The players paused and the crowd gave three hearty cheers. The president inquired about the progress of the game and found that the La Plata team was in bitter combat with the Indian Head (Md.) team at a tie score. The president watched the contest for half an hour, enjoyed the antics of the players and alternate jeers and compliments as they came from the bleachers, but did not wait for the finish.

Motoring on, the president had to make a wide detour on account of freshly-oiled roads and arrived at the White House just in time for dinner. He had traveled seventy miles. Earlier in the day he played golf.

Body Tied to Fence That of Daughter of Audubon, Ia., Farmer

CHICAGO, July 20.—The body of the young woman found tied to a fence post near the county highway leading to Tinsley Park, Ill., was identified today as that of Miss Martha Winters, a daughter of Christopher Winters, a farmer living near Audubon, Ia. The mystery of Miss Winters death, however, was not lifted, a coroner's jury refusing to call it suicide.

Miss Winters had been working in Chicago as a seamstress and had been living with Miss Margaret Rumsey in a downtown boarding house neighborhood. Witnesses told that Miss Winters apparently had been subject to delusions and believed that she was menaced by the "black hand."

Miss Winters was found yesterday tied by the neck to a fence post with a strip of cloth torn from her own dress. Her feet were touching the ground and her watch, purse and money were untouched. Physicians testified that she died from strangulation. The investigation will be continued.

REPLY DISAPPOINTS JAPANESE GOVERNMENT

LONDON, July 20.—Disappointment is felt in Japan in connection with the American reply to the last Japanese notes on the subject of the California land ownership legislation, which does not accept any of the Japanese contentions that the bill violates the Japanese-American treaty and does not offer any suggestion for the solution of the difficulty.

The situation here has reached a deadlock. Japan has not yet decided on its next step, but is so desirous of maintaining friendly relations that it is believed it will not adopt retaliatory measures, such as the renunciation of the treaty on the ground that it is useless or the reduction of the rights of American citizens in Japan.

The Japanese public has been led by the press to the belief that Washington would afford some relief to the situation, and therefore the government's task has been made more difficult.

RICH PURSES ON THE CARD

All Stake Races Crowded Into Day's Program on Track.

PURSES AGGREGATE $19,000

Hottest Contested Event Is Pennsylvania for 2:10 Trotters—Money Divided as No Decisive Heat Can Be Run.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 20.—Get-away day for the grand circuit meet here today for the grand circuit meet here presented one of the most valuable track. With only two racing days in the week, owing to rain, all the stake races were crowded in today's program, and only stake races were run, with purses aggregating $19,000 to the winner.

The hottest contested race that horsemen have witnessed in some time was the Pennsylvania stakes for 2:10 trotters, which went to six heats and the money had to be divided because a decisive heat could not be run off before sundown, the grand circuit rule being that no heat may be run after sunset.

Tommy Horn had taken two straight heats, but in the third he was observed to be in distress. Lady Gratian took the third heat, while Dago, that had been running in the ruck, came forward and took the fourth and fifth heats. With the necessary twenty minutes between the heats, the race was strung along toward darkness, and when Dr. Moore took the sixth heat and not a horse had taken the necessary three out of five, the judges divided the money, giving Dago first, Tommy Horn second, Densmore third and Lady Gratian fourth monies.

After the fourth heat only horses having a show for the money were permitted to run, with the result that Marigold, Darby Boy and Tenara were ruled out. It was a race where horse stamina counted, and it was apparent that the field had run Tommy Horn off his feet. In succeeding heats he would hold the challenging position until the stretch, when he would be nosed out.

The professional drivers' stakes, 2:15 trot, was taken easily by Judson Girl, a Cox entry. While Del Rey, from the same string, took the 2:10 pace, a $5,000 stakes and would have won in straight heats but for bad breaking in the stretch in the third heat, which left him fifth. He took the next heat and the race handily, however.

Star Player of White Sox in Championship Days Dies in Asylum

COLUMBUS, O., July 20.—"Jiggs" Donahue, star first baseman for the Chicago Americans in 1906, when they defeated the Chicago Cubs in the world's series, died today at the Columbus State hospital. The direct cause of death was paresis. Burial will be at Springfield, O., his home.

Donahue began his baseball career with the St. Louis Nationals as a catcher. From St. Louis he went to Milwaukee, where he played first base, and later to the Chicagos. His wonderful fielding is said to have enabled the Sox to win the world's championship series in 1906. He was sold to Washington several years later, but failed to make good there. He returned to Chicago, where he ran bowling alleys. He was sent to the state hospital in this city a year ago. Domestic trouble is said to have undermined his health.

Donahue had been reported dead several times since he was confined to the asylum here.

Slugfest Goes to the Armour Team

At Florence yesterday the Armours defeated the Gas company team in a terrific slugging match. After Sullivan had been knocked out of the box in the third inning, Hull essayed to finish the game. He was hit for nine hits in the eighth and ninth for ten runs. McFarland lasted until the seventh, when four hits, two dead balls and an error let in six runs, one of the hits being a homer. Aside from the hitting the game was featureless. The Armours play at Plattsmouth today. Score:

WESTERN FOUR WIN THE CUP

Play Makes Them Favorites for the Amateur Championship.

TOURNAMENT TO START MONDAY

One Hundred and Thirty-Seven Will Be Entered—Some of Best Men Cannot Participate in the Match.

HOMEWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, CHICAGO, July 20.—The Western Golf association four easily won the Olympic cup today on the Homewood links with play that made the representatives favorites for the western amateur championship which begins Monday. Warren K. Wood of the winning quartet, made the best score of 150 for the thirty-six holes. The western team's score was 678. The intercollegiate team took second honors with 669. The Transmississippi team withdrew because of the withdrawal of Lemist. Afternoon scores and totals for the day:

Western Golf association, 318, 628; Kentucky Golf association, 368, 730; Wisconsin, 325, 650; Intercollegiate, 333, 659.

To Start Monday.

The fifteenth annual amateur championship tournament of the Western Golf association will start early Monday with 137 players entered.

There are no entries from the Pittsburgh district and the absence of such players as W. C. Fownes, jr.; Eben Byers and George Ormiston is regretted by the committee. Harold Weber, the leading player of Ohio, would have been a contestant but he has not returned from England, where he competed in the British amateur championship.

Harry Legg of Minneapolis, one of the best players in the middle west, also will be an absentee, his trip to the Pacific coast with the middle west golf team having used up his vacation time. Arthur Stickney of St. Louis, Transmississippi champion, will not compete because of the recent death of his father. As an offset to some of the missing men E. S. Armstrong, one of the leading players of southern California, will play. Several Californians competed at Denver last year, but this is the first time a leading coast player has appeared in a Chicago tournament.

Who Strongest Players Are.

Among the strongest players from outside of Chicago are: Henry Heyburn of Louisville; Howard Lee of Detroit, former Michigan champion; E. P. Ellis II., champion of Wisconsin; Rev. Paul R. Talbot of Jefferson City, Mo., and Raymond Thorne, champion of Missouri.

Champion Evans is favorite of the Chicago players. Warren K. Wood, who is playing over his home course, is a close second. Mason Phelps, winner of the title in 1908 and 1910, will be a strong contender. Paul Hunter of Midlothian and Robert A. Gardner, national champion in 1909, are said to be short of practice, but both are certain to qualify. Play on the first day will consist of an eighteen-hole round, the lowest sixty-four scores qualifying for the second round on Tuesday morning. The first match round will be staged on Tuesday afternoon. The Homewood course is 6,085 yards, par 75.
