Tomorrow We Will Introduce "BEAR" BRAND HOSIERY to Boys and Girls

THE hosiery aisle at our store tomorrow and some of the windows will be given up to the most unique display of children's hosiery that has ever been made in Omaha. This is "Bear" Brand Hosiery, selling at 15c and 25c a pair. The aisle and the windows will be full of bears and hosiery. It will be a display that you should bring the children in to see, as it will interest and amuse them, as well as prove profitable to the mothers. "Bear" Brand Hosiery is made in Chicago, and its exceptionally durability is due not to any one particular factor, but is the result of the use of the finest long staple cotton, which is twisted and spun into the strongest of strong thread, under conditions in which temperature and moisture play an important part.

Three Full-Size Hosiery Knitting Machines in Operation

As an added feature of this introductory demonstration, three full-size hosiery knitting machines will be in operation, in charge of expert operators, and will show you the process of hosiery making. You'll find it interesting as well as educational. Souvenirs for the kiddies.

Bearskin Hosiery at 15c a Pair

This grade in sizes for those 4 to 16 years. They are 1-1 ribbed cotton stockings, fast black, reinforced at heel and toe. They are knitted on the newest machines, which leave them free from ridges on the heel and toe. The reinforcement is by means of extra threads woven in at the spots where the hardest wear comes.

Dress Parade Hosiery at 25c a Pair

This grade in sizes for those 3 to 16 years. 1-1 ribbed cotton stockings of a heavier weight than the above described stockings. They are made of combed yarn and are fashioned at the ankle to conform to the shape of the leg. They are reinforced at heel and toe and they are, of course, fast black.

Two-Step Hosiery at 25c a Pair

These stocking in sizes for those 1 to 15 years of age. They are 1-1 ribbed fast black silk lisle stockings of fine gauge. Made from two-ply double and twisted combed yarn, spun from specially long staple cotton. They are suitable for either boys or girls for everyday or dress-up wear.

LAWSUIT LONG DRAWN OUT

Twenty-Three Years in Court for $48,000 at a Cost of $186,000.

Dickens in "Bleak House" immortalized the "never-ending, still-beginning" case of "Jarndyce against Jarndyce" as one which had dragged its slow length along over so many years that it had blighted the prospects and ruined the health of all persons interested in its settlement. Yankees have smiled over "Jarndyce against Jarndyce." They have imagined that our own courts could not tolerate any parallel. But the case of Donnelly against McArdle, just decided by the court of appeals of New York state, has been pending twenty-three years and is a close rival of the Dickens precedent.

The judgment which is affirmed is $48,000 in favor of Michael Donnelly. Patrick J. McArdle had to protect this judgment with bond and it will be paid. But the cost of prosecuting the case has been $186,000 to Donnelly. In the various trials and motions forty-eight different judges have been on the bench, ninety-three lawyers have been employed and 348 witnesses have been called. Sixteen of the judges, thirteen of the lawyers and forty-three of the witnesses have died since issue was joined.

The original controversy was over a partnership. Donnelly says that the litigation has "wrecked his life," but he was bound to have his pound of flesh from McArdle, though it cost three times as much as it came to.

Perhaps civilization may some time evolve a system of jurisprudence that will absolutely prevent any such procrastination of justice. A jury left free to act without any appeal could have settled the Donnelly claim in fifteen minutes and had it over with. It is the appeals that make justice farcical without on the average, making it any more exac than it would be without them. That i apparent enough to every man who is no a lawyer.—Brooklyn Eagle.
