RUPTURE CURED by Stuart's Plapao-Pads means that you can throw away the painful truss altogether, as they are made to cure rupture and not simply to hold it, but being self-adhesive, and when adhering closely to the body slipping is impossible, therefore, they are also an important factor in retaining rupture that cannot be held by a truss.

No straps, buckles or springs. NO TRUSS. Demonstrator Babcock, who is authority on matters pertaining to rupture, will be at the Hotel Rome, Rooms D-2 and 3, January 16, 17, 18, hours, 10 a. m. to 7 p. m., and he will be pleased to give without charge to all who call, expert advice and trial treatment. ROAD BILLS TO HAVE CALL

Members of Iowa Legislature Preparing Many of Them.

WANT HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Concerted Effort Apparent to Solve Big Question and Put Roads of State in Shape that Will Be Credit to People.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 15.—(Special Telegram.)—It developed today that a score of the members of each house of the Iowa legislature are at work on bills to revise highway laws, and that highway legislation will take first rank at this session.

Nearly all the bills contemplate a state highway commission and some form of state aid. Very few of the members who are at work on the bills favor borrowing a large sum of money with which to begin work.

A great many road bills will be printed.

Police Hold Davis.

Grover Davis is in the city jail while the police are investigating the story of John Pruitt, his father-in-law, that Davis sought to kill his wife and then commit suicide a few days ago. Davis has a big cut on his cheek, which Pruitt says was self-inflicted.

Former Omaha Pastor and Wife Celebrate Golden Wedding

GRINNELL, Jan. 15.—(Special.)—At the home of Judge Paul G. Norris of the superior court of this city gathered today the children and grandchildren of Rev. and Mrs. LaRoy S. Hand, who celebrated their golden wedding, Mrs. Norris being their youngest daughter.

LaRoy S. Hand was born in Otsego county, New York, in 1839, the family moving to Wisconsin, when he was but 2 years old. Annie West was born in England in 1836 and came with her parents to Illinois when she was 16. These two met in Wheaton college, Wheaton, Ill., from which both graduated. January 15 following their graduation they were married. For three years Mr. Hand edited and published the Christian Era, the Congregationalist organ for Illinois at that time and the forerunner of the Advance. In 1870 this couple moved to Iowa, where they have lived most of the time since. Mr. Hand has held pastorates at Olds, Crawfordsville, Ottumwa, Eddyville, Polk City, Postville, Ogden, Sioux Rapids, Runnells, Clay and Van Cleve, Ia., and in Omaha.

Seven children have been born to this couple, two daughters dying in infancy. Three sons are in business in Ottumwa. One daughter, Miss Calla, is principal of the physical geography department of the Jefferson school in Portland, Ore. All the other children and a number of the ten grandchildren are at the celebration today. In all his fifty years of preaching service Mr. Hand has lost but two Sundays from illness. A large circle of former parishoners and friends are rejoicing with this couple on this golden wedding occasion.

Hawley Will Coach Hawkeye Foot Ball Team This Season

IOWA CITY, Ia., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Jesse Hawley told the athletic board of the University of Iowa today that he would accept its offer to coach the Hawkeye foot ball team here another season. Hawley gets a material increase over his $1,800 salary of last year, but the exact boost is not known. A substantial raise in salary also has been tendered Morey, Ebey, assistant coach, along with the offer of the job for another year, which probably will be accepted.

Iowa's basket ball team leaves on an invasion of the Big Nine conference tomorrow. On Thursday night Northwestern will be met at Evanston by the Iowa quintet, while the Hawkeyes will clash with Chicago Friday. Illinois will be met Saturday night and then the team will return for the first Big Nine home game with Minnesota's five next week. The team is in anything but good shape for the trip and nothing in the way of a winning streak is apparent.

Iowa's base ball schedule was furthered today when a contract was signed with Nebraska's management for a game with the Cornhuskers on Iowa field May 22. This is during an eastern trip of the Nebraska team. Manager N. A. Kellogg has called a base ball managers' meeting of Iowa colleges here on January 24 to prepare schedules for Iowa schools for the coming season.

"Cascarets" Make You Feel Great

A 10 cent box will keep your liver, stomach and bowels clean, pure and fresh for months.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out off the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When the poison reaches the delicate brain tissues it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passageway for a day or two—yes—but they don't take the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels clean and regular for months.—Advertisement.

LAST SURVIVOR OF SPIRIT LAKE MASSACRE IS DEAD

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. Irene Thomas of Albion, Ia., the last of the survivors of the Spirit Lake Indian massacre of 1857, which was the forerunner of the terrible outbreak of the Sioux in southwestern Minnesota a few years later, died yesterday at Munden, Kan., where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emma Stricker.

Altogether seven persons were killed and twice that number were wounded in the assaults on the cabins. Mrs. Thomas never entirely recovered from the terrible experiences of the attack and the journey. Mr. Thomas, for whom Frank H. Thomas Post No. 94, Grand Army of the Republic this city, is named, died here a few years after the massacre from the effects of wounds and exposure.

The family came here to live the spring following the outbreak. During the last thirty years Mrs. Thomas has lived at Albion, this county. Three children survive Mrs. Thomas. Her body is to be brought to Albion for burial.

PHYSICIAN REPORTS THAT OIL KING CAN TESTIFY BRIEFLY

Boston failed, holding a large block of Boston and Montana stock. Just prior to the failure, he said, Mr. Lawson conducted a vigorous advertising campaign, "bulling" Butte and Boston and "bearing" Boston and Montana. Mr. Burrage said he had taken no part in the negotiations by which the Amalgamated organizers secured the Boston and Montana stock held by the Globe bank. He did not believe the Lawson advertising campaign had any relation to the Globe failure.

Profits Are Enormous.

Mr. Burrage said that Butte and Boston stock was exchanged for Amalgamated, at a rate of four shares of Amalgamated for one of Butte and Boston, which with Amalgamated at 130 made a price of 520. Butte-Montana, he said, was exchanged share for share with Amalgamated in the merger.

Mr. Untermyer asked if Mr. Rogers and Mr. Rockefeller had not acquired Butte and Boston and Butte and Montana and had then as directors of the Amalgamated voted to buy this stock for themselves. But Mr. Burrage did not remember.

"But you know that the value of these stocks increased from $30,000,000 to $104,700,000 when they were transferred to the Amalgamated?"

"Yes, a profit for those who held the shares," answered Mr. Burrage.

Mr. Burrage said that in 1904 he ordered all his papers and accounts destroyed because Mr. Lawson and Mr. Rogers were engaged in an altercation.

"They were both friends of mine and I did not wish to become involved," said Mr. Burrage.

With the conclusion of his examination the committee recessed for luncheon.

Perkins Takes Stand.

Mr. Perkins was the first to take the stand when the committee resumed the hearing.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, asked:

"What is your present occupation?"

"Well, I am a student just now," answered Mr. Perkins with a smile. "I also spend considerable time testifying before congressional committees."

Mr. Perkins told of having been a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. and of his connection with the United States Steel corporation. He was still a director and member of the finance committee of the corporation, he said, and had a great deal to do with its business organization after it was formed. Mr. Perkins as a director of the steel corporation and the International Harvester company is a defendant in the government's suits for the dissolution of those concerns.

As Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, began to question him about those two companies, there was much speculation among lawyers and others present as to whether Mr. Perkins' answers would give him immunity from any possible government prosecution.

Mr. Perkins said the corporation bought its own stock only, so far as he knew, to be sold under profit-sharing schemes.

"We know of no one buying to protect it in the market, and know of no pools to manipulate the market in steel stock," he said.

"Do you believe that directors should be allowed to trade in the stock of their own corporations on advance information secured by them through their connection with the corporation?" asked Mr. Untermyer.

"I do not," said Mr. Perkins.

Bankers' Trust Company.

Mr. Perkins said he was one of the original voting trustees of the Bankers' Trust company.

"What useful purpose is served by placing the voting power of a trust company in the hands of a few trustees?" asked Mr. Untermyer.

Mr. Perkins answered that he believed a voting trust was used in organizing a new concern, to insure its being run along certain lines endorsed by the trustees.

Mr. Perkins said he believed that minority stockholders of corporations should have a proportionate representation on the board of directors. Mr. Perkins declared he did not believe persons ought to have the power to go out and buy one or two shares of stock and then demand representation on a board of directors and "raise hob with the institution."

Stock Exchange Gambling.

Mr. Untermyer asked if Mr. Perkins had formed any idea as to the desirability of "placing the stock exchange under legal control." Mr. Perkins said he favored putting the stock exchange under federal control.

"What legislation would you recommend to remedy abuses on the stock exchange?"

"Well, that is a matter that leads into detail. I believe that many of the so-called abuses would cure themselves with plenty of publicity," said Mr. Perkins. He added that he would afford the investor a better opportunity to know of the intrinsic value of securities.

"What would you do about manipulation of prices to false values?" asked Mr. Untermyer.

"Well, that is a very difficult question," answered Mr. Perkins. "That form of gambling is indulged in even down to the farmer who sells his wheat this winter for delivery next spring."

Mr. Perkins said he knew nothing personally about manipulation of stocks.

"One of the committee would like to know what you think would happen if a law were passed prohibiting gambling in stocks," said Mr. Untermyer.

Mr. Perkins said that it was a question as to just what was gambling on the stock exchange.

He did not know whether such a law would release large sums of money now tied up in speculation. He favored small boards of directors for banks with concentration of responsibility and an enforced certification of directors that they know the exact condition of the institutions.
