NATURALIZATION RESPONSIBILITY

Who Are Responsible and What Should Be Done to Change the System.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 28.—Hardly any sentiment uttered by the speakers at the Marquett Club banquet, held in commemoration of Ulysses S. Grant, at the Grand Pacific last night, elicited greater applause than a demand for the restriction of immigration. The rafters almost shook with the applause and the cheers of the assembly when the orators alluded to the dumping of the refuse of monarchical Europe upon our shores and condemned the indiscriminate admission of foreign paupers to unlimited competition with American labor.

Among the audience could be seen several judges and ex-judges. They, no doubt, shared the general apprehension of dire danger to American institutions from unrestricted immigration. But seeing them join in the clapping of hands and the waving of napkins as handkerchiefs, I could not help asking myself the question whether these gentlemen, greatly honored for their judicial learning and integrity, are aware that they alone are responsible for the indiscriminate admission of aliens. I use this term advisedly, as signifying men who are as foreign to American institutions and purposes as though they still lived under the monarchy from which they were induced to come to this land—to the benefits and responsibilities of American citizenship, which is the most dangerous feature in the entire question. The judges of Cook county are responsible for the making of tens of thousands of voters who, neither in their social nor in their political affiliations and actions, demonstrate in the slightest degree that attachment to the principles of the constitution which, the law says, the judges shall satisfy themselves of as existing in every applicant for citizenship before admitting him to the oath of allegiance.

Not undesirable immigration, but the criminally reckless administration of our naturalization laws by the judiciary, in whose sole charge their execution and application are placed, is the cause of the disgraceful degradation of citizenship and universal suffrage in our great cities and the principal source and mainstay of municipal corruption.

No one in Cook county stands in greater need of a revival of patriotism and respect for citizenship than our judiciary. The law intends the judges to be the guardians of citizenship, but here they are lending themselves to its wholesale corruption by naturalizing, at the behest of political corruptionists, hordes of men whom, if they used their eyes and ears, they should know better than to even suspect of attachment to the principles of the constitution, or of qualification to discharge the duties of citizenship in accordance therewith.

Fifteen Companies of Catholic Soldiers in San Francisco.

The military force at the command of the Roman hierarchy continues to increase in all the cities in this land. In San Francisco nine companies have already been organized, and the daily papers state that before long it is expected that six more will be organized. These fifteen companies are to compose a regiment to be known as the "First Regiment of Dismounted Artillery of the League of the Cross."

These companies will be under regular military drill. They will carry the national colors, and in addition will have a regimental flag, consisting of a white cross in the center with a blue back-ground. Their colors will indicate that they are American citizens who owe their military allegiance to Rome. "Father" Montgomery is the leading spirit in having these military companies organized in this city, and the purpose of the organization he doubtless understands better than those on the outside. It will be observed that the name of this military organization is "The League of the Cross."

This shows that its primary purpose is to defend Romanism. If any think that the pictures heretofore drawn of the work of Romanism have been overdrawn, we ask them what means all this battle array? It should be remembered also that what is being done in San Francisco is only a sample of what is being done in other cities.—San Francisco Harbinger.

Aleph to Pecci.

MR. PECCI: It would be of little use asking of you what you have to do with the Commonweal army of the United States. You might say that I had no business to ask you. I would say that I have just as much business to ask you as you have to have any part in the management of it. You may say I have no evidence against you or your church, and you may say you never have anything to do with the political upheavals of nations. You may say that all you do is to attend to the spiritual welfare of your people and you may tell me a lot of things, and this may be accounted for by the fact that you are in the habit of talking to people who are peculiar because of being so green.

But, let me say this: An "army" man was asked what he thought of the riot in Boston and he answered that it was not a riot, but only enthusiasm. Now, would it not be one of the greatest joys which could facilitate your mind, if there was a pronounced enthusiasm all over the United States? If two or three millions were killed, it would simply make the enthusiasm news a little more spicy, and and all who died in this enthusiastic demonstration would go immediately through purgatory to heaven. If the demonstration was so great that it would dynamite the vatican, you could meet the boys on the other side of purgatory if you could get through the same time the boys did.

But I tell you, Pecci, there will be enthusiasm the other side of purgatory. They have made big improvements lately down there. They have a big hall—called enthusiasm hall—and instead of the old red hot plate to dance on, they have an electric plate, just attached to the Buffalo power, and I tell you, Pecci, it would do your old soul good to see the enthusiasm down there. One night of it would last you a century, and I know it would do you good to take part in it.

When you get through with "enthusiasm," study the science of successfully ruling a church so as to insure peace, prosperity and purity. None are too old to learn. ALEPH.

Priestly Scandals.

"We are not," says Le Citoyen Franco-American, "fond of dwelling at any length upon the scandals that so often creep out among the Roman clergy, and would be much more numerous if the whole truth was always known in each particular case. Still, as another illustration of fearful evils of Roman clerical celibacy, we cannot help mentioning the downfall of one of the best known priests of the Chicago archdiocese, Rev. Thomas F. Leyden, of Aurora, Ill., as reported in the Chicago Dispatch, of February 22nd last. The details are sickening, and we do not wish to give them here. It will be enough to say that the priest in question, after ruining a beautiful young girl who was his own ward, tried to have a certain young man marry her to hush up the matter; but the truth was soon known, and the priest could not silence the broken-hearted mother and relatives."

Thinks the Order Should Be No Longer Secret.

LOWELL, Mass., May 6.—Rev. Claude Raboteau, of Worthen Street Baptist church, addressed the largest A. P. A. meeting ever held here at Huntington hall this afternoon, during which he said there was no need of the organization holding secret meetings. It held the balance of power politically, and at the next city election would be ready to dictate to either party.

We often hear that the A. P. A's attack the Roman Catholic religion. This is true but not with brickbats, clubs and howling mobs, the attacks are made with enlightenment and education, not with force or with law. We believe in attacking all religious and public questions with education and investigation. The truth will not suffer by it and error and abuses should be exposed. The welfare of society depends upon public enlightenment. Because a system of teaching or theology names itself "religion" should not be a safeguard against attacks and investigation. The constitution gives as much latitude to attack religions as it does to subscribe to any religion and enjoy its free exercise. The one is no more sacred than the other.—People's Union Mission.

The erratic Mr. Stead, once editor of the Pall Mall Gazette, seems never tired of saying nice things about the church of Rome and its fallible head, the pope. There is an impression abroad that Mr. Stead has, though it may be unconsciously, his face Romeward, and that there is a danger lest, as he moves onward, he should tumble over the precipice before he is aware. —Protestant Observer.

DEMOCRATS AND A. P. A. COMBINE.

Republican Council in Menominee Unable to Accomplish Anything.

MENOMINEE, Mich., May 8.—The city council, composed of nine republicans and five democrats, last night made appointments for the ensuing year. Although the republicans were largely in the majority, there were three disgruntled American Protective Association members in their ranks who entered into a dicker with the democrats which resulted in the latter getting the city attorneyship. W. A. Armstrong, the American Protective Association leader, who ran on a stump ticket at the last election, thereby defeating the regular republican nominee, was last night made street commissioner by the deciding vote of Mayor Wells, much to the disgust of the anti-American Protective Association men. The following are the appointments: Marshal, Amos Lomieux; chief of the fire department, John H. Kratz; city attorney, H. A. Jersey; street commissioner, W. A. Armstrong; health officer, Dr. W. R. Hicks.
