—The notes and private papers which were taken from Marsteller Bros., safe by a burgular, after blowing open the safe in their store about two months ago were found north of town in a canyon by Otto Tietze last Friday, and returned to the boys Saturday. Some of the papers and notes had blown away but the most important ones were found all o. k. As yet, Mr. Tietze has not laid any claim to the reward offered by M. Bros., and he may not do so but without doubt the boys will suitably reward him in some way. The discovery will save them much expense and extra trouble.

—Last Thursday, Charles Verity, who now represents the Western Newspaper Union, made this town in the interest of his company, stopping over until Friday evening, when he left for Hot Springs, S. Dak., where he went to take medicated, Hot baths for a day or so, when he will resume business again for Western N. P. Union. Mr. Verity was one of the first residents of the metropolis of Sioux county, and during his sojourn here was editor and publisher of the Harrison Independent, which he sold to L. J. Simmons, the then editor of the Sioux County Journal. Mr. Verity is a practical, all round newspaper man, a proof of which we have now in our office—the files of the defunct Harrison Independent. Being an old timer of this town, Mr. Verity was a guest of the entire village, in fact the freedom of the town was turned over to him. Certainly, it is the Western Newspaper Union who have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Verity as solicitor for that company.

He is a Practical Stock Man.

Mr. J. W. Snyder, who came up from Georgetown, Tex., couple of months ago, and who by the way is a brother-in-law of C. F. and S. B. Coffee, of this county, has about concluded to locate somewhere in our midst. Although, he gave us to understand that he might yet change his mind relative to locating in in this (Sioux county.

Mr. Snyder, shipped to this county from Texas 900 cows, 450 of which have calves by their sides. The same being good grades of Hereford and Durham stock. He will sell either the 450 dry cows, or the 450 with calves by their side. The cattle are now being grazed on the J. W. Earnest ranch, about 15 miles south of town on Running Water. In conversation with county clerk Blewett, who has seen the cattle and who is a competent judge claims the stock are all o. k. as represented by Mr. Snyder. Mr. Snyder is an old live stockman of 30 years experience, having had 15 years experience in western Wyoming, and hence, knows the kind of cattle best adopted for the ranches in this section of the country.

Parties who are contemplating buying 50 or a 100 head of cows with or without calves would do well to make a trip to the Earnest Ranch and see the cattle above mentioned. They are without doubt the cheapest cattle that has come into Sioux county for some time.
