GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Local Cash Wheat is Pretty Active, with Better Grades a Few Cents Higher.

DEMAND FOR YELLOW CORN

OMAHA, October 4, 1915.

The local cash wheat market was pretty active today and some of the better grades of hard winter wheat sold from 1 to 3 cents higher. Velvet chaff wheat sold about 1 cent higher and there seemed to be a pretty good demand for this variety.

There was a fair run of corn today and the market was quoted unchanged to 1¼ cents lower. The demand for yellow corn was particularly active, and this variety sold from 2 to 2½ cents above the white.

Oats were quoted unchanged to a ½ cent lower. The receipts of this cereal were good and the demand was pretty active.

There were a few sales of rye and barley reported at practically unchanged prices.

Liverpool close: Wheat, ½@1d higher; corn, unchanged.

Primary wheat receipts were 3,220,000 bu., and shipments 2,328,000 bu. against receipts of 3,488,000 bu., and shipments of 1,962,000 bu. last year.

Primary corn receipts were 1,240,000 bu. and shipments 552,000 bu. against receipts of 584,000 bu., and shipments of 776,000 bu. last year.

Primary oats receipts were 1,329,000 bu., and shipments 772,000 bu. against receipts of 2,056,000 bu., and shipments of 1,228,000 bu. last year.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Word of large export sales at the seaboard had much to do today with causing a decided advance in wheat values here. The market closed unsettled, 1½c to 1⅞@2c net higher, with December at 98⅝c and May at 99⅝c. Final prices in corn varied from 1c off to ⅝@⅞c up. Oats gained ⅛@¼c and provisions showed an upturn ranging from 5c to 42½c.

Active buying of the December options dwarfed everything else in the wheat pit. One firm alone was credited with having purchased 1,000,000 bushels of that month's delivery. Most of this amount was said to be for seaboard account and was associated with reports of heavy eastern transactions in Manitoba wheat for Europe and with a noticeably improved Transatlantic demand for flour. Other big purchases December wheat here seemed to be connected with the high freight rates on the lakes from Duluth to Chicago—rates which made the bringing of spring wheat to Chicago an unusually expensive operation.

Wet weather that threatened to delay threshing in the northwest gave to the wheat bulls an advantage right at the outset. Liverpool advices telling of unabated demand and of supplies being under requirements counted also against the bears and did a good deal to prevent any important down turn in the market.

Corn rose chiefly as a result of the strength in wheat. Frost predictions induced some buying early, but they seemed to be regarded as of greatly diminished significance, compared with similar forecasts when the crop was less matured. Oats merely reflected the action of corn. Rural offerings were rather small and eastern demand fair. Higher prices in the hog market lifted provisions. An excellent southern and export inquiry for fresh meats had a further strengthening effect.

CATTLE—Receipts were quite liberal this morning, a total of 660 cars being reported in. While this is smaller than two weeks ago, it is larger than on Monday of last week by almost 3,000 head. The weak feature of the cattle trade today was the overwhelming run of cattle at Kansas City, which early reported 33,000 head received, with the market around 15c lower. Other market points had only normal receipts.

The demand at this point for beef steers was brisk and the market opened in good season in the morning, with prices fully steady. Packers were claiming that some of the more desirable kinds were, if anything, a little stronger. The trade was reasonably active and a considerable proportion of the receipts changed hands in good season.

Cows and heifers were in liberal supply and everything that would do for stocker or feeder purposes was active and fully steady. Killers were steady or pretty close to steady, but owing to the heavy run at Kansas City there was an undercurrent of weakness and in spots the market may have been 10c lower. Stockers and feeders moved freely at good steady prices.

HOGS—The week opened with a very light run, only about thirty-six cars, or 2,300 head being reported in. This is 400 smaller than a week ago, and 1,300 lighter than for the same day a year ago, but is a gain of about 150 head over Monday two weeks ago.

There was a fair shipping outlet this morning, and shipper buyers accounted for fully a third of the receipts. Prices were fully a dime higher early, although later they bought some mixed hogs that were hardly that good. A piece of a load set top of $8.00, while two full loads on the light butcher order reached $7.80.

Packer trade was slow in getting started and was more or less of a sticky deal throughout. There was hardly enough stuff here to make a market, and, while sellers started out pricing their holdings on a 10c higher basis, it looked for a while as though they would have a hard time getting better than steady prices. After a session that lasted through the better part of the forenoon, most of the supply moved on a 5@10c higher basis, although some sales were quoted as just steady to strong.

Average trade was largely 5@10c higher, with sales quotable steady to 10c up. Receipts were so light, that while movement was very draggy throughout, nearly everything had been sold before 11 o'clock. Most of the packing sales were made at $7.15@7.30, with rough heavies as low as $7.10, and a few sales scattered on up towards the top.
