AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Belgians Plan Dance to Raise Funds to Aid Countrymen.

KINNEY SENDS LAMB SHIPMENTS

Pioneer Historical Society Completes Arrangements for First Social of Season to Be Held in Library Hall.

Belgians of South Omaha have completed arrangements for a dance to be held Sunday, November 1, at the New Settlers' hall, Thirty-sixth and U streets, to raise funds to aid their countrymen in the hardships brought on by the war.

George Depray is at the head of the organization to raise funds and has several able assistants that are also doing everything in their power to make the affair a big event.

Several weeks ago a neat sum was netted by the proceeds obtained from a dance, and heartened by their former success a canvass is being made of the entire city by the committee in an effort to make this dance doubly successful.

Dr. Von de Mere of Chicago has been chosen treasurer for all of the Belgian relief funds raised in this country. Through his work nearly every Belgian community in the United States has been organized for relief. It is planned that various forms of amusement will be given from time to time to raise money for the fatherland while the war lasts.

Large Shipment of Lambs.

J. C. Kinney, a big sheep rancher of Cokeville, Wyo., during the last two weeks has made large shipments of lambs to South Omaha. He had eight carloads here last week that brought $7.60 per 100 pounds, which was the high price so far this month. For three days Kinney topped the market with his sheep, which is a very unusual event for a single shipper. In the last two weeks Mr. Kinney has shipped about 14,000 head to the local market.

Pioneers to Hold Social.

The Pioneer Historical society has completed all arrangements for its first social of the season, to be held in the library hall, Monday evening.

The program will be a very interesting one and among other things will consist of vocal and musical selections, by well known South Omaha favorites. Several who will entertain are the Misses Lillian Steinberg, Helen Redmond, Georgina Davis, Mary Malihan, Lydia Henni, Robert Henni and J. C. Carley.

The society was organized to promote the gathering of all South Omaha's early residents, their families and friends. No admission will be charged.

Child's League Meets.

South Omaha Circle of the Child's Conservation league met Thursday afternoon at the high school. The circle will meet the first and third Thursdays of each month. The next meeting will be held November 5. Mrs. H. M. Graham is slated to give a talk on classes and combinations of food.

Return from Sandhills.

Johnny Boyle and Dick Vaught returned Saturday from a ten days' hunt in the sandhills. Although the flight from the north is not yet on, in full blast, the above duo were enabled to bag the limit, although they were forced to work for every bird they got. Frank Dworak and Barny Larkin, who were the other half of the original party, returned early in the week with the limit. The present cool wave will, in all probability, bring down the birds from the north, and shooting is bound to be good very shortly. Several parties of local hunters have left in quest of game along the Platte and into the sandhill country.

Festival Closes.

The Columbian festival closed last evening after a four days' successful existence. This is probably the most thoroughly satisfactory festival ever held by the organization, and the affair will be made an annual event henceforth. Following a program of singing, recitations and other events, Congressman Lobeck addressed the audience briefly.

MUST FIGHT OUT PLACES

Effect of Saturday's Games in West on General Situation.

HOW BIG NINE TEAMS STAND

Gophers Trim Iowans by Exactly Same Score that Maroons Defeated Hawkeyes a Week Before.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Chicago excepted, the leading elevens of the central west, which were in hard battles a week ago yesterday, either were beaten or played far below the form expected.

The Michigan Aggies fell, overwhelmed before Nebraska's squad; Purdue and Wisconsin, worn out in their game of October 17, failed to do as well as their friends hoped; Iowa and Minnesota both were slower yesterday, according to followers of the game, than in their hard tests of a week ago.

Must Fight Out Places.

The results did little to clear the situation so far as leading honors in the Big Nine is concerned. The four undefeated elevens, Chicago, Minnesota, Illinois and Wisconsin came through their contests still victorious. Comparisons of scores showed effectively that teams must fight out their places in the final standing.

Chicago's twenty-one points against Purdue did not indicate a margin of superiority over Wisconsin, which beat the Boilermakers, 14 to 7, large enough to make the Badgers concede a Maroon victory and Minnesota downed the Iowans by exactly the same score by which Chicago won the preceding week.

Illini Can Claim Lead.

Only Illinois can claim a lead, based on the performances to date, for the second string Illini yesterday routed Northwestern by a far greater score the Chicago was able to pile up, and in their defeat of Ohio State out-pointed Wisconsin by a considerable distance. Still, Wisconsin undoubtedly played below the form which may be expected in games to come and Chicago's improvement has been steady in the two weeks since the contest with the purple.

Kaiser Gives Highest Praise to Von Moltke as He Resigns Place

(Copyright, 1914, by Press Publishing Co.)

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 25.—(Special Cablegram to New York World and Omaha Bee.)—The Swiss government is in possession of a telegram from Basle confirming the reported retirement of General Von Moltke, chief of the German staff, on last Thursday.

The general wired to the kaiser asking to be relieved from his task on the ground that his health was broken by reason of the arduous duties he had been called upon to perform since the outbreak of the war. The kaiser is stated to have wired his acceptance of the resignation, at the same time taking occasion to eulogize most fulsomely the achievements of Von Moltke, crediting him in no small part with the success of the German arms in the present war. It is further stated that so far no successor to Von Moltke has been chosen.

It is reported here that German naval officials at Bremerhaven have reported several of the smaller submarines already entrained to be sent to the Belgian coast when safety of transit is assured.

When One German Falls, Two Appear to Take His Place

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The hardest engagement since the commencement of the war is now on from the coast down to Arras. The principal scene of conflict is around La Bassee, virtually dominating Lille, where the German troops threw themselves in masses against the allies. For the most part British troops are engaged here.

There has not been a minute's respite in the conflict since Friday morning, except during the darkest hours of the night, but even then the artillery of both armies kept up a continuous duel.

The Germans appeared at this point to have an inexhaustible supply of men whom they did not spare. Where one man fell, two seemed to appear to fill the gap. The allies, however, have at their disposal fresh troops and succeeded in repulsing the Germans whenever they pushed a formidable attack home.

Headquarters of Kaiser in France Is Like a Village

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Emperor William's headquarters in France is so extensive as to resemble a thickly populated village, says the Exchange Telegraph company Berlin correspondent. The personnel amounts to about 1,500 men in addition to convoy and many servants. There are also large suites attached to the prince of Scheonburg and lieutenant colonel, the prince of Pless.

Near the house occupied by Emperor William are stationed members of his war cabinet and of the chief general staff. Nearby are foreign attaches and representatives of the German union and of Austria-Hungary. Dr. Von Bethmann-Hollweg, the imperial chancellor, has joined the headquarters staff.

FAMILY ESCAPES FROM THEIR BURNING HOUSE

COLUMBUS, Neb., Oct. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Fire totally destroyed the residence of J. L. Pittman in East Columbus, the loss being $2,800 with $1,800 insurance.

The blaze is supposed to have originated from an overheated stove.

The family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Pittman and two children, were awakened just in time to make their escape, they being asleep when neighbors discovered the fire.

Speak for Suffrage.

TEKAMAH, Neb., Oct. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—"Votes for Women," was the topic of two street talks in Tekamah. The woman suffrage party toured Burt county today in an auto. The speakers were Mrs. Maud McCrary of Wisconsin and Mrs. Sumney of Omaha. Ex-congressman Kennedy was also billed for a speech, but he had to take another's place at Norfolk and Mrs. Sumney took his place.

IOWA TUBERCULOSIS CASES

Enlargement of State Sanitarium for White Plague Patients Needed.

REPORT MADE BY SCARBOROUGH

Insurance Agents of Hawkeye Commonwealth Meet to Form Organization for Concerted Action on Public Matters.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 25.—(Special.)—Absolute need of enlargement of the state sanatorium for tuberculosis is the main point in a very important report just made to the Board of Control by Superintendent Scarborough in charge of the institution at Oakdale. The tendency is toward a greatly increasing average of population.

"While we always have a waiting list of patients of all grades seeking admission," says the report, "we have been at all times able to care for all the favorable applicants on this list within a short time after their papers were received. The advanced cases, however, have been either refused outright, or, if they were apparently border-line cases, have been accepted on trial and when found unfavorable returned home. With the completion of the hospital building now under construction and the infirmary to be built next year it is expected that these refused cases, as well as those proving unfavorable after trial, will be taken care of, and the institution will not only be able to care for advanced cases as they are received but the institutional capacity will be more nearly utilized than ever before."

Summary of Investigation.

The summary of the yearly investigation and the report therefrom which was sent out shortly after the beginning of this year shows the number of patients admitted from the establishment of the institution in February, 1908, until July 1, 1913, 1,600.

The condition on admission was: Incipient, 241; moderately advanced, 730; far advanced, 415; diagnosis doubtful, 4; nontuberculous, 10; number of patients present July 1, 1913, 100; total number discharged to that time, 1,300.

Tuberculosis Highly Fatal.

Further as to what is being accomplished there the report of the superintendent says:

"This return shows that, of the number of persons treated during that time who were here more than one month, and therefore may be properly charged up as having taken treatment at the institution, and whom we were able to trace, about one-half were then maintaining themselves through their own work. This leaves a very high death rate, which is explained by the fact that only 18 per cent of these cases were of the early or incipient, and therefore favorable class. Our percentage of recoveries of this class was over 70 per cent. Considering the fact that the record above is of 'ultimate results' after a period varying from six months to five years of life after discharge, we consider this showing to be quite favorable. Especially is this so when these results are compared with those of other institutions for the same class of patients, and equal time of convalescence. The large number of patients who have died plainly illustrates that this disease, considered not as a transient, acute attack, but rather as a malady covering several years in its course, is in reality highly fatal.

Usually is Chronic Disease.

"Tuberculosis is not like most diseases in being of short and more or less definite duration. The usual and popular idea of it is drawn from its aspect during the active stages. But while it is active at times, it is, generally speaking, chronic, and its course usually extends over years instead of over days or weeks. Therefore the real results of treatment should be judged by the conditions of patients after the lapse of years, when the course of their disease will have been determined and when they will either have died or have recovered to the extent of being again at a remunerative occupation.

"No epidemics of infectious diseases have developed among the employes or patients during the past period, with the exception of the discovery of two cases of diphtheria. These were non-virulent, and spread to other employes and patients was easily prevented.

"An examination of our employes' lists shows that 27 per cent of them on the average are ex-patients. This use of graduates of our treatment not only helps out with the solution of the vexing help problem, but likewise greatly assists a number of ex-patients, and enables us to test out many of them before sending them back home, often to heavy work."

To Form Combine of Insurance Men.

The insurance agents of the state are to meet in this city next Tuesday for the purpose of forming an organization of some kind for concerted action on all public matters and especially in relation to rates. It is to be primarily an association of the insurance agents, but all branches will be represented and the head men in the insurance business will participate. Some years ago a number of organizations were effected, but they adopted methods that caused the attorney general to force them to disband. One thing that is now very much desired by the insurance men is to have some legislation that will relieve them of restrictions placed on the business in this state.

Prepare to Advertise City.

A fund of $5,000 has been raised by advertising agents here to be expended in display advertisements in magazines and journals in the east with regard to the city of Des Moines. The fund is contributed by large business houses and corporations. A similar campaign of advertising was conducted a number of years ago and it is declared that much of the growth of the city has been due to this fact. Space will be purchased in magazines and a Chicago advertising house will handle the business.

Will Sell Many Elevators.

A public sale of the Lockwood elevators and mill will be held Monday before Referee Harry Whitaker in the insolvency court. There are fourteen elevators in country towns and the big mill here. Opportunity will first be given bidders to bid for the whole string and then individual bids will be accepted on each elevator and the mill. If the latter bids amount to more than the lump bid the sale will go that way. All will be subject to the approval of the court to avoid collusion. It is understood an Indiana firm is considering a bid for the entire outfit.

Light Registration in City.

The total registration for two days in Des Moines was exactly 600, according to the report furnished the city clerk. This number is the least ever recorded for two registration days in Des Moines. The last general registration previous to the spring elections is given as the cause for the few changes made at this time. It is estimated that at least two-thirds of the 600 changes are those of old voters and that moving is the principal cause of the registration of them at this time. One-third is thought to cover the number of new voters.

More Voting Machines Needed.

The twenty-five additional voting machines that are to be used in Des Moines during the coming election have arrived and are being placed in the various polling places about the city, where additional machines are required. In all precincts in the city where the total vote is over 450 two machines will be used. In all precincts where the total vote exceeds 600 three machines will be used. With the extra machines in place it is predicted there will be no occasion for delay at the polls.

Diarrhoea Quickly Cured.
"My attention was first called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as much as twelve years ago. At that time I was seriously ill with summer complaint. One dose of this remedy checked the trouble," writes Mrs. C. W. Florence, Rockfield, Ind. For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.
