COURT DECIDED IN HIS FAVOR

Cooper Fought to Retain Formula Which Has Made a Fortune.

L. T. Cooper, the man who believes that 90 per cent of all ill health of this generation is caused by stomach trouble, is fast winning a national faith in his theory. His claim is now admitted by a surprising number of people thoughout the country, and he is gaining new adherents every day.

While speaking of his success in a recent interview, Mr. Cooper said: "I believed ten years ago that any one who could produce a formula that would thoroughly regulate the stomach would have a fortune. When I got hold of this formula I knew within six months that I was right, and that my fortune was made. I called the medicine Cooper's New Discovery, although I did not get up the formula. I have owned it however, for over three years. I have had one lawsuit over it, which I won in the courts. When it was settled The Cooper Medicine Company became the only firm in the world that can prepare the medicine. The preparation has sold like wildfire wherever introduced. As I have said before, it is successful simply because, it puts the stomach in perfect shape, then nature does the rest. There are any number of complaints never before associated with stomach trouble that the medicine has alleviated in thousands of cases."

Among statements obtained recently from users of this medicine that is arousing such universal discussion is one from Mrs. Emma Stanley, living in Chicago, at 713 Washington Boulevard, who said: "Perhaps I had the most complicated case that Mr. Cooper had to deal with. I was troubled for years with my stomach. I consulted with doctors and took many kinds of patent medicine preparations without result. My stomach was in such a wretched shape that I could not enjoy a meal that I ate.

"I was very nervous, and could hardly sleep; I had a roaring in my ears and dancing spots before my eyes. I felt very bad and weak. Then there was a very sore spot at the pit of my stomach that nearly set me wild.

"I heard about the Cooper medicine and decided to try it. I used four bottles, and the improvement in my case has been really wonderful. My nerves have been quieted, and I am so much improved that I feel like a new woman.

"I cannot say too much for these wonderful remedies, for they have made me well."

We sell the Cooper medicines and consider them well worth a trial by any one afflicted with chronic stomach trouble and its attendant diseases.—Beaton Drug Co.

DO NOT CASH ENTHUSIASM

Moral Drawn from Experience of Broken Bow Boy.

THROWS DOLLARS FOR HOME RUNS

When Diamond is Covered with Coin Friends Begin to Wonder and Ask "Where Did You Get It?"

Moral—Don't manifest your enthusiasm with money.

Arthur Northcutt, a youth of Broken Bow, has been run to earth by the same stolid query with which District Attorney Jerome drove Dick Croker to his castle home in Ireland, "Where did you get it?"

Because he threw dollars to ball players of his home team when they made home runs suspicion was cast upon Northcutt for robbing the postoffice at Broken Bow last July of $30 and he was arrested on the charge. He pleaded guilty to the charge Tuesday morning before Judges T. C. Munger and W. H. Munger of the federal court.

The case was continued for sentence and he was released on his own recognizance with bonds of $1,000. Judge W. H. Munger passing on the case, used detention home methods and as the boy was not 21 when he committed the robbery and is now just past 21, he was allowed to go home with his parents.

Norcutt had carried the mail between the railroad station and the postoffice and while returning home late one night he saw the window of the postoffice open, crawled in and without striking a light took $30 from the drawer. Norcutt had been to the reform school twice, being sent back the second time for taking a revolver from an open window of a residence. When he was again released his parents kept close watch of his coming and going and did not let him out of the house in the evening without they knew just where he was going and when he would return.

Wanted to Play in Band.

He wished to play with the town band and was given permission by his parents. One Saturday night the band played on the town square and after the concert Norcutt started home. On the road he passed the postoffice and entered the open window.

Suspicion was not cast upon him until the Broken Bow team went to a neighboring town to play a ball game and Norcutt accompanied it. When he began to throw out the dollars with a lavish hand the people knew he was throwing money away which he could not afford and wondered how he came in possession of so much money. It was at once surmised that he must have that money taken from the postoffice and he was arrested on the charge.

Judge H. M. Sullivan of Broken Bow represented Norcutt.

CHANCE PRAISES M'CORMICK

Cub Manager Says Big Trainer Was Vital Factor in Pennants.

"The fans critics have overlooked one man in distributing the credit for keeping the world's championship in Chicago," says Frank Chance. "The players have been lauded for their great playing and they have deserved it, but the man who kept the men in shape to do this grand playing has been overlooked.

"Jack McCormick, the trainer of the Cubs, did as much as any player on the team toward bringing the National and the world's championships to Chicago. He has kept the players in first class condition and it was his care that primed them for the struggle with the Tigers. He looked after each player each day and his careful attention to all little injuries is what kept the regulars in the game the greater part of the season.

"It was McCormick who brought Brown around in form to pitch that magnificent game at Detroit. The doctors attending Brownie had about given up all hope of curing his arm in time for the world's championship games when McCormick took charge of the case. By daily massages Jack got that arm, watch, by the way, is one of the best in the business, in shape and you know the result.

"I do not want McCormick overlooked when the laurel wreaths are being passed around. It is true he made no timely hits or sensational catches, but he did something even better by keeping the men in tip-top shape that they might do the things he had no chance to pull off."

In most cases consumption results from a neglected or improperly treated cold. Foley's Honey and Tar cures the most obstinate coughs and prevents serious results. It costs you no more than the unknown preparations and you should insist upon having the genuine in the yellow package.

Sporting Gossip.

St. Louis has one of the strong foot ball teams of the west this year.

Nebraska will now have to win from Colorado. There must be no mistake in that quarter.

The basement league of bowlers is now a great rival of the others in point of interest and good bowling.

Brome is said to be the life and ginger of the whole Creighton team. Every team must have one to keep it jumping.

Creighton made a fine showing against Highland Park, and if the boys do as well at St. Louis there will be great rejoicing at Creighton.

Jack Pfeister pitched another winning game Saturday, when the entire Cub team, which has been held together by banquets and other doings, beat the Southsiders. He pitched the game until it was won and then Durbin finished it.

Michigan has taken it upon itself to defend the west on the gridiron against the east and with the defeat of last fall still ranking the entire student body no effort is being spared to assemble a team which will do honor to the entire west when Pennsylvania is met later in the season.

The local amateurs who are carrying The Bee's suggestion for the organization of a local league are going at the enterprise in a business-like way and are determined to make it a success. There isn't any question of the success of the league, composed of teams from Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Alderman, an Omaha boy, pitched fine ball down in Indiana during the last season under an assumed name. Too bad Alderman didn't use his own name and get all the credit coming to him. He was formerly a reporter on The Bee. He went to Norwich the first of the last season to play in the Connecticut league, which may account for his using a nondeplume.

George Clark, who as manager of the Waterloo team, captured the Iowa state league pennant, says the low standing of Dubuque was by no means the fault of Frank Genins, its manager. Genins was not put in as manager until the team was hopelessly in the rear and even then the owners would not spend money for players, who at best, were hard to get.

Grand Island should succeed in its effort to organize a state base ball league. If there is one state in the west that could make a success of such a league it is Nebraska. Nebraska has some of the best teams to be found anywhere and has in the last few years sent into the big leagues some of their best material. Witness Crawford, Stone, Glade, just for instance. And there are many others. But that aside, let the state league be organized. And Grand Island is a good place to start the ball rolling.

CHANGES IN DRAKE LINEUP

Coach Pell Decides on Shifting Around of the Players.

SUBSTITUTES MADE REGULARS

Practice for the Game with University Has Commenced and a Strenuous Week is Ahead for All Players.

DES MOINES, Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The showing of some of the Drake substitutes Saturday and the showing of some of the regulars may result in one of the biggest shakeups in the local team which the aggregation has known in years.

The playing of Sickle at tackle brought out the remark from side line spectators that with experience here was a second "German Schwinn." Pell is now confronted with the problem of getting the big fellow in the game, and also keeping the two present tackles in the game at some point. Sickle is the slowest of the three and the least experienced, but in the game Saturday he proved able to keep his feet long after most men would have been down.

One of the chances the Drake coaches are considering is the placing of Sickle at Captain Hoffman's tackle, playing Hoffman at Barr's end and letting "Jimmie" fight it out for a place in the battle field. These changes would possibly strengthen the team, both offensively and defensively, although Hoffman was a failure at end when tried a couple of years ago. Barr is not playing his last year's game, which accounts for the possibilities of the change.

The fullback position is another place where changes are liable to take place at any time. Woodrow, the best line bucker on the freshman team a year ago, has failed to materialize this year, and Pell is seriously considering playing Stevens at the position, on account of his bucking ability and also because the Drake team needs a man to handle punts, which the present sub fullback seems able to do to perfection.

Practice for the Iowa game will be started this evening, and it will be a strenuous week for the men on the team. None of them was hurt in the Coe game, and as the Drake team has been fixing their eyes on a game in Des Moines with the Hawkeyes, this week will be the all important one in the Drake calendar. Pell will try to get one or two of the teams of this city to go against Drake in practice scrimmages, although the East high-North high game at the stadium Tuesday will interfere with the scrimmage to a certain extent.

DRAKE ELEVEN PROVES SURPRISE

Shows Great Improvement Over Morningside Game.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—The feature of foot ball during the last week in the Hawkeye state has been the unexpected strength developed by the Drake university team on the eve of its game with the State university. This strength is estimated from comparative showing, of course, but it is evident, nevertheless. Two weeks ago Morningside held Drake to a 6 to 5 score, very nearly capturing the game from Pell's team. About the same time Coe held the Ames team to 17 points. A week ago Minnesota had great difficulty in defeating Ames, only being able to score on field goals. Last Saturday exactly the same team which was pitted against Minnesota had difficulty in scoring 12 points against Morningside, while Drake university defeated Coe by 26 points. Pell made no changes in the team that met Morningside, and from this it is presumed he is well satisfied with the way in which the men are placed.

There is no direct method by which the work of the Drake university team and Coach Catlin's braves can be averaged up. But on the showing of Drake in the games played to date it is believed in Iowa that the blue and white will be able to give a good account of itself when it meets Iowa in Des Moines next Saturday. Drake and Morningside are practically in the same class, with hardly a shade between them. Ames is believed to be really in better form than the score of 12 to 0 against Morningside would indicate. The team had just come out of the grueling contest with Minnesota and there was not much disposition to work evident. The Aggies made two touchdowns, playing a slow, listless sort of game, but with the dogged assurance that meant victory before the end of the last half.

Coach Williams of Ames undoubtedly expected a reaction this week and the Morningside game was an ideal contest for the men to sober up on and start them on the up grade for the harder contests late in the season. This coming Saturday Ames will play Cornell (Ia.) at Ames, and the minor team can probably be expected to offer just enough opposition to put Ames in fighting trim for the game with Nebraska university which follows. On the comparative showing then, Ames will class about four touchdowns better than Drake at the present time, with the team work of both squads fairly well developed.

Catlin, on the other hand, has a comparatively green team, far from perfect in its team play, awkward, uncertain in its formations, but exceedingly willing. There is lots of brute strength in the eighteen men who seem to have been picked to carry the old gold colors. There is also lots of individual foot ball knowledge. But team spirit is sadly lacking and until conditions are more settled, until the lines are drawn closer and the men begin to understand more certainly just who will be "among the present" when the whistle blows for those big games, this situation is bound to continue. The plays with which Iowa defeated Missouri, scoring 21 points to the Tigers 6, were not involved formations, though there were some clever tricks which will be good ground-gainers in the weeks to come. But on the whole the smoothness of execution was lacking, and at critical times the line failed to hold. The tackles and ends on the Iowa team are not up to the standard set by the rest of the squad. Whether this fault will be remedied by the introduction of new men in these positions or the further development of the old men remains to be seen. It is certain, however, that for the next five days the Hawkeyes are in for some hard practice. As the team went against Missouri it is believed that Ames would have defeated Iowa, the difference being represented by possibly two touchdowns, and at the present stage of the race it is evident to every follower of the sport that the Aggies appear to have the better of the argument.

If this supposition is correct, Iowa and Drake are very near on an equality and the difference in form and condition between the two teams next Saturday will be very largely the result of the next five days' work. Iowa weighs more than Drake does by possibly five pounds to the man. Potentially there is more strength in the Iowa squad than in the men under the direction of Coach Pell. If the rawness in the Iowa play wears off this week and if Coach Catlin permits the squad to develop as fast as it is capable of doing during the time specified, the Hawkeyes will win by a safe margin. But if Iowa meets Drake in the same condition that it met Missouri, with all of the uncertainties in present day foot ball, it is not beyond the range of possibilities that Drake should win.

Coe's severe defeat at the hands of Drake was due as much to the stage fright of Bryant's men as anything else. Then it must be remembered that Drake outweighed the Cedar Rapids team almost thirty pounds to the man. The drubbing was a much-needed one and the team will be stronger this coming week than they would have been if they had held Drake to a close score. On Saturday Coe will play Grinnell at Cedar Rapids, and as the teams are fairly well matched the game should be an interesting one.

TRI-CITY BALL LEAGUE FORMING

Officials and Schedule Committee to Be Named at Next Meeting.

Organized amateur base ball was given a decided impetus Monday night at an enthusiastic meeting held at the Walter S. Clarke Sporting Goods store, at which were in attendance representatives from nearly all the amateur clubs of Omaha, South Omaha and Council Bluffs, for the purpose of organizing a Tri-City league to play Sunday games next summer.

Communications were read from the managers of several of the amateur ball parks of the city and it was decided, after considerable discussion, that the division of gate receipts demanded by the park managers was too exorbitant, and it was resolved to, those present, that the owners of parks should be entitled to 25 per cent of the gross receipts of each game played in their parks and the remaining 75 per cent should be divided, 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser of the games.

At the next meeting of the league steps will be taken toward permanent organization, a board of directors will be elected and a schedule committee appointed, also a committee to draft a set of rules and regulations.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

The Gate Citys made a long stride in the league race last night when they took three games from the Reed Brothers' team. The real estate men could not seem to get into step and fell way below their usual game. Plumber Reed says, "There's no justice when a man scores 255 as a straw man and then gets 433 for his own average." Captain Dinger Reed saved some of the honors of the evening by rolling the high total and single game with 576 and 232. Mitchell Defeats Huron.

MITCHELL, S. D., Oct. 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Mitchell won its game of foot ball today from the rejuvenated eleven of Huron college, which is coached this year by Paul Young. The score was 11 to 0. Both touchdowns were made in the first half of the game, on end plays and by using the forward pass some half dozen times. Mitchell won on superior work all around in the first half, but in the second half Huron showed a stronger determination to hold the score down and cross Mitchell's goal if possible. Huron's line play at center showed greater strength than Mitchell, but Mitchell's backs were a tower of strength throughout the game, which was of a scrappy nature and full of vim. The Huron students came down with their band and 125 strong, coming on a special train over the Omaha road.

Basket Ball at Central City.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Oct. 22.—(Special.)—Central City believes it can boast of the best basket ball team in the state, and before the season is over intends to make good its claim. Two years ago the boys had a fine team and they made such an excellent record that their pictures were printed in Spalding's Guide. But this year the boys have a team which promises to surpass all previous records. It is playing under the name of the local Young Men's Christian association and is composed largely of young men who have seen years of hard practice. The Stromsburg team was easy prey for the boys in a game at the Academy of Music at this place Friday evening, being unable to throw a free goal. Secretary Hughes of the Young Men's Christian association intends holding an athletic carnival at this place some time this winter and will ask the fastest teams of the state to be present with a view of accomplishing their downfall.
