"THE MAKING OF A MILLENNIUM"

BY FRANK ROSEWATER

A fascinating story showing how the disinherited of the earth will soon come into their own. It is a book of startling revelations, and presents a final

SOLUTION OF THE LABOR PROBLEM

Strikingly original, its plan is entirely new and goes to the source of capitalism, eradicating this terrible evil without disturbance to private property or abandonment of competition—in fact, inaugurating a steady and healthy improvement from the start. It provides the missing link in our industrial system, a special medium acknowledging patronage, uniting consumer and producer, and redeeming industry from financial depression. No one is allowed to share opportunities except as a consumer—the non-consumer being cut out and continuous trade as well as full values assured.

The plan proposed, called CENTRISM, is sure soon to become a world-wide political issue. The book is a great educator, is full of meat, rich in apt cartoons and other pictoral illustrations. Everyone must read it. (Cloth, $1.00 net; paper, 30c net.) All newsdealers, or postpaid.

CORN SHOW DIRECTORS MEET

Managers of Exposition Will Arrange Money Matter Next Week.

ENTERPRISE PLEASES FARMERS

From All Points Where News of Proposed Show Has Gone Come Pledges of Co-Operation from Corn Producers.

Directors named for the Omaha Corn show will hold a meeting early next week to make the necessary plans for raising the $10,000 to be used as a promotion fund and discuss the work of advertising the exposition, which is likely to asume national proportions.

From all parts of Nebraska, where the news of the proposed corn show has reached, encouraging letters are being received by Omahans, expressing the opinion that Omaha has never attempted anything which will have the hearty co-operation of so many "out-of-town" people, as a corn exposition. The feeling is that the show will be almost wholly for the good and benefit of the people in the great territory of Omaha, and will offer exceptional advantages to farmers and those who are interested in increasing the production of corn.

"Those with whom I have talked while visiting in northern Nebraska and South Dakota, are already discussing the Omaha corn show," said J. H. Osborne, commercial agent of the Missouri river and Northwestern railroad, who is in Omaha after a trip in South Dakota and northern Nebraska. "The first proposal to have a corn show struck a number of farmers as 'just what was wanted.' I came down on the train with a farmer from Minden, Ia., who is enthusiastic over the short term courses given by the agricultural colleges, and he fell right in with the Omaha idea to have a big corn exposition in Omaha, together with a short term course in scientific corn culture.

Farmers Willing to Come.

"All over Nebraska and South Dakota the work of the railroad companies in teaching the farmers to be more careful with the quality of the seed corn and more careful with the planting is appreciated, and anything which will add to it is much desired by the farmers, most of whom want to be shown and are willing to come to Omaha to see the results of the experiments.

"When it is remembered Nebraska produces about 60 to 75 per cent of the commercial seeds of the United States the necessity for Nebraska taking the lead in improvement of the seed and promulgating new ideas as to producing results is seen.

"Out at Waterloo almost a whole county is devoted to raising seed corn. Sections of Nebraska land are leased to seed houses and contracts with the Nebraska farmers are numerous for producing commercial seed corn. As well as being a great corn state, Nebraska is doing more than any other state to raise the highest grades of seed corn and the efforts do not stop there. Alfalfa seed is shipped from Nebraska to almost every point where alfalfa is grown; popcorn comes from Nebraska, and on down the line to the cucumber seed, which is sold by the ounce in packages all over the country, is raised in Nebraska.

"Close to the great fields of pure seed corn, Omaha offers the logical place for holding the corn show. It is in easy reach of the states of the corn belt and I believe will attract more people to Omaha than any other event of the year."

CONE WILL GO WITH BERRY

Chief Clerk to Huntley Joins Old Superior on Rock Island Road.

A. P. Cone, chief clerk in the office of Chief Engineer Huntley of the Union Pacific, has resigned that position to take a similar position with J. B. Berry, chief engineer of the Rock Island. Mr. Cone was chief clerk under Mr. Berry while he was chief engineer of the Union Pacific and has followed his former chief to the Rock Island. He was immensely popular with the men under him and on his departure Thursday for his new field was presented with a fine gold watch and chain by the employes of the office. Mr. Cone is succeeded as chief clerk by J. Sunland, who is at present head draftsman.

Ben. T. White, attorney for the Northwestern, left Friday afternoon for Chicago.

George F. West, agent of the passenger department of the Northwestern, has returned from Sioux City, where he went as escort for the Omaha delegation to the river convention.

L. E. Crounse has been appointed assistant ticket agent of the Northwestern in the Omaha city office, to succeed C. F. Caughey, who has resigned to go into the lumber, hardware and banking business at Brule, Neb.

F. E. Nicoles, superintendent of the Nebraska division of the Omaha road, left for St. Paul Friday to attend the meeting of the employes of the road which is to be held at St. James Sunday.

The Union Pacific is busy filling its large 40,000-ton ice house at North Platte, the ice being cut at Gothenburg and Laramie. Other ice houses along the line are being filled, requiring a large force of men and a large number of cars.
