SHIELDS

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Early of Shields, Robert Early was given a fare-well reception, previous to his departure for the Randolph Field air port in Texas.

The participants all came with well filled baskets, showing their appreciation for the boys. The evening was happily spent. Bob enlisted and was presented with tokens of esteem to remind him of the friends he is leaving behind and his numerous pals figure it will only be a short time when they too will be called upon themselves to protect old Glory, who are about to under-go a grinding process, neccesary in the transformation of a civilian into a man of arms. We know they will not fail in their duty in the sacred cause of Demoracy for which we fight.

While we write these lines the terrible news comes to us that the head temper of war is raging in the Pacific Ocean, despite all our efforts to avert it.

When we think of the wave of suffering that has come on the countless people all over Europe, Asia, Africa and we too, who but yesterday enjoyed the environment of our homes, look ahead to all that will yet come forth from the baneful seed of violence. We who stay at home, know those young men are going to fight our battle and it is our duty, and priviledge, to do all we possibly can to comfort and console the brave boys who are shouldering this burden. Let us learn lessons. Never believe any war will be smooth and easy or that any who embarks on this strange voyage can measure the tides and hurricanes he will encounter. The statesmen, who yield to war fever, must realize that once the signal is given he is no longer the master of policy, but a slave of unforseeable and uncontrollable events. Incompetent commanders, untrustworthy allies, ugly suprises, awful miscalculations, all take their seat at the council board on the declaration of war. Always remember that we can win. That would not be the way if the other didn't think the same. Though with the united efforts of 26 seperate enlightened nations we trust our soldier boys we'll soon be permitted to return to their homes and families, conscious of having discharged the highest duty of American citizanship.

DEATH-TEST PROVED IT!

Death-Test?...It was this way:...One strict 5-quart fill of some one big-brand oil of quality went into each of six duplicate cars. The referee snapped the locks—no oil could be added. All cars sped till oils and engines quit dead. One brand—Conoco Nth—out-mileaged the runner-up by 74% and lasted for more than twice the mileage averaged by all its Death-Tested rivals. They were mere smoky smears—engines ruined—when the fill of Conoco Nth oil was still up above half! That's economy. Get the whole certified record at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station and you'll want Conoco Nth—the oil with the plus of OIL-PLATING to make prompt Winter starting safe. Continental Oil Co.
