PERUNA EDITORIAL NO. 2.

Dr. Hartman has claimed for many years that Peruna is an EXCELLENT CATARRH REMEDY. Some of the doctor's critics have disputed the doctor's cisim as to the efficacy of Peruna.

Since the ingredients of Peruna are no longer a secret, what do the medisal authorities say concerning the remedies of which Peruna is composed? Take, for instance, the ingredient HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS, OR GOLDEN SEAL. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal estarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in sessed mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Peruna, CORYDALIS FORMOSA, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic.

GEDRON SEEDS is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. THE SEEDS ARE TO BE FOUND IN VERY FEW DRUG STORES. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a litter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases SE SUBSTITUTE FOR QUININE.

OIL OF COPAIBA, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genise-arinary membranes.

Uceful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys. These opinions as to the ingredients of Peruna are held by all writers on the subject, including Bartholow and Soudder.

of the pharynx), chronic coryza (catarrh of the head). This writer classes hydrastis as a stomachic tonic, useful in atonic dyspepsia (chronic gastric catarrh), catarrh of the duodenum, catarrh of the gall duct, catarrh of the intestines, catarrh of the kidneys (chronic Bright's disease), catarrh of the bladder, and catarrh of other pelvic organs.

BARTHOLOW REGARDS COPAIBA as an excellent remedy for chronic catarrh of the bladder, chronic bronchitis (catarrh of the bronchial tubes). BARTHOLOW STATES THAT CUBER, an ingredient of Peruna, promotes the appetite and digestion, increases the circulation of the blood. Useful in chronic nasal catarrh, fellicular pharyngitis (catarrh of the pharynx), increasing the tonicity of the mucous membranes of the throat. It also re-Meyes hoarseness. Useful in atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stemach), and in shronic catarrh of the colon and rectum, catarrh of the bladder, prostatorrhea, and chronic bronchial affections.

MILLSPAUGH, MEDICINAL PLANTS, one of the most authoritative works on medicinal herbs in the English language, in commenting upon COLLAINSONIA CAMADENSIS, says that it acts on the pneumographic and vaso motor nerves. It increases the secretions of the mucous membranes in general. In the mountains of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Carolina, collinsonia canadensis is considered a panacea for many disorders, including headache, colic, cramp, dropsy and indigestion. DR. SCUDDER regards it highly as a remedy in chronic diseases of the lungs, heart disease and asthma These citations ought to be sufficient to show to any candid mind that Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Surely, such kerbal remedies, that command the enthusiastic confidence of the highest authorities obtainable, brought together in proper combination, ought to make a catarrh remedy of the highest efficacy. ### A CLEVER RUSE.

The Way of an Ingenious Paris Merchant Saved Cable Tolls. wealthy merchant in Paris who does an extensive business with Japan was informed that a prominent firm in Yokohama had failed, but the name of the firm he could not learn. He could have learned the truth by cabling; but, to save expense, instead he went to a well known banker who had received the news and requested him to reveal the name of the firm.

"That's a very delicate thing replied the banker, "for the news is not official, and if I give you the name I might incur some responsibility." The merchant argued, but in vain, and finally he made this proposition: "I will give you," he said, "a list of ten firms in Yokohama, and I will ask you to look through it and then tell me, without mentioning any name, whether or not the name of the firm which has falled appears in it. Surely you will do that for me?"

"Yes," said the banker, "for if I do not mention any name I cannot be held responsible in any way."

The list was made. The banker looked through it and as he handed it back to the merchant said: "The name of the merchant who has failed is there.' "Then I've lost heavily," replied the merchant, "for that is the firm with which I did business," showing him a name on the list. "But how do you know that is the firm which has falled?" asked the "A man in Illinois is trying to live banker in surprise.

"Very easily," replied the merchant. "Of the ten names on the list only one is genuine-that of the firm with which I did business. All the others are fletitious."

What to Do When It Is Planned to Go Into Agriculture.

in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it falls to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Within the last few years the possibilities of making money from the land has begun to impress itself on those who have watched the steady upward trend of prices of foodstuffs, and people are beginning to inquire for books and literature pertaining to farming, trucking and poultry raising, says the New York Post,

Before starting out to look for a home in the country decide what branch of farming is to be followed, whether dairying, poultry raising, fruit growing, market gardening, etc., for the particular branch that is to be followed will. in a large measure, determine the location. To put all your eggs in one basket is very risky, especially if you don't know anything about the basket. Many men, whose judgment in business matters has always been conservative, have gone to the country and have sunk all their capital at once into a business of which they knew absolutely nothing. Visit the homes of successful farmers and you will find that 90 per cent of them either began in a small way or were born and raised in the business. In New Jersey there is a man who started a few years ago with a small flock of fowls. In 1904 he had $14,000 invested in his plant and, after deducting 10 per cent for depreciation and 5 per cent for interest, cleared $7,000, To start a poultry plant requires less capital than any other line of farming. $100 being enough to make a good start for a beginner. The market garden business requires a comparatively small amount of land. but it must be good land. To start with a small forcing house, 20 by co feet, will require a capital of $1,500," exclusive of rent. A 10 per cent return on the investment is considered a good average. The fruit industry fors a proposal who beasts of having lilted grown fremendously within the last few a number of men years and offers inducements to the investor. To plant and equip a twentyacre fruit farm will take from $2,000 to $3,500, exclusive of rent and labor, To a man of modest means dairying is out of the question. To establish an up-to-date dairy, carrying 100 sows, will require from $10,000 to $20,000 in addition to labor, and in dairying the labor bill is a big item, Nothing has been said of the charm and pleasures such a life has to offer. as compared to the life in the city, for here again comes in the queston of loention. In the south the social element is much more in evidence than in the north, due in no small measure to climatic conditions. Not far from Washington, D. C., there is a delightful community of cosmopolitan men and women whose chief source of income is made in raising hay and horses. The rule of eight hours work is rigidly adhered to, and time is found for riding, dancing and all those things that go to make the life there so attractive. This social side of rural life is im portant, especially for town dwellers, and should be considered first in choosing a location. Perhaps this may seem like a strong statement, but when one stops to realize what a radical change there is from the bustle and life of the city to the stillness of the country. where sometimes for hours at a stretch not a sound is to be heard or a soul seen, the importance of this point impresses itself very forcibly. "Whither thou goest, I will go" is all very fine in theory, but a man can hardly expect his family to be willing to give up the companionship of people for that of cows, chickens and pigs without some compensations.

SUNDOWN DOCTORS.

Peculiar to Washington and Practice Only After 4:30 P. M. "Sundown doctors" are an institution peculiar to Washington City. They are an amiable company of medical practitioners who ply their trade only after nightfall.

Not that these gentlemen prefer darkness to light if they had their d'ruthers, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, nor are their deeds of a questionable complexion that looks best in the shade.

Sundown doctors have no ways that are dark or tricks that are vain. They are as open as the day that they may not utilize. If they practice their profession by candle light rather than by sunshine that's Uncle Sam's fault, not their own.

Sundown doctors begin to get busy only after 4:30 in the afternoon. From 9 to that hour, poor souls, they are holding their noses to the grindstones over the government desks, for one must live, don't you know, however soaring one's scientific ambitton, and Uncle Sam's wages do come in mighty regular and handy. So that in a pigeonhole is the story of the origin of the struggling fraternity of sundown physicians at the federal capital.

There are thousands of instances. Young physicians with their careers yet to carve secure clerkships in some of the governmental departments of Washington in order to keep the pot bubbling while they are getting their medicinal education after office hours. Their diplomas thus laboriously achieved, they hang out their shingles tentatively, holding fast, however, to their government positions until securely established professionally. A job in the hand, you know, is worth a whole city directory full of uncaptured patients. Never let go a sure thing till you are of a surer.

Possum.

Preferably possum should be cooked over a wood fire in a log cabin and seasoned with the odorous blue smoke of hickory and ash as the lid of the oven is lifted now and again to give a glimpse of the promised viand to those who wait with whetted appetites for the coming feast. With the possum and taters there should be served either the ordinary Kentucky corn poneif such an adjective may be not improperly applied to anything so rareor the Olympian cracklin' bread of the hog killing season. In justice to the possum it must be said that neither corn pone nor crackling bread is necessary, but it serves well not only to mop up the gravy, but also to prevent the possum and the yams from melting in the mouth too rapidly for the flavor to be enjoyed in the fullest. The finest possums on earth are found in the woodlands of the Pennyrile district of Kentucky, and they reach perfection about the time the perfumed pawpaw becomes so ripe that it falls from the parent stem and reposes in all of its golden beauty in the orange tinted leaves that the earth has first claimed as tribute from the trees for her en richment.-Louisville Courier-Journal

Explosion by Music.

One of the most dangerous of all explosives is a black powder called iodide of nitrogen. When it is dry the slightest touch will often cause it to explode with great violence. There appears to be a certain rate of vibration which this compound cannot resist. In experiments to determine the cause of its extreme explosiveness some damp lodide of nitrogen was rubbed on the strings of a bass viol. It is known that the strings of such an instrument will vibrate when those of a similar instrument having an equal tension are played upon. In this case, after the explosive had become thoroughly dry upon the strings, another bass viol was brought near and the strings sounded. At a certala note the lodide of nitrogen on the prepared instrument exploded. It was found that the explosion occurred only when a rate of vibration of sixty a second was communicated to the prepared strings. Vibration of the G string caused an explosion, while that of the E string bad no effect.-Chieago Record-Herald.

THE CLIMATE IS IDEAL

Great Wealth Acquired in Growing Grain.

Writing from Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, Canada, W. H. Ellwanger, who was formerly a resident of Green Moun- That Is tain, lowa, says: "The climate in summer is ideal for growing grain. Long. clear days of sunshine, no bad storms. We never need to guard against cyclones. I never saw a better climate in my life. We made more money during the season of 1906 than any previous five years in Central Iowa-one of the best districts in the State." But Mr. Ellwanger was a resident of the town, and it might be more interesting to read what a farmer has to say about Western Canada. From hundreds of letters, all filled with words of praise, recounting success in Western Canada, there has been one selected. It is as follows:

Paynton, Sask., Canada, Dec. 10th, 1907.

To Whom This May Concern: I moved to this address Feb. 3, 1907, from Montgomery, Iowa, and took a homestead 35 miles north of Paynton. It was cold when I moved here, but it did not stay cold long; it broke up the 8th of February, and was not so cold after that; but the spring was late on account of the heavy snow fall, but in spite of the late spring I saw better grain than I ever saw in the States raised this year. I helped a man finish sowing oats the 4th of July, and they made fair oats. In a good year oats will go 100 bushels to the acre. and wheat 25 to 50; all root crops do well here. I saw turnips weigh 7 and 8 pounds. I raised potatoes this year that measured 111/2 inches one way and 181/4 the other in circumference. This is a fine stock country; hay in abundance, good water, plenty of fuel free and plenty of building material, the government gives us timber to saw into lumber, and we can get it sawed for about $6.00 per thousand. All small fruit grows wild here. Then there are ducks, geese, grouse, pheasants, deer, mebse, elk and fish in abundance. I was over to Turtle Lake yesterday, where there is lots of fishing being done this winter. I saw about a carload of white fish in one pile. I gave 25 cents for 86 pounds of fish. What do you think of that. Brother Yankee? I think this is a fine place, both to make money and to live. There was an old man up here visiting his brother-in-law. Now this man owns land close to Des Moines, Iowa, and is in good circumstances, but he took a homestead and says he will be contented if he can only put in the rest of his days in Canada. He would get up in the morning and look out of the door and say:

the chance that there is here for a man that has a little muscle and a little brains. Three cheers for Canada! W. A. SPICE. (Signed.) This is the temperature through No-
