NOW CLEAN UP, DRESS UP AND SHOW PROGRESS

Don't Be Backward in the Use of the Paint Brush or the Hoe and Rake.

From Saturday's Daily.

Clean up!

The foregoing is the spring slogan. Call it brush up, paint up or any other name, but the meaning is the same. Clean up. This is the time of year to do it. Paint your houses and fences. Trim and rake your lawns and shrubbery and beautify your property generally. Do this and you will have done your share toward improving the general appearance of the city. Aside from this you will take pride in the appearance of things generally and "pat yourself on the back." There is a national movement on foot which stands for a general cleaning up and painting up. It has been observed in hundreds of cities of the United States and is coming to Plattsmouth in a short time. Anticipate it. Start now and beat others to it. You will be the winner, and satisfaction and self-esteem will be yours. Nothing adds more to the appearance of a city than well painted houses. All self-respecting citizens will point with pride to the well painted business district and to the nicely kept and clean-looking residence district. But it is esential that everybody do his share. Buy a little paint. Paint is sanitary. Paint is a preservative. It destroys millions of germs that infest decaying and rotten wood. Paint is not a luxury or an extravagance. It is a necessity. It is economical. It attracts and makes for that feeling of health and cleanliness that means prosperity. And, while you are about it, do not neglect the interior. Fresh wall paper, renovated and cleaned carpets and rugs, newly painted woodwork, and other things too numerous to mention, all lend to make the home bright and the wife and kiddies healthy and happy. So clean up and paint up. Clean out the cellar and the attic, the back yard as well as the front yard. You will be pleased with yourself and the community will be pleased with you.
