Harold Armstrong and John Finkle, who have been working near Grant, in the western portion of the state, returned home a week ago in order to attend the old settlers' reunion, but finding that it had been called off were somewhat disappointed. Now that a new date has been set for the celebration, they are going to await until after the picnic before returning to the west to resume their work.

In the interest of the old settlers' reunion, Mr. and Mrs. Mat McQuinn, C. L. Graves and Ray Frans were in Plattsmouth one day this week getting the machinery started for a successful advertising campaign. Mrs. McQuinn, who is an expert auto driver, piloted the committee over the intervening distance between Union and Plattsmouth and return. They all concede Mrs. McQuinn an excellent driver.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Banning and son Hollis, Ray Frans and Clifton Garrison left Union on the 22nd of July for an extended trip through the west by auto. At Cheyenne, Wyoming, they took in the Frontier Days celebration, and Clifton was obliged to remain there on account of illness and later returned to Union. The remainder of the party went on through Casper, Wyoming, and the oil fields of Wyoming to Yellowstone park where they enjoyed the great wonders of this garden of nature. From there they motored on through Montana, Idaho, stopping at Idaho Falls and other points, and taking in Ogden and Salt Lake City, Utah; back through Laramie, Wyoming, and Denver, Colorado, home. In all the trip covered 3,041 miles and except when rained out, the party camped by the way and cooked their own meals. Mr. Banning lost his suitcase containing about $75 worth of clothing and blankets, but as a result of an advertisement in the paper at Axtel, Nebraska, has located the same and will receive it immediately. Hollis was unfortunate enough to lose a pocketbook containing $35, otherwise the trip was greatly enjoyed, and extended over four weeks of time.

Return to Home in West

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dore, of Grant, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. Dore's parents, Robert Dore and wife, of Nehawka, for a week, were driven to Union by Forest Cunningham, where they took the train for Omaha, on their way to their home in the west. Mr. Dore thought it would be a good idea to have the Cass county news conveyed to him semi-weekly through the columns of the Journal and accordingly ordered the paper sent to his address in the west. While he likes this country very well, he also says the west is a great country and everything is going along nicely out there.

This is His View Point

Readers of the Plattsmouth Journal will note with considerable interest no doubt, that the paper has recently taboed a part of those heavy editorials that has been running loose low these many years, and is now filling up space with news items from Union.—Nehawka Register. Well, that is the way our friend looks at the matter. Glad he is observing and seems to be sitting up and taking some notice.
