Political whitewashing is attaining a perfection not entirely to the liking of the people. Congressman Lorimer of Illinois and Secretary Ballinger of the president's family have both received a beautiful coat lately.

It is going some and marks a new era in ocean travel, when it is made a matter of record that the great passenger liner, Mauretania, made the round trip twelve days.

The Nebraska State Farmers' Congress will hold a very important meeting at Lincoln during the week of Organized Agriculture, Jan. 30th to 26th, 1911. Every farmer in Nebraska interested in the future welfare of the farming industry should be present.

Apropos of the comment going the rounds of society women smoking and booting among the rich and fashionable dames, it is noted that two of the snottiest hotels in San Francisco have lifted the ban against such things and hereafter if the rich society dames wish to indulge in these pastimes in these big hostelries they have the consent and concurrence of the management and apartments placed at their disposal for these objectional luxuries. What is the fashionable world coming to?

The Union Pacific railroad, as we have noted in previous issues, is devoting its advertising space of late to educational matters, proving of vast benefit to those taking advantage of their advice and suggestions. This week their space is devoted to matters educational along the lines of their employes. They believe in the employes of their road being in advanced ranks and to that end offer splendid facilities for their promotion. Read their adv., those who intend making railroading their life work and then write Gerrit Fort, their traffic manager at Omaha, for information relative thereto, and you will be given all inside information needed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chisen visited at the home of Kriechner Bros. last Friday.

Milo Gilbert has made several good sales of blooded hogs the past month. Milo has got some of the best hogs in this part of the country.

Russell Snyder and Roland Goodwin came home from school at Lincoln to spend the holidays.

Fred Judkow has his new hog shed about completed.

Wiggle Creek people are preparing for a good Christmas tree entertainment Saturday evening, Dec. 24th. Come out and see the bright little faces that will be there.

Henry Goodwin and John Squires have each moved their mail boxes into better places for the carrier.

Don't forget the big Christmas entertainment at Miss Lula McFadden's school, Prairie Gem district, on Friday evening, Dec. 23, at 8 o'clock. Everybody is invited to attend.

John Chapiewski was putting a new head on the windmill at A. J. Lindgren's last Thursday.

Joe Lindahl left last Saturday for his home near Central City.

The new 35-horse power engine for the mill will soon be here. This engine has just double the power of the old one.

Mrs. J. H. Bone arrived home this week from York, where she had been visiting at the home of Wm. Engle.

E. C. Thornton and son, Clifton, and Jeff Williams were repairing the leak in the mill race Tuesday.

There was another washout on the mill race Sunday night, which was repaired again Tuesday.

Robert Dinsdale is building a new barn this week.

The new barn of A. L. Enderlee is completed.

Webster township roads were nice and smooth in a few days after the snow, while other roads were so rough that it was hard to make time over them. The road north and south from W. O. Brown's to the Hawk school house used to be the worst road in Sherman county. It is now one of the best. From Loup City to the mill is another good piece of road which at one time was one of the very worst.

W. H. Gunn left last week for his home at Kearney to spend the holidays with his family.

Miss Madge Holmes' school in the Chas. Snyder district, is closed for a three weeks' vacation.

Vern Alleman hauled a load of manure out and put it on one of the high grades on the route north of his place.

Henry Goodwin sold about a 1200 pound horse to a horse buyer for $160 Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Timson from near Sargent are visiting at the home of F. G. Casteel this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Iver Lyhne left this week for a two weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Howard county. M. Frederickson will attend to the chores during their absence.

Art Wilson had the corn shellers at his place last Thursday.

Jim McBeth has sold his fat cattle.

Lloyd Alleman is getting along finely.

Ed Kilpatrick and son Ernest have been hauling corn to market the past week.

Miss Henrietta Conger visited her friend, Miss Lillie Brown, last Saturday night and Sunday.

Carrier on Route 2 wishes all his patrons a Merry Christmas. This will be the last Christmas carrier will get to eat dinner at home on Christmas for twelve years, as it will be that long before Christmas again comes on Sunday. The carrier will be at the post office for one hour on Christmas day while the office is open and anyone looking for packages may get them at that time.

"There is money in hogs," sounds attractive to farmers of Nebraska where the swine industry has a most permanent foothold in the alfalfa fields. Where a pound of pork grows better and cheaper than elsewhere. Better methods of hog raising will be discussed by swine breeders, Jan. 18th, 1911, at the Agricultural Meetings at Lincoln.

Practical Railroad School for Western Boys

The established policy of the Union Pacific Company toward its efficient employes is to promote them to positions made vacant, provided they have been loyal to the service of the road and have fitted themselves for promotion.

Union Pacific not only promotes its own men, but offers to them, free of charge, the means to obtain the knowledge necessary to fit them for holding positions of greater responsibility.

Union Pacific Company maintains a free Correspondence School at Omaha. Instruction in all lines of practical railroad work is given to its employes first, then to the sons of its employes, then to the sons of the families living along the Union Pacific Lines.

It is these progressive policies that make the Union Pacific

Standard Road of the West

such a factor in the prosperity of the regions which it serves.

Interesting booklets descriptive of "Union Pacific Country" are free on request. Make your wants known at your local ticket office or write to me.
