Those new style Husking Gloves—Hall's patent—advertised in the Advertiser, can be seen and purchased at Shellenberger's, McPherson's block.

Like "Quaker Guns"—Artificial teeth are of little use, and easily detected. Take care of the real ones. All you need is fragrant Sozodont. Use it daily, and your teeth will be the last of nature's gifts to fail you.

J. S. Rand, State agent for the Washington Life Insurance Company of New York, arrived in town Monday. He will remain in town several days, in order to give our people a chance to receive the great benefits offered by his company.

A young man named Kinnison was arrested Friday by Marshal Campbell, charged with stealing a pair of boots from the store of Wm. T. Den. He was brought before Justice Ebright, who on a hearing of the case, held him to appear at next term of court.

The Crowder Bros., the extensive breeders of pure Berkshire Swine, Springfield, Ill., have just received twenty-seven head imported stock, twelve direct from England and fifteen from Canada. These gentlemen are determined to keep up with the times and demand for this valuable breed of hogs.

Marshal Campbell sports a plug hat and blacked boots. On being interogated as to this new phase in personal adornments, David Archies having any school funds pass through his hands; and we believe him. Quite an improvement, Marshal—keep it up.

C. W. Wheeler, the Master Bridge Builder, arrived in our city on Saturday. We are sorry to hear of his recent loss at Trenton, Mo. The greater portion of the bridge he was erecting over Grand river, at that point, was carried away by the recent freshet, and caused a loss to the Judge of over $350.

J. R. Bell, of the firm of J. R. Bell & Son, is in the city. As will be seen by notice elsewhere, the firm has been dissolved, Simeon Bell retiring. The business will be carried on as heretofore by the remaining member. This firm has done much, very much, toward building up this section, in furnishing lumber cheap, and its continuance will be a public blessing.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Porter of Pennsylvania—His Opinion.—"Life Assurance may be employed advantageously for the benefits of families and individuals of all classes of society, as well for those in affluence as those in moderate circumstances. All may, by the exertion of a little foresight and a small outlay, protect their families from want."—Insure in the Washington Life.

We call attention to the advertisement of "The Freemason, for 1871," published by Geo. Frank Gouley, St. Louis. We have before spoken of this publication, and in referring to it again, have no hesitancy in pronouncing it the best Masonic publication in the world. Subscribers will be received at this office, or by Dr. Blake at his office. We hope the "brethren" hereabouts will make up a club for 1871. Call and see a specimen copy.

I insure in the Washington Life Because it offers all the advantages offered by other companies, and in addition this peculiar advantage: Dividends non-forfeitable by its charter. Moreover, in the event of the non-payment of premium when due on any policy, the company will, without notice from the insured, hold such policy good, so long as the dividend created thereon will pay the premium at the annual rate called for by the policy.

Special Offer to New Subscribers to our Weekly.—We have just completed arrangements with the proprietor of the Excelsior Home Monthly, published in New York, to give this excellent magazine one year as premium, to every new subscriber to our Weekly; also, to all renewals, who send in immediately, enclosing our regular subscription price, $2. The Excelsior contains 32 pages Imperial octavo, which is about one-third larger in size of page, than ordinary magazines—is devoted to the dissemination of entertaining pure literature; contains Stories, Puzzles, Pictures, Rebuses, Music, &c., &c.—embracing Gentlemen's and News Department, Ladies' Department, (with special Editor, embellished with Engravings of late designs of patterns for Ladies' and Children's Dresses. Also, "Young Folk's Department." We consider it a real gem. Rev. M. N. OLMSTED, Editor, with A. R. STARK, L. L. D., Associate Editor for the South, published by the proprietor, C. L. VAN ALLEN. The pictures alone of the Magazine we consider worth many times its price.

The Supper given by the ladies of the Methodist Church of this city, at McPherson's Hall, on Saturday evening last, was as jolly a gathering as we have attended for many a year. "Everybody and their family," almost, were there; brides and grooms, Senators, Rail Road Presidents, Editors, Internal Revenue and Postal Departments, old and young, handsome and—there! there! stop—all handsome; all happy as clams. The tables were well filled with all the appetite could desire. Everybody's appetite was satisfied except those of Lett, Tisdel, the Junior of the Democrat, and the Senior of the Advertiser. They, poor fellows, went home hungry—crying for more oysters.

It was intended that the venerable Peter Cartwright should have been there, for whose benefit this supper was gotten up, but owing to feebleness he was unable to reach the city. He will be here, perhaps to-night, or on Wednesday. All who attended the supper were allowed to retain their tickets for the Lecture when he does arrive.

Great credit is due the parties getting up this supper for its ample propisions and good management.

LITERARY NOTICES.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR DECEMBER.—We have heard enthusiastic readers declare that this holiday number was the best that has ever been issued, and when we look at the varied and superb embellishments and the captivating stories, we are inclined to think it is so. The steel plate, "Olive Plants," is a pretty domestic scene; the beautiful frontispiece, "Sorrow Under the Sun," is a romance in itself—such a world of expression is in the face of the girl leaning from the window sill; the colored "Pattern for a Slipper," furnishes just the design for a holiday present; and the colored Fashion Plate, as usual, is unsurpassed. Nothing of the kind can compare with this in all a fashion plete should be. We like the wood-cut—"An Idyl on the Ice," and the patterns for dresses, winter wraps, &c., are uncommonly elegant. The music is "Alone and from Home. The literary matter, in prose and poetry, places this magazine at the head of its class, and the editorial department, with many readers, is the special attraction. Great inducements are offered to new subscribers. All new subscribers for 1871, who subscribe by the first of January, shall receive the December number free—making Thirteen Months in all. Price $2.50 a year (which also includes a large steel engraving.) Four copies, $6. Five copies (and one gratis,) $8. "The Lady's Friend" and "The Saturday Evening Post" (and one engraving), $4. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia. Sample copies sent gratis.

THE WESTERN EDUCATIONAL REVIEW enters upon its tenth number, with a circulation exceeding any other Educational Magazine in the United States, with the single exception of the American Educational Monthly, of New York. This immense success has been achieved by the publication of uniformly first-class articles, and a rigid adherence to what constitutes a true Educational journal. At the beginning of the second volume, its reading matter will be increased one-third. Sample copies are sent free on receipt of stamp. All who subscribe now for 1871 get the remaining numbers of this year free.

Published by E. F. Hobart & Co., 701 Chestnut street, St. Louis, Mo.

T. S. ARTHUR'S PUBLICATIONS.—We are pleased to find on our table the publications of T. S. Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia. "Arthur's Home Magazine," now in its thirty-sixth volume. "Children's Home," eighth volume. The "Workingman" about to complete its first volume.

The "Home Magazine" is the most brilliant, high-toned, artistic, charming and readable of all the Ladies' Magazines; combining their most attractive features, with new ones, not found in any others. $2.

The "Children's Home" is as bright as the stars. The little ones leap with delight as they open it; there is no bounds to their praise. If there is any one subject upon which Mr. Arthur exceds, it is his most entertaining way of pleasing the children. $1.25 per year.

The "Workingman," like its British prototype, presents in each number one, or more than one, large cartoon, of a character so simple, instructive, cheering, and beautiful, that it will come to the family circle, or hang on the sitting-room wall, like a ray of moral light, and make the way of home duty seem brighter and plainer. 60 cents per annum.

BALLOU'S MAGAZINE FOR DECEMBER.—The engravings are excellent, the descriptions ingenious and eloquent, while the stories are remarkable for their interest and great originality. Mrs Edson finishes her continued story, and Horatio Alger, Jr., concludes his "Sink or Swim" in a satisfactory manner, as the juveniles will learn when they read it. Macy has finished a sea story in his own peculiar vein. Stephens gives us "An Evening with a Catamount." Darling tell us "Why our Wedding was Postponed," in his most comical manner. In addition to this there are many articles worth reading, in the shape of sketches, poetry, etc., all for the sum of fifteen cents per copy, or $1.50 per year. The December number closes Vol. 32. Thomas & Talbot, 63 Congress street, Boston, publishers.

GODY'S LADY'S BOOK for December is rich in embellishments. "First Time of Asking" is a fine steel plate; then we have the usual steel plate title page; two elegant Christmas pictures: "Remember the Poor" and "Christmas Morning;" a splendid Berlin wool-work pattern, printed in a variety of colors; a six-figure colored fashion-plate, a large extension sheet, containing an innumerable variety of dresses and articles for ladies in demand at the present time; children's dresses, aprons, etc., etc. There is also a great variety of useful designs given in the work-department. Who could keep house without Godey? It contains just what everybody wants in a book. The fashion plates are simply incomparable, and the numbers for 1870 have advanced this American household necessity, to a still higher place, if possible, in the affections of our people. Every successive issue of Godey seems the best one. Now is the time to subscribe, or renew your subscription to the Lady's Book. $4.25 will pay for the Advertiser and Lady's Book one year.

Life Assurance.—The important subject of Life Assurance is gradually and deservedly gaining public attention by the force of its own merits. The time is not far distant when the death of a man leaving his family unprovided for by a policy of Life Assurance, will leave a stain of neglected duty upon his character. It is the duty which every man owes to his own dependants and to the community. He who neglects it is not a good husband, father or citizen. He has no right even to risk the chance of throwing the future support of his family, in case of his death, on the community at large, or on relatives and friends, when it is in his power so easily and surely to provide against such contingencies. Of all the companies doing business, the Washington stands second to none.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means within the reach of every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.
