HELP WANTED—MALE

Miscellaneous.

NOT MANY MEN KNOW THAT AS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION the United States navy offers opportunities as good as those offered in civil life and in the cases of some men opportunities that are distinctly BETTER.

For, in addition to steady, regular pay, a man in the Navy is given systematic advancement, is given all his living expenses, his first outfit of clothing, free medical attendance if sick and the chance and incentive to SAVE MONEY.

Of even greater value is the training, physical and mental, the healthy, regular life, the companionship with ambitious, self-respecting, helpful associates and the chances to broaden by study and travel. These are things which in civil life are rarely combined with a business proposition.

There is great variety of work, too. A man may be employed as seaman, electrician, stenographer, machinist, bookkeeper, fireman, clerk, blacksmith, musician, shipfitter, steward, cook, plumber, carpenter, baker, coppersmith or in the hospital corps.

The Navy department desires that these opportunities be brought to the attention of all young men of good character over 17 years of age. No others are wanted or accepted. The Navy Recruiting Office at Postoffice Office Building, Omaha, Neb., will gladly explain all the opportunities and requirements. Call and have a talk with him, or write for full information.
