THE ADVERTISER.

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1872.

Republican State Convention.

Head Quarters of the State Republican Committee.

NEBRASKA CITY, Feb. 26, 1872.

A Republican State Convention will be held at the city of Lincoln on Wednesday, the 8th day of May, A. D. 1872, at 3 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of electing six delegates to the next National Republican Convention for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President of the United States, to be held at Philadelphia, June 5th, A. D., 1872.

The basis of representation to the State Convention will be the last Congressional vote for John Taffe. Each county will be entitled to one delegate for each one hundred votes cast at said election for John Taffe, with an additional delegate for fifty and upward in excess thereof, and each organized county will be entitled to one additional delegate.

The following table exhibits the number of delegates to which each county is entitled:

Adams	1	Antelope	1
Boone	1	Burt	5
Butler	2	Buffalo	1
Cass	10	Colfax	2
Cheyenne	1	Cuming	3

NEMAHA COUNTY REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

The members of the Nemaha County Republican Central Committee are respectfully requested to meet at the Court House in Brownville on Saturday, April 6, 1872, at 2 o'clock

p. m. to consider the proper course to pursue under the above call, and to transact such other business as may present itself for consideration.

U. S. COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

We learn from private and reliable authority, that the late National Agricultural Convention, held at Washington City, Feb. 15th, expressed in private circles a decided dissatisfaction with the present incumbent, Judge Watts, from Pennsylvania; more particularly on account of his location. It was held that the west being the great agricultural producing portion of the country, is therefore entitled to that office. While we know nothing of Judge Watts, either as to his qualifications, or peculiar fitness for the position, we agree in that there is force in the objections. We understand further, that in all probability, an effort will be made to fill the place with a new man—one from the west. The predecessor of the present incumbent, Gen. Capron, who was honored with, and accepted a call to fill the position of Agricultural Director in Japan, was from Illinois, and his efforts and labors seemed to meet with universal approval. We hope if a change is made, that the position will be accorded to the west. The rapid progress and development our own young State has made, and is still making in Agricultural matters, really gives us as much claim to the office as any other State. In this connection we take the liberty of suggesting a name, one which would do honor to our young commonwealth, and strike with pleasing and musical euphony upon the ears and other senses of the people of the country at large who take an active interest in Agricultural and Horticultural matters—we mean Col. ROBERT W. FURNAS, of this city, whose name is familiar to every one, not alone in this State, but to every live Agriculturist or Horticulturist in the Union, from his identification with their interests as a worker, producer, writer, etc. His services at Richmond, Va., last season, will not soon be forgotten by our people, and while they established the Col. in the affections and gratitude of Nebraskians, they surrounded his name with a halo of honor and high merit recognized by every one identified with the interests indicated.

We call upon our Senators and Representative at Washington to investigate this matter, and if our understanding be found correct, and a vacancy is likely to occur, urge upon them to present the name of Col. Furnas as Watts' successor.

National Agricultural Society.

The recent National Agricultural Convention held at Washington City, February 15th, resulted in the organization of a National Agricultural Society. The officers are W. G. Beekwith of Michigan, President. A Vice President from each State—Maj. D. H. Wheeler for Nebraska,—Ben Perley Poore of Massachusetts. Secretary and Treasurer. Robt. W. Furnas, of Nebraska, chairman of the Executive committee.

Recently the question came up before our Supreme Court as to the legality of negroes serving as jurors. Judges Lake and Crounse decided that the legality attaching was undoubted. Mason dissented. As a dissenter, Mason is a success. We verily believe he would dissent from any opinion given by his associates unless, peradventure, they decided that he, Mason, was the smartest judge of the three.

The Nebraska City Chronicle favors an extra session of the Legislature. The people do not. They want the time of the barnacles to expire before another session of the Legislature is held.

A Very Don Quixotte.

In last week's Democrat, appeared a quarter column card from W. R. Leach, Esq., lessee of the Star Hotel, Brownville, Nebraska, from which we clip the following:

But he makes a studied effort to injure my business and revenge himself upon me, because I told him during the campaign last fall that carpet-bagging would not pay in Nemaha.—Now, Major, when you came to this county and assumed control of the republican party, we had six hundred majority? Where are we now? You run the party like old Beaubien kept tavern, "Like h—l!"

Here is my opinion of you:

"Almighty vengeance sternly waits to roll
Rivers of sulpur on your treacherous soul."

W. R. LEACH.

Now, friend Rufe, evidently expects a response to his poetical, classical and chaste effusion and we are too kindly disposed to disappoint him

We will pass over his untrue and ungentlemanly aspersions, and confine ourself to the cause which he alleges actuates us to revenge. If he ever used the expression of "carpet-bagger" toward us we have forgotten it, but will, for accommodation sake, assume that he did.

Rufe, we are well used to this sort of argument, but the taunt has usually fallen from traitorous lips rather than from those of good natured Republicans like unto yourself. No man who wore the blue during the late rebellion could forget if he would, with what ineffable scorn the hoopskirted advocates of "Southern Right," met him upon the streets—how, in ball rooms, when "Johnnies" and "Yanks" alike, participated, the cold shoulder was given the latter—that while the damsels danced in loving embrace with grey coats they refused to permit their pretty waists to be encircled by one clothed in blue—and lips once kissed by confederate youths were considered as too sacred to be polluted by the smack of a "Yank." To avoid misapprehension, we will now add by way of parenthesis, that we became conversant with this latter fact from observation and hear say, not by experience. Now, if women, who should prove themselves the "better angels," do these things, of course milder treatment should not be expected of men of the same family.

After the close of the war we settled in Missouri, and there the term "Yank" gave place to that of "Carpet-Bagger," and we became as used to the term as to our own name, and would answer one as readily as the other. We endeavored to argue with our new neighbors that the fortunes of war had decided that we must be one people, and should be friends—that for our part we would love to see political distinctions lost sight of in social life—that in our judgment, attachment or opposition to political party should not be a pre-requisite or negation to a man's social status—that general rectitude of character & conduct should be his passport into society, the absence of these virtues his denial therein—that we did not relish the company of gentlemen who endorsed the opposite theory, while from the acquaintance of ladies who would ostracise a man because of his political faith or the section of country from which he sprang, "Good Lord deliver us!" But they were of the material out of which genuine traitors are made and they would not hide their cherished hatred of northern men until they were hedged upon all sides with such. However, we had unusual good health while there, and rather enjoyed ourself.

A few years since Rufe and ourself lived in the same State and congressional district. Now we find ourself alongside of Rufe, and he calls us a "carpet-bagger." Oh, fie! Our mutual friend, Beaubien, of whom he speaks, lived in the same propinquity with Rufe and ourself, and kept hotel. Mayhaps Rufe took lessons from him in the Boniface line. Perhaps, too, he is opposed to "carpet-baggers." If so, we would advise him to have a sign painted and hang it over the threshold of the Star, "No carpet-baggers wanted here."

If ever there was a foolish expression this one of "carpet bagger" is superlatively foolish, and the cheek of him who uses it should blush and burn with shame. Is there a man in Nemaha county, who lays claim to any more of the soil of said county than that which he has acquired by purchase? Is there a man in this county who dares announce himself as opposed to the incoming and settling of any man who conforms to the laws? The United States is free to every citizen—not only to every citizen, but to every alien? Nebraska is a portion of the United States, and any man who chooses to select a portion of Nebraska as his home is privileged to make such selection. When he does settle he becomes a part of the body politic, and social, and is endowed, at the expiration of six months, with the privilege of voting as fully as though he were to the manner born. Are there any amongst us who would fence in Nemaha county, and erect sign boards notifying outsiders that "carpet-baggers" were not wanted, or, if admitted, that they should deliver over all right to thought or action to the natives?—We have our opinion of men holding such views, and consider that he who gives expression to them, provides evidence of being the possessor of fewer brains than Phil Deuser's coon.

We have ever held in contempt the spirit of prejudice exhibited by citizens of one section of our glorious country toward those of another. It was this prejudice which in '61 culminated in internecine war. And even during the war it was common to hear people prating about the contest between the North and the South, leaving out of view the fact that the war was a contest between the friends of the Union, everywhere, and the enemies of our flag. We have no sympathy with those who wax eloquent in calumniating the South and the southern people, nor with those whose gall becomes effervescent as they dilate upon New England.

"Man made the towns and God made the country." God's country abounds hereaways. It is rich in agricultural resources and coal deposits. "Carpet-baggers" are just finding this out. Our State Solons have created an Immigration Board and provided them with money to induce strangers to come here. And they are coming, and we feel ourself commissioned to welcome them in the name of Him who made the soil, in the name of the liberal and intelligent settlers already here, in the name of progress and humanity. Nemaha county needs additional brains, capital and muscle and "carpet-baggers," possess the desideratum so devoutly wished for. They are to be seen in our streets every day, and wagon loads of them are peregrinating our county, as we write, looking with wishful eyes upon our rich lands, picturesque, rolling and dipping prairies, and Heaven bestowed water courses. A few more years and these "carpet-baggers" will carry the edges of Brownville up and spread them over the tops of the hills which now look down so invitingly upon us. The waste places in our county will be made glad, cattle will cover our prairies, rail roads will be built, on and over which our products will be conveyed to metropolitan markets, returning with the profits thereof, and peace, plenty and good will, will supplant strife, impecuniosity and envy. We would, therefore, advise our friend Rufe not again to let the words "carpet-bagger" go sizzing from out his guarled teeth. It is not a pretty expression, and no pretty man like him should use it.

Rufe threw Byron at us. We will, in conclusion, quote what Burns said when a lady called him a louse.

"We forgave the dear creature for what she had said,
For women will talk of what runs in their head."

and trust the application will be found clear.

In the same spirit we forgive our amiable and quixotic friend Rufe.

Brownville and Nodaway Valley Rail Road.

In our last issue we simply announced the organization of this, to us, important Rail Road Company. Since that time we have received the Clarinda Iowa, Page County Democrat, from which we clip the following items in relation to this enterprise.

A NEW AND LIVE ORGANIZATION—CLARINDA SURE OF A RAILROAD BY SEPTEMBER, 1872.

On Tuesday morning, in company with Dr. VanSandt, Col. Hepburn and G. H. Powers, we made our way to Villisca to attend a meeting of the directors of the Nodaway Valley railroad. We arrived there in due time and expected to go into business arrangements which would ultimately secure us a railroad, but many of the directors from other parts not having interest enough to attend, and there not being a quorum present, the old organization was abandoned. There were present, Gen. Remick, and H. C. Lett of Brownville, Nebraska; J. Fitzgerald, of Plattsmouth Nebraska, and J. S. Cameron, of Burlington Iowa, all live railroad men, men who are interested in common with us in the building of a railroad up the Nodaway Valley.

It was moved that we proceed to the organization of a company to build a railroad from Brownville, Nebraska, in a northeast direction, which carried, and a committee appointed to draft articles of incorporation, consisting of Col. Hepburn, H. C. Lett and J. S. Cameron, which were in due time reported and adopted.

The articles call for a point in Missouri, opposite Brownville, Nebraska, and runs in a northwesterly direction to some point on the Des Moines Valley railroad

The directors reported, were John Fitzgeralds, John Barnett, H. C. Lett Gen. Remick, J. S. Cameron, N. C. Ridenour. The meeting adjourned.

After the meeting there was a meeting of the directors, and the following gentlemen were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President, H. C. Lett; vice-president, John Barnett; treasurer, Gen. Remick; chief engineer, J. S. Cameron; secretary and attorney, Colonel Hepburn.

This organization is one that can be relied upon; one that if our people will do their duty, will issue us a railroad before the first day of September, 1872. Messrs Fitzgerald and Remick, who are the largest railroad contractors in the west, propose to build the road as fast as the citizens along the line will raise money sufficient to justify them in putting their money into it. Men must subscribe stock, which will be designated, along the line. If our citizens will go to work immediately and raise the money required to build the road from here to Villisca, they will put a large force to work immediately. Will our citizens do this? We are of the opinion they will, and we will do it quick. So we urge all to take hold of this matter and give it a shove. We know that our town one year longer without a railroad, is financially damned. For one time let us all go to work, and work together, and victory will be ours.

HIP HIP HURRAH!—The railroad meeting last night at Loy & VanSandt's hall was one of the largest ever held in Clarinda, and one that will bring a good result. W. W. Russell was called to the chair. Gen. Remick and H. C. Lett, then addressed the meeting at considerable length, and in a way that everyone present could give a hearty amen to. They spoke for Brownville, and showed their situation, and assured us that the people of Brownville would give a hearty support to this road. The meeting was then addressed by N. B. Moore, Col. Hepburn, A. Loranz, J. W. Ginther, and others, all urging the importance of our citizens taking hold of this project and working until we have a railroad. A vote was taken to know whether those present would be willing to cooperate with the directors in raising money and securing the right of way though this county; the motion carried without a dissenting vote. The meeting adjourned with a full determination to go to work and secure the road.

The selection of Hon. H. C. Lett, is a high compliment to that gentleman and an evidence to our people that they have not over estimated him. He is peculiarly adapted to the position devolved upon him, possessing, as he does, a soul heavily freighted with energy and public spirit. We trust that but few years will elapse ere the public enterprises of which he is the head, will be consummated, and the locomotive prance over territory now separated from us by deep ruts and threatening sloughs.

Congress has occupied the past three weeks in discussing an incendiary resolution of Sumners, to the effect that the U. S. had acted as treacherously toward Germany in the late war as did England toward this country in our hour of peril. The object, of course, was simply to make capital against the Administration, but has simply enveloped himself in disgrace.

This Wonderful Vegetable restorative is the chief anchor of the feeble and debilitated, as a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal; nervous stomachics, as a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

LYON'S KATHAIRON,

For Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair. To Prevent Its Falling Out and Turning Gray.

A well-preserved Head of Hair, in a person of middle age, at once bespeaks refinement, elegance, health and beauty. It may truly be called Woman's crowning Glory, while men are not insensible to its advantages and charms. Few things are more disgusting than thin, frizzly, harsh, untamed Hair, with head and coat covered with Dandruff. Visit a barber and you will feel and look like a new man. This is what LYON'S KATHAIRON will do all the time. The charm which lies in well placed Hair, Glossy Curls, Luxuriant Tresses, and a Clean Head, is noticeable and irresistible.

Sold by all Druggists and Country Stores.

REAL ESTATE DRAWING
LINCOLN, NEB.,
March 25, 1872.

HAVING all my funds in Real Estate, and wishing to raise some money by early Spring, I offer a deed, free of all incumbrances, to any of the property mentioned below, for $10.

1st GIFT.—My fine residence and grounds, corner J and 8th sts, valued at $8,000. This is the most desirable, not most valuable) property in the place.—Fronts south on J street, 120 feet wide which leads from the M. P. R. R. Depot, past Court House Square to State House, and is the prospective center of the city. Is one block from the Capitol, and joining the Tichnor House property, which cost $28,000.

2nd GIFT—One 5 acre lot about a mile from Gov. Butler's fine mansion	400
3rd GIFT—One 5 acre lot adjoining the above	400
4th GIFT—1 5 acre lot joining above	400
5th GIFT—Lot 11, block 217,	300
6th GIFT—Lot 5, block 221	250
7th GIFT—One lot in Ashland, Co. Seat of Saunders Co.	250
8th GIFT—One lot in Ashland, county seat of Saunders Co	250
9th GIFT—One lot in Ashland, county seat of Saunders Co	250
10th GIFT—One lot in Ashland, County seat of Saunders Co	200
11 to 90, 80 cash prizes, $10 each	800
Total	$11,500

Only 1,150 Tickets and 90 Gifts—1 chance in 12. Tickets $10, halves $5.00, fourths $2.50.—Parties wishing less than a whole ticket, must chuck, as no less sum than $10.00 will be received. Mode of drawing to be designated by ticket holders at time of drawing. Deed of Trust made out to First National Bank, Lincoln, Neb., which is Depository, and all order for Tickets, accompanied with money, should be directed to same.

Those wishing to risk a few dollars, can find no other scheme so fair as this. 1st.—The property is put in at a fair price, with a reasonable per cent added to defray expense of selling. Property does not diminish like cash prizes when drawn. 2nd—You are not paying two or three times the amount of gifts to go to some benevolent scheme. 3rd—You have one chance in twelve, instead of one in thirty to fifty or one hundred. I am endorsed by gentlemen who would not allow their names to be connected with a fraud.

J. N. CASSELL,
Box 36, Lincoln, Nebraska.

We are acquainted with Mr. Cassell, and his property mentioned in first Gift. It is first class property, and we believe this scheme will be conducted with the greatest care and fairness.
