CITY AND COUNTY.

LOCAL MELANGE.

— E. M. Lipsey is in the city.

— Next Thursday will be Christmas

— Geo. Neeley arrived in town on Monday night.

— John C. Whittemore had a $5000 insurance on his life, in the old Connecticut Mutual.

— Over 1,100 hogs were sold in this market last week, for which upwards of $10,000 in cash were paid.

— Lew. Hill left on Sunday last for Lyons, N. Y., the scene of his childhood, there to spend the holidays.

— At the third ward election last Friday, Frederick Parker was elected councilman, he receiving 36 votes to 31 for M. A. Handley, — Mr. J. F. Smith, of New York City, a brother-in-law of Mr. Ebright, was in the city for several days last week and remained over Sabbath.

— Mr. J. R. Shroff and wife started east on a visit on Friday last. They will sojourn in Baltimore for a few weeks and then pass up into New England remaining absent several months.

— T. L. Schick has removed his law office to the Court House building next door to the County Clerk's office. For the transaction of legal or Justice business he may be found there at all hours.

— We saw six gentlemen spilled out of a wagon but promised to say nothing about it. Respect for one of the six makes the pledge binding.—Phelps was the place and Monday the time of the episode.

— Mrs. Johnson has extended the limits of her Bazar by tearing down the partition formerly separating her from the store on the west, rendering the Bazar exceedingly attractive. She designs filling it with holiday goods.

— Capt. Mercer returned from Saline County Saturday night. He reports that the sufferers by the late fire are now comfortably provided for and hopeful of the future. The late fall of snow there was ten inches on the level.

— The Methodists propose giving their Sunday School scholars a benefit at McPherson Hall on Christmas night. A Christmas Tree will be provided, and presents distributed in profusion. A good time is confidently expected.

— Reuben Hill, of Richardson Co., and well known hereabouts, died at the residence of Jno. Seaberry, of this county, on last Saturday. The deceased was in his 74th year, was a widower, and leaves a son and two daughters, all married.

— A few nights since a fellow presented a forged order for supper to Luther Robinson, which was duly honored. After partaking of a hearty meal the chap helped himself to a gun, blanket, and other property belonging to his host, and decamped.

— Otoe County is having trouble, or making trouble with the Nebraska City Transfer Co. For several years the Company has paid $50 a year license, now $500 is demanded, and the following scale of prices for ferriage is insisted upon: On two horses and wagon, 50 cents; on one horse and wagon or buggy, 35 cents.

— J. R. Bell, Esq., before leaving the city with the body of his loved son-in-law, J. C. Whittemore, requested us, in his name, to return his earnest and heart-felt thanks to the ladies and gentlemen of Brownville for their unremitting solicitude for the dying and substantial evidences of condolence with his afflicted daughter, and to assure them that time will never obliterate from his mind and heart the memory of their devotion when overwhelmed by death's sudden incursion. In about ten days he expects to return to Brownville, with his daughter, here to spend a few days, and again greet their friends.

— One of our prominent lawyers, being of an inventive turn of mind, concluded, after the last snow fall, that he had hit upon a cunning plan for filling his cistern. On Sunday of last week he took a survey of the premises and his gigantic mind took in the situation at a glance. His cistern is on the slope of a hill; the snow was some six inches deep, and just moist enough for his purpose. So he commenced at the top of the hill with a ball of snow about the size of his head, and by the time it reached the cistern it was the size of a barrel. He kept on "hooping" in the snow balls until his cistern was about one-third full, Then he gave expression to a child-like and complacent smile, and went to dinner. On Thursday and Thursday night the heavens opened and the rain fell. On Friday morning our friend looked into his cistern. It was full, but the snow had risen to the surface and filled up the mouth of the cistern. But the balls he rolled in were as hard as ice and as compact as iron, and he could no more get water out of that cistern than he could out of a copy of Blackstone. He has since been in a crazed condition, and his hired girl says that the atmosphere surrounding him is blue and smells of brimstone.

— The Presbyterian Church and congregation have made arrangements to provide a free entertainment for their Sabbath School, on Christmas Eve. A supper will be given at McPherson Hall for the benefit of the children of the Sabbath School. Other entertainments suitable for the occasion will be provided. Santa Claus and St. Nicholas are both expected.

— Geo. Neeley says that the report that dissatisfaction was excited in Saline County, by the distribution of the aid sent from Brownville to the sufferers by the fire is untrue. One man who lost but little, and unknown to our people, complained, but none others. He says that Capt. Mercer's distribution was a just one. George says the fire did not necessitate his taking any of the proffered aid, and he respectfully declined any.

Charley Whitman, owing to the prevailing hard times, has discharged all help, and is now not only supervising everything himself, but doing it. He will be pleased to see his friends at his Parlor, and to wait upon them at any hour.

DEAD.

John C. Whittemore is dead. His spirit took its flight on last Saturday night at 11:50. Few men ever lived in a town who so generally commanded the respect and esteem of his fellow citizens, as did Whittemore that of the people of Brownville and vicinity.

The deceased had always been consumptive, but his general health had been better during the past year than it had been for years before. On the Saturday before he died he was quite lively, and joining several other gentlemen he rode down the Second street hill on a hand sleigh, which so shocked his physical system as to produce a hermorage of the lungs. This did not cause him any alarm, as he said that the jolting but hastened an inevitable hermorage. But he doubtless contracted a cold on the same day, which, from his enfeebled condition took strong hold upon his system, resulting in congestion of the lungs, from which he died. But it was not until Saturday morning that fears were entertained that death was hovering over him. On that day he was at times delirious and with the going down of the sun his reason fled. His father-in-law, Jno. R. Bell, Esq., and brother-in-law, Harry Carter, Esq., of St. Joseph, Mo., were with him during his last hours, and everything that loving relatives and devoted friends could do was done to minister to his comfort and relief.

The deceased leaves a widow disconsolate and bowed down in grief, and parents residing at St. Albans, Vermont. The widow, especially, so well known in this community, has the earnest sympathy of our people in her affliction. It is usual to speak well of the dead, and it is too often the case that kind words and feelings do not well up until the eyes of the subject are closed, hands are folded across the breast, and the limbs are frigid in death, but we cannot be mistaken in the sentiment of our people touching John C. Whittemore, living and dead. In life he was universally esteemed, in death as sincerely mourned. His demise was the theme of general conversation on Sunday and many lips quivered as they gave utterance to the mournful intelligence, while his face and memory seemed to hover around the pillow of many a friend.

On Monday the body was taken to St. Joseph, the home of his father-in-law, where he wooed and won his wife. There it will be laid beneath the clods of the cemetery, wherein a more precious earthly casket was never deposited. Farewell John, a last an everlasting farewell.

— Crossing the river here on the ice. Mr. Burdick has crossed over several loads of grain.

— Mr. John H. Ressequee has bought out the drug store of Richard Daily, and Dick retires to private life.

— The M. E. Sunday School is to have a Christmas tree on Christmas Eve. The children are looking forward to a good time.

— Billie Welsh has been sick for some time with the fever, but is considerable better now.

— 'Squire Smith has his shop enclosed. It improves the appearance of that side of the street.

— Maj. Daily was at home again last week, looking hale and hearty. He has returned to Omaha.

— A great many hogs have been bought and sold here during the last week. They were driven over the river on the ice.

— Mrs. Morton was buried here yesterday. She was quite an old lady, and had been paralyzed for about a year before her death.

— We noticed Mr. John Creason in town the other day. Mr. Creason used to live in this county, but now lives at Grand Island. He is down on a visit to his daughter.

— Rev. Wm. McCandlish, District Deputy of the American Bible Society, was with us on last Friday night, and delivered an address on the difference between the Christian God and the God of the heathen.

— Wm. Burns, one of old settlers of Peru, was in town last week, and was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Miss Maria Brisbern. He returned to his home in Concordia Cloud county, Kansas, taking his bride with him.

— There was a union service held in the M. E. Church here last Sabbath in the interest of the Bible Society. Rev. Mr. McCandlish preached in the forenoon on the Bible a Revelation from God, after which a collection was taken up amounting to about $35.00.

ST. DEROIN ITEMS.

— Weather quite cool and rather slippery for the ladies.

— Jake Davis will have his sleigh completed in a few days, ready for the next snow.

— Horse shoeing is the order of the day. Mr. Cooley and Mr. Branon are kept busy.

— Crossley & Brother run their steam mill day and night, and make 33½ pounds of No. 1 spring wheat flour to the bushel. This is what suits us.

— A. J. Ritter left for Falls City a day or two since, with a lot of fat hogs, which he shipped to a Kansas City firm.

— Judge Patterson made his appearance in town yesterday. We hope the Judge will get his matters in such shape that he can go into business in this place.

— F. M Taylor is teaching school in District No. 57. Frank is a fine young gentleman, and the "big girls" are well pleased with him.

— The patrons of the St. Deroin school expect a good time on Christmas Eve. Old Santa Clause will appear with many good things for the children. Please don't slight the preachers.

— L. Rains runs a daily hack from St. Derion to Aspinwall, connecting with Clark's expresses, so that passengers can be conveyed from Brownville to St. Deroin, Falls City and Arago, on reasonable terms.

FROM PAWNEE CITY.

Improvement in Money Matters—New School Building—Weather, Etc.

Correspondence Nebraska Advertiser.

PAWNEE CITY, Dec. 8, 1873.

Times have been harder, and money closer, (not within my reach however,) for the past three months, than I have ever known it in this section. I think, however, we can now begin to note a slight change for the better.

Our new school building will be ready for school by the first of January. It may be safely said, we now have the finest school building in any mere county seat within the State. And we are now having a school, (vacation at present,) conducted by Miss Lydia Bell, as principal, of which we may justly be proud.

Winter began here, rather severely, a few days ago, thermometer, 4 degrees below zero, and a snow 10 inches deep, but yesterday and to-day it is fast disappearing. This will be good on fall wheat.

Quite a considerable quantity of stock and grain have been bought up lately, for shipment. This is making times some better.

JAY RARD.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.

SPLENDIDLY ILLUSTRATED.

NOTICES OF THE PRESS.

"HARPER'S WEEKLY is the ablest and most powerful illustrated paper published in this country. Its editorials are scholarly and convincing, and carry much weight. Its illustrations of current events are full and fresh, and are prepared by our best designers. With a circulation of 150,000, the Weekly is read by at least half a million persons, and its influence on a matter of opinion is simply tremendous. The Weekly maintains a positive position, and expresses decided views on political and social problems.—Louisville Courier-Journal.
